Frederick B. Hayden.

Frederick Bernard Hayden, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Hayden, died at noon on Thursday last at the residence of his parents, leaving a wife, formerly Miss Celia Moxon, one child, a sister, Miss Mary J. Hayden, of Woodstock, and three brothers in the west, to mourn their loss.

Mr. Hayden was born in Woodstock on October 23, 1872, and lived here nearly all his life. Some years ago he and his wife moved to California but his health failing he came home last summer, since which time he has been gradually growing weaker from tuberculosis. He was interested in all legitimate sports and was in years gone by one of the town's best base ball players.

The funeral was held on Saturday afternoon under the auspices of Carleton Lodge I. O. O. F. The large attendance showed the esteem in which Mr. Hayden was held.

Mrs. Lucy Shelton Hartley.

On February 8th, 1907, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. D. J. Longstaff, Seattle, Wash., Mrs. Lucy Shelton Hartley, aged 78 years, widow of the late John Moore Hartley, of Southampton, York Co., N. B., passed away.

Deceased was a daughter of David Booth Shelton, M. D. and Bethiah, daughter of Jedediah Slason, one of the early settlers of Fredericton, N. B. For many years she was a resident of Southampton where she endeared herself to a very wide neighborhood by her ministrations among the sick and her generous hospitality. She was the mother of twelve children, five daughters, Mrs. Anna L. Parent of Temperance Vale, N. B., Mrs. Louise H. McLean, Mrs. Ada H. Longstaff, Mrs. Ella H. Boynton and Miss Susie Moore Hartley of Seattle, Wash.; and two sons T. J. Hartley, Fairbanks, Alaska, and R. J. Hartley of Brainerd, Minn.

Her last days were made pleasant by the loving care of her four daughters who were with her to the end. During her residence in New Brunswick she was a member of the Free Christian Baptist church. While residing in Seattle, there being none of that denomination with which to affiliate, she united with the Madison Street Methodist Episcopal church under the auspices of which the funeral was conducted. The interment was in the family plot in Lake View Cemetery, Seattle.

EASTER MILITARY BALL

Was the Largest Ever Held in Woodstock--An Enjoyable Evening Spent by Everybody.

The big Easter Military Ball is over. Nothing of a like nature on such a scale was ever attempted before in Woodstock for no other building in the town, and in fact but few in the province could accommodate the numbers who came from all directions to take part in this grand affair.

It might be of interest now to refer to the speculation among those who were present as to how many couples there were on the floor during the grand march. It would seem to the observer that the floor could accommodate but few more than those who were present and some placed the number as high as three hundred and fifty couples. As a matter of fact there were probably not more than half that number of couples on the floor at any one time for the actual number of gentlemen's tickets collected at the door were one hundred and sixty and of ladies' two hundred and five, and of these a number did not enter the grand march. The total amount realized from the sale of tickets was $355.00.

From a financial standpoint the best idea of the success of the ball may be gathered from a comparison with those held by the band on former occasions. At the Easter Ball held in the Opera last year the total receipts were $67.00, although the price of tickets was considerably lower than for the present one and at the New Year's ball held last year the total receipts were $61.00.

The band is to be congratulated on carrying out to such a successful issue such a brilliant undertaking as this, for not everyone can appreciate the amount of work involved in an affair of this nature. The drill hall, to say the least, was a dream of beauty such as has never been seen here before, and under the many-coloured lights the beautiful gowns of the ladies and the striking uniforms of the military made a picture that will not soon be forgotten by those whose privilege it was to witness it. We have not time at our disposal to enter into a description of the dresses worn for which we are almost thankful as it would be utterly impossible to do justice to such a big undertaking.

We cannot but make special mention of the music furnished by Ansell's orchestra, the like of which was never heard before in our town. Although the program was a very long and trying one for those who were playing they cheerfully responded to every encore which their music called forth, and the name "Ansell's Orchestra" will in future spell success to any function where their services are secured. The orchestra played from a raised platform on one side of the drill hall. Over their heads in large illuminated letters were the words "67th Regt. Band and Orchestra," while on either side hung the beautiful colours presented to the regiment a few years ago by the county council. The whole platform was tastefully decorated and in illuminated letters in front were the names of each number as they appeared on the programs. All of the electrical effects were produced by Harry D. Baird and Mr. Ansell and they in themselves were well worth the price of admission. During the circle following the grand march, advantage was taken of the day, April 1st, to observe the usual custom of the day. The music suddenly stopped in the middle of a figure and as everyone turned in surprise to learn the cause of the collapse of the orchestra they found staring them in the face in large illuminated letters the words, "April Fool."

