Towle-Everett.

(Fort Fairfield Review.)

A very pretty home wedding occurred at the pleasant residence of Mr. and Mrs. E. Spurgeon Everett, Wednesday afternoon, April 10, when their daughter, Miss Kate, was united in marriage to Hiram E. Towle.

At six o'clock the bridal party came marching into the parlor to the rich strains of the wedding march, played by Miss Mabel Grant. The groom was supported by Mr. Basil Bryant, and the maid of honor was Miss Lottie M. Trafton.

The party took its stand under an artistic decoration of white and pale green crepe paper, from which were suspended beautiful wedding bells, while on either hand were potted plants.

A beautiful ring service was used in a very impressive manner by Rev. E. M. Trafton, pastor of the Free Baptist church, of which both bride and groom are members.

The bride was gowned in a beautiful pale green silk of changeable hue trimmed in velvet ribbon and lace and carried a bouquet of bride's roses.

The groom and best man both wore the conventional black, while the maid of honor was attired in white arline, trimmed in chiffon.

The parlor was filled with relatives and invited friends of the contracting parties.

A rich and beautiful supper was served under the practised hand of the mother of the bride. After supper the company repaired to the parlor, where they were entertained with musical selections.

The happy couple received some valuable gifts, among which was a liberal cash gift from the parents of the bride, and a fine dining-set from the mother of the groom; also a good-sized gold piece from the church, and a beautiful hall-tree from Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Parsons.

Mr. and Mrs. Towle are among the well known and popular young people of Fort Fairfield, and have the best wishes of all for their future happiness.

The Hon. William Pugsley for Ottawa.

All signs point to Hon. William Pugsley as the next member of the City and County of St. John at Ottawa.

At a magnificent meeting in Berryman's Hall on Saturday night, a requisition signed by more than 3,000 electors, representative of the full fighting strength of the Liberal party and many independents was presented to Premier Pugsley, asking him to be the Liberal candidate for the seat made vacant by the death of Dr. A. A. Stockton.

Dr. Pugsley, in the course of a ringing speech, announced that he would accept.

In view of this there can be little doubt that Mr. Pugsley will be the candidate selected by the liberal convention that meets in St. John on Friday. Mr. Pugsley is an exceedingly brilliant and able man and he would greatly strengthen the party in the house of Commons.

A Woman Tells How to Relieve Rheumatic Pains.

I have been a very great sufferer from the dreadful disease, rheumatism, for a number of years. I have tried many medicines but never got much relief from any of them until two years ago, when I bought a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm. I found relief before I had used all of one bottle, but kept on applying it and soon felt like a different woman. Through my advice many of my friends have tried it and can tell you how wonderfully it has worked.—MRS. SARAH A. COLE, 140 S. New St., Dover, Del. Chamberlain's Pain Balm is a liniment. The relief from pain which it affords is alone worth many times its cost. It makes rest and sleep possible. For sale by All Dealers.

GEORGE SMITH has thrown up his business in Spruighill, N. S. and has resumed his place in the jewelry store of James A. Gibson, a place he filled so long and so well.

Crossings in Town Not Protected.

An inquest was held last Wednesday and Thursday evenings in the town hall before Coroner W. W. Hay, as to the cause of the death of George Wise. The following jurymen were warned: D. W. Matheson, Harry Johnston, Hugh Dalling, N. Foster Thorne, William Blake, W. B. Belyea and Thomas Hagerman. Claim Agent Rankin represented the C. P. R. and J. C. Hartley appeared for Mrs. Wise.

The jury rendered the following verdict:—We the jury empaneled to inquire into the circumstances of the death of George Wise find that he came to his death through injuries received by being struck by the tender of a C. P. R. engine and we believe if a gate or flagman had been provided by the C. P. R. the accident would not have taken place; and we recommend that in future proper safeguards be taken to ensure against such accidents.

Accident On The Gibson Branch.

