Proper Way to Churn.

The agitation in churning should be as violent as the form of churn will admit, says Farm Progress. The churning is to be stopped while the butter is in the granular form. In order to have as thorough churning as possible the temperature of the cream should not be over 53 degrees.

The buttermilk should be drawn from the churn and the butter washed. The butter must be removed from the churn and salted while yet in the granular form. The amount of salt should be to the taste of the customer. For most people one ounce to the pound is required.

Does Coffee disagree with you? Probably it does! Then try Dr. Shoop's Health Coffee. "Health Coffee" is a clever combination of parched cereals and nuts. Not a grain of real Coffee, remember, in Dr. Shoop's Health Coffee, yet its flavor and taste matches closely old Java and Mocha Coffee. If your stomach, heart, or kidneys can't stand Coffee drinking, try Health Coffee. It is wholesome, nourishing and satisfying. It's safe even for the youngest child. Sold by All Dealers.

Bottled Love Letters.

Missouri girls are still throwing bottled letters into the Missouri river to see what will turn up. A year ago a Carroll county girl cast a message on the waters at St. Louis. Recently she received an answer from an engineer in the employ of the Government river improvement service stationed a few miles below Memphis, Tenn. The letter stated that the bottle had been found in a crevasse by workmen engaged in the work of repairing the levee.—Kansas City Times.

A PROGRESSIVE CONCERN.

A Quarter Century's Steady Progress
 Marked by an Important Milestone.

Among the evidences of advancement that have recently taken place in the business world has been the reorganization and extension of the well known proprietary medicine business of Dr. T. A. Slocum, Limited, of Toronto.

Its progress has been so rapid during the past few years that it had outgrown its capital, consequently the Company has taken out a new charter, with extended powers and enlarged capital. On the Board of Directors and among the Shareholders of the Company are some of Toronto's most prominent and enterprising citizens.

The Company has built up for itself an enviable reputation throughout the Dominion for integrity of business methods and excellence of products. That great and popular tonic and famous curative remedy, PSYCHINE, has stood the test of more than a quarter of a century's public use and criticism, and is today unquestionably the most effective, most successful, and most largely used of all remedies for the prevention and the cure of Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Catarrh, LaGrippe, Pneumonia, Stomach Troubles, and all incipient cases of Tuberculosis or Consumption. It has completely proven Dr. Slocum's theory that while the safest and best consumption cure is by preventing and curing the troubles that lead to it, yet consumption in its early stages, and in many cases in its advanced stages, can be cured by proper treatment and the use of PSYCHINE. Thousands of letters on file in the offices of the company prove this. These letters are always open to the inspection of all interested.

Among the other popular and very valuable preparations put up by Dr. T. A. Slocum Limited, are Slocum's celebrated COLTSFOOTE EXPECTORANT, OXOMULSON, DR. ROOT'S KIDNEY PILLS, and OXOJELL. These, together with a number of other remedies which they manufacture, make the largest and best line of proprietary medicines in Canada.

The offices and laboratory of the Company at 179 King St. West, Toronto are now undergoing reconstruction and enlargement to meet the rapidly growing business. They have erected in front of their premises one of the largest and handsomest electric signs in Canada.

Their manufacturing plant is most modern and complete. One of its features is an automatic bottling machine that will fill 6,000 bottles of PSYCHINE per day. They have also the finest electric emulsifying plant on the continent, capable of turning out one gross per hour of Cod Liver Oil Emulsion. This is a powerful machine for separating and reducing the globules of the oil into the most minute particles so that it can be readily assimilated by the most delicate stomach.

The enterprise of the Company is shown in the fact that they are systematically distributing free samples of their remedies in many large centres, between fifty and one hundred thousand bottles being distributed in Toronto alone.

The Company has authorized us to say that any persons sending their name and address, with this article clipped from this paper, mentioning the name of this paper, and the nature of their trouble, will receive by the return mail a large sample bottle of PSYCHINE absolutely free of charge. This is an excellent opportunity to test a valuable medicine, and we would advise those of our readers who are suffering from throat, lung or stomach troubles to avail themselves of this offer. The Company's address is: Dr. T. A. Slocum, Limited, 179 King St. West, Toronto.

He Acted for the Best.

The conditions under which one person may undertake to correct the habits or reform the manners of the public are so varied that it is often a difficult matter to decide what is best to be done. The author of "Other Memories, Old and New" describes an incident which came under his observation in England.

A very full train was within a few minutes of starting from Manchester for London. A gentleman had gone the whole length of the train and saw only one vacancy, and this was occupied by a Gladstone bag.

In his difficulty he opened the carriage door, and was about to remove the bag, when the passenger on the opposite corner told him that it belonged to a friend who had taken the seat.

"Well," said the other, who was evidently a man of experience and who grasped the situation, "the train will start in a minute, and I fear your friend will be too late. At any rate I must go to London by this train, and I will keep this seat till your friend arrives." He sat down and took the bag on his knee. Then he took out his watch and said, "There's only half a minute left. I'm afraid your friend will be too late."