The serving of refreshments in the Armory is seriously handicapped from the fact that there is no place in the building in which to put up a stove as the room that was used for that purpose at the hospital supper is now filled with large harness racks and harness. The band got two large oil stoves each with two burners on which to make coffee and boil water but at the crucial moment one of them refused to work and the result was that the coffee gave out and considerable confusion arose in consequence. It seems rather a pity that there is not some way to overcome this difficulty for the same trouble will arise in future unless a way is found by which a good stove can be put up. However there was an abundance of provisions and plenty of lemonade for all and every one was in such good humour that the failure of the coffee was not regarded seriously.

A number of people have asked the band for some time past to undertake a masquerade ball and for some time it was thought that the Easter Ball would be of this nature. At the request of a large number of people who attended the ball, the band have decided to hold a masquerade ball on the 19th of the present month and will awarded valuable prizes for the best costumes. The object in holding it so soon is that it may take place before the present decorations are taken down and in addition to these a number of others will be added. Of this more particulars will be given by advertising matter which will soon be out.

May Leave Woodstock

It is said that the well known firm of Dunbar & Sons, shingle machine manufacturers, have made up their minds to leave Woodstock and there is a prospect of their locating in this city.

A member of the firm was here this week, and had an interview with Senator Thompson in regard to amalgamating the business of Dunbar & Sons with that of the New Brunswick Foundry Company. It was suggested that the capital stock of the two concerns might be increased to half a million dollars, and they could engage extensively in the manufacture of cars as well as shingle machines and other machinery.

Both Senator Thompson and Willard Kitchen, who are directors of the New Brunswick Foundry Company, are said to look with favor on the proposed amalgamation, and there is a good prospect of the deal being carried through.—Fredericton Herald.

On being interviewed by the DISPATCH Mr. Dunbar said it was the intention of the directors of his company to effect an amalgamation with the New Brunswick Foundry Co. and this would involve the moving of their plant from Woodstock to Fredericton.

Vestry Meeting.

The usual Easter Monday meeting of the corporation and parishioners of Christ church was held in the parish hall on Monday afternoon. The financial statement as submitted was very satisfactory. A resolution was passed expressing the deep sorrow of the members of the corporation at the death of their late Rector, every member present having a few words to say as to the loss the parish had sustained and all agreed that they would do their best to carry on the work as far as in them lay, according to what would be his wishes.

There was an unusually good attendance at the parishioners meeting, where the exact state of the finances of the church was laid before them. The usual elections were taken up resulting as follows:—Delegates to the Synod, A. J. Raymond, T. C. L. Ketchum; substitutes, J. T. A. Dibblee, David Hipwell; church wardens, F. Byron Bull, W. Duppa Smith; vestrymen, A. J. Raymond, T. C. L. Ketchum, J. T. A. Dibblee, Wm. Dickinson, Wm. Dibblee, G. F. Smith, D. Hipwell, Dr. Prescott, A. F. Garden, C. H. L. Perkins, Burton Bedell, Sterling Peabody, B. Harry Smith, at the meeting of the new corporation announced his resignation as vestry clerk. A vote of thanks was passed to him for his services during the past three years. H. W. Bourne was elected vestry clerk, Wm. Dickinson, auditor. The church wardens and vestry named Wednesday May 1st at 8 p. m. as the date for nominating a rector. The usual twenty days notice by placing notice of the meeting, in the church door to be given.

Isaac VanWart.

One of the best known citizens of Woodstock, Isaac VanWart, died on Friday morning last, at the age of 66 years. He is survived by his wife, one daughter Ethel, and four sons, Bruce, Alexander, Judson and Ernest. The funeral was held on Sunday, the services being conducted by the Rev. Dr. Kierstead. The pall bearers were C. R. Watson, Edward True, G. W. Slipp and H. V. Mooers.

Letter of Thanks.

Mrs. Neales wishes through the DISPATCH to thank all those who extended so much kindness to her, during the time of her sad bereavement. The keen sorrow she labors under is in no small degree lessened by the many deeds of kindness, and the universal sympathy so feelingly extended to her. To the people of Woodstock generally who in such a marked and sincere way manifested their respect and affection for her husband she wishes to extend her heartfelt thanks and to say that as long as she lives the respect and affection so unmistakably shown will be a source of great consolation.

Another Bridge Across The St. John

P. Corbet and Charles Gallagher jr. of Bath came to Woodstock on Monday evening when they interviewed the Hon. W. P. Jones and urged on him the great need of a bridge across the St. John river at Bath. Mr. Jones favors the idea and a delegation from Bath and Wicklow will go to Fredericton next week to wage their claims on the other members of the government.