The "Lingering Death Express" from Fredericton to Woodstock by the Gibson branch met with one of its accidents last Saturday. When about two miles the other side of Keswick one of the cars left the track and rammed into the bank. The rest of the train kept on going for a while but brought up before anyone was killed. Fortunately the train was going only 12 miles an hour. If it had been going at any sort of speed the whole train must have gone over the bank into the stream and no doubt many fatalities would have occurred. Teams were provided and took many of the passengers back to Fredericton. About 12 of them, however, made their way to Keswick and pursued their journey to Woodstock in a freight car, arriving here about two o'clock without further accident.

Date of the Chapman Festival Concert.

Graham's Opera House, Woodstock, N. B., May 17th, 1907. This undoubtedly will be the musical event of our city, when Mr. Chapman arrives with his New York artists. It is a great pleasure to announce the coming of Hans Kronold, who is undoubtedly one of the finest Cello players we have in America to-day, and his thousands of admirers will welcome this announcement with delight. It has been three years since this famous artist has visited Maine, and his improvement has been most marked, and to-day he is the most popular artist we have in New York on that famous instrument. Mr. Thomas Henderson, one of the finest ballad singers of the day, will also be with Mr. Chapman. His speciality is the rendering of Scotch songs which he sings as no native can do, being a Scotchman himself. Miss Aline Grass, a native of Maine, who made such wonderful strides in New York this past season, will be a great attraction on this tour; she has a most beautiful contralto voice, and a charming personality. Madame Mott, her teacher in New York, a teacher of Madame Fremsted, and Carrie Bridewell, of the Metropolitan Opera House, predicts a great future for this talented artist. Mr. Chapman will accompany the artists at the piano, and this alone will assure the artistic success of these concerts.

The great feature of the concerts however will be the singing of our own Festival Chorus, which will be under the direction of their local conductor. Everyone in our town should rally to the support of our Chorus, as this concert is given for the benefit of the same, and towards the support of the great State Festival.

Farewell to the Broom.

"The problems of the housekeeper are receiving from the architects of houses something of the attention they have long claimed in vain," writes John L. Anderson in the May Woman's Home Companion.

"The solution of the sweeping problem is a case in point. In one of the newest apartment houses there is not a broom to be found from cellar to garret, or rather from the third subcellar to the air-cleaning chamber on the roof. Every suite throughout the building is equipped with a vacuum cleaning apparatus. There is a pipe connected with the vacuum chamber in the basement in every suite, while a flexible hose long enough to reach to the furthest corner of every room is supplied, which may be readily attached to a nozzle in this piping just as you would connect a garden hose. The vacuum is controlled by a spigot. It is only necessary to pass the nozzle of this vacuum hose over the carpet, rug or drapery, and every particle of dust is instantly drawn up into the hose. The dirt collected in this way passes quickly through the hose into the pipe, and thence, perhaps a matter of a dozen stories, to a chamber in the subcellar, where an attendant shovels it up and carries it away.

"The nozzle which picks up this dust allows no particle to escape, so that in all this sweeping there is literally no dust. Incidentally it removes more dust than the most persistent and vigorous broom. The entire operation of sweeping might be carried on with the sweeper in evening dress, so far, at least, as cleanliness is concerned. The work of hours is reduced to minutes."

A Four-Cent Book Sells For $2900.

As a result of a stroll along the Seine in Paris, where the sellers of old books have their stalls, an investment of 4 cents of our money was made one day last summer by a New Yorker, now a resident of Paris. For the coppers he got a little volume of forty pages. That volume was sold in this city yesterday afternoon for the extraordinary price of $2,900. In addition to bringing such a price, the book has the rare distinction of being the only one of the issue, so far as known, that ever has come to public sale. In all the records of bibliophiles only three other copies of the work are noted as in existence. No one informed on the subject of Americana ever expects another copy of the book to turn up at this day, three centuries after its publication. The book is a copy of the excessively rare first issue of Champlain's "Des Sauvages," which explorer caused to be printed in Paris in 1603, immediately after his return from his first journey to Canada. The three other copies are in the Lenox Library, the John Carter Brown Library, and the British museum, respectively. The copy sold yesterday in the Merwin-Clayton Company's salesrooms was bought by Dodd, Mead & Co., for a client, understood to be a Brooklyn collector of Americana.—New York Press.