He got up and kept looking out anxiously for the belated friend till the whistle sounded.

"Well," he said, "we're off. Your friend has lost the train, but he must not lose his bag," and with that he threw the bag out on the platform.

"Here! What are you doing?" cried the other man, but too late. "That was my bag!"

"What a pity!" returned the other, blandly. "I thought you said it was your friend's. It seemed a pity that he should suffer the loss of his luggage."

He Earned His Money.

Mr. Huckins was trying to make over a screen door for the Widow Jennings. The day was hot and muggy, and she hung over him all day with question, suggestions and complaints.

"Aren't you getting that too narrow?" asked the widow, hovering over the carpenter in a way suggestive of some large persistent insect.

"No, ma'am," said Mr. Huckins. "You know a few minutes ago you thought 'twas too wide, and I measured it to show ye."

"Oh, yes," said Mrs. Jennings. "Well, anyway, I believe it'll sag if you don't change the hinge. Just hold it up and see."

Mr. Huckins held the door in place, and proved that the hinges were in the right spots, and after that Mrs. Jennings kept silence for a few moments.

"O dear," she said grasping Mr. Huckins's hand after the short respite, "I'm sure you planed it off so the flies can get in at the top! Please hold it up again, and I'll just get on a chair and see if a fly could squeeze through. You may have to add a piece."

When it had been proved that not even the smallest and most enterprising fly could find entrance space, there was another short respite. After that Mrs. Jennings once more had an alarm over the possibility that the door might stick somewhere.

When at last it was hung and Mr. Huckins was ready to depart, the widow asked him for his bill.

"I don't make out any bills," said Mr. Huckins, wearily, "but I'll tell ye what this work'll cost. If I'd've done it under the ordinary circumstances I have to contend with, 'twould have been fifty cents, but in this case I'll have to charge ye an extra quarter, ma'am, for pester."

Englishmen in Canada.

Recently there was in The Toronto Globe an extract from a letter which an "Englishwoman" had sent to Pearson's Weekly, England, in which she decried the Dominion and stated that English people were not wanted here, and that Canadians had "manners none and customs beastly." The result is many letters to The Globe from English people, some of whom back up the assertions quoted, while others take direct objection to them. The Englishmen and the Englishwomen who came out here prepared to fall in with the conditions of a new country, and who are not everlastingly making the remark in a disparaging tone. "We don't do it that way at home," will find Canada all right, and the friendly nod and the helping hand, if needs be, on all sides. On the other hand, grumblers and people filled with such jaundiced views as "Englishwoman" are not wanted here or anywhere else that the writer of this, who is himself from the old land, ever heard of.

Obedience.

The famous Field family, Cyrus and his brothers and sisters, were brought up to obey. The father was a clergyman with eight hundred dollars a year for nine children; and frugality and right living were absolutely necessary.

Once a useful rat-trap was missing. The father gave orders that when it was found it should be brought directly to him. A few days afterward, during service, when the sermon was in full swing, where was a clattering up the aisle.

It was two of the Field boys, carrying the lost rat-trap. They gravely set it down before the pulpit. One of them said, simply, "Father, here's your rat-trap." Then they turned and went out.

Back So Lame

Could Not Walk.

DOCTOR'S EFFORTS WERE IN VAIN,
 BUT CURE CAME WITH THE USE OF

DR. CHASE'S KIDNEY-LIVER PILLS.

It is not always the doctor's fault when he tries to give temporary relief instead of lasting cure. Sometimes patients demand it.

The thorough, far-reaching and lasting effects of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills are well illustrated in this case, in contrast with the doctor's failure to even bring relief:

Mr. Geo. Tryon, Westport, Leeds Co., Ont., writes:—"For two years I was completely laid up with lame back, and could neither walk nor ride. I tried many treatments and the doctor put on a fly blister, which only increased the suffering and did not do me the slightest good."

"A friend told me about Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and I had not finished the first box before I was completely cured. I have never had a lame back or kidney trouble since, and it has been the means of selling dozens of boxes of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. We are never without them in the house and think there is no medicine like them."

The urea, uric acid and other poisonous waste substances which are left in the blood after the process of digestion has taken place are eliminated from the system by the action of the kidneys.

Failure of the kidneys to reform this important work of filtration means a poisoning of the whole system and consequently the most painful of diseases, such as Bright's disease, lumbago, backache and rheumatism.

The cause of such ailments are most promptly removed by the use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. This great family medicine has a combined action on the liver, kidneys and bowels which is not possessed by any similar preparation. The whole system is quickly and thoroughly cleansed and the vital organs invigorated by this treatment. One pill a dose, 25 cents a box, at all dealers or Edmanston, Bates & Co., Toronto. The portrait and signature of Dr. A. W. Chase, the famous receipt book author, are on every box.
