

IF!

Everybody knows that Cod Liver Oil is a wonderful flesh producer, IF you can take it.

● Nobody doubts that Iron is the greatest enricher of the blood, IF you can digest it.

It is well known that Phosphorus is the ideal nerve and brain tonic, IF it is properly administered.

"IF," ah! there's the rub.

But everybody does not know that Cod Liver Oil, Iron and Phosphorus have at last been combined in an emulsion so palatable that anybody can take it, so easily assimilated that the smallest infant can digest it without difficulty and so perfectly and scientifically prepared that the value of the original ingredients is enhanced fourfold.

This emulsion is known as

FERROL

(Iron and Oil)

"FERROL" has wiped out the "IF."

"FERROL" has brought the wonderful and universally recognized virtues of Cod Liver Oil, Iron and Phosphorus within easy reach of the multitudes who need them.

"FERROL" is the only perfect emulsion of Cod Liver Oil, because it is the only one that contains IRON and no emulsion is perfect without it.

That is why FERROL is an unequalled system builder.

FERROL is not a patent mystery. The formula is freely published. It is prescribed by the best Physicians. It is endorsed by the most eminent Medical Journals. It is used in the prominent Hospitals, Sanitariums, etc.

Edgar W. Mair, Main and King Sts, Woodstock, N. B.

John L. Sullivan, the notorious prize fighter, was taken the other day by his press agent—he is now, off and on, an 'actor'—to visit Cardinal Gibbons. Mr. Sullivan looks sixty-five or more if he looks a day, while Cardinal Gibbons is most youthful looking. A part of the conversation is reported as follows:—

How old are you, Mr. Sullivan?

Forty-eight.

Forty-eight? I should have thought you were older. I am nearly seventy three now.

Oh, you're a young fellow yet. You move around here like a boy.

The World, which reports the interview, says that Sullivan's politeness did not much exaggerate the Cardinal's youthful appearance, while the Cardinal's surprise at Sullivan's few years was natural. Wrong living has wrought havoc with Sullivan, right living has befriended Cardinal Gibbons. Sullivan's physical strength was abnormal in the beginning, but the finest physique is shattered by a life such as he has led. The incident recalls the very general longevity of clergymen, especially the high clergy. Pope Pius X. is the same age as Cardinal Gibbons, and is still vigorous, with a strong face not deeply lined. Leo XIII, his predecessor, although frail all his life, lived to be ninety-three, and the strenuous Pius IX died at eighty-six. Cardinal Newman, the author of 'Lead, Kindly Light', and a principal leader in the exciting Tractarian movement at Oxford, lived to be eighty-nine, and Cardinal Manning lived to be eighty-five. The Archbishop of York is eighty-one, and still active, and Cardinal Richard in France is fiercely fighting for his church at the age of eighty-eight. In the United States, many examples of old age among the clergy may be quoted. Among them are Bishop Huntington, eighty-eight; Archbishop Williams, of Massachusetts, eighty-five; Bishop McQuaid, of Rochester, eighty-four; Edward Everett Hale, eighty-five, of the Methodist church, Bishop Bowman, ninety, and Bishop Andrews, eighty-two. In Canada, Bishop Bond lived to be ninety-one, and many of the higher dignitaries of the different denominations in Canada are between seventy and eighty. Among the great statesmen, too, the same thing is seen, and, other things being equal, longevity is a tribute to good living and active service.

A Catch Question.

The civil service examiner was determining the fitness of a score of applicants for the police force. He questioned them in arithmetic, spelling, and other standard subjects, and then said he would test their hearing. He took his watch from his pocket, and held it to the ear of a tall, handsome young man.

"Do you hear that tick?" he said.

"Yes, perfectly," the young man answered.

He held it a foot from the applicant's ear.

"Still hear it?"

"Yes, sir."

"Now stand back three paces."

The young man did so.

"Now," said the examiner, "do you hear it from that distance?"

The applicant listened intently. Then he smiled and nodded. "I still hear it, sir," he said.

"You have the most wonderful hearing I ever came across," said the examiner, enthusiastically. "That watch hasn't been running for three weeks."

Lent is about over. Although the season is not observed by all the churches, it is profitable for every one, whether he be a church attendant or not, to give serious thought to the righteousness of his life, either now or at some other time during the year. This is true, aside from its narrow religious bearing, for the righteous man is the best citizen, and the success of popular government depends on the predominance of righteousness in the councils of state.

Pine and Palm.

"A Pine-tree standeth lonely,
On a far Norland height;
It slumbereth while around it
The snow falls thick and white;

And of a palm it dreameth
That in a southern land
Lonely and silent standeth
Amid the scorching sand."

—Heine.

A Captain of Industry.

A hale and hearty-looking North Carolina citizen sat on a dry-goods box whittling a stick, but he made room for the Northern sociologist and, says the New York Tribune, readily engaged in conversation.

"What is your business?" asked the sociologist, after a while.

"Wall, stranger," replied the hospitable "tarheel," "I've retired from business. I don't have to do nothing for a living these days. I've got five head of gals a-working in the cotton factory."

Implying Conceit.

Many years ago Daniel Lord, jr., as he always signed his name, then one of the shining lights of the bar in New York, was arguing a case before the Court of Appeals, when a country lawyer asked Charles O'Connor the name of the gentleman who was speaking.

"That," said Mr. O'Connor, who was rather nettled at something Lord had said, "that, sir, is Daniel Lord, jr., and he puts the 'junior' after his name so that he may not be mistaken for the Almighty."

The Earthly Explanation.

"My dear," murmured the sick man to his wife, "I am nearing the golden streets. I hear strains of sweetest music, unearthly in its beauty, I—" "John," said his wife, "what you hear is a phonograph in the next flat." "So it is. Darn those people, anyhow. No consideration for their neighbors. Go and tell 'em to stop that infernal racket at once."—Cleveland Leader.

Do Not Crowd the Season.

The first warm days of spring bring with them a desire to get out and enjoy the exhilarating air and sunshine. Children that have been housed up all winter are brought out and you wonder where they all come from. The heavy winter clothing is thrown aside and many shed their flannels. Then a cold wave comes and people say that grip is epidemic. Colds at this season are even more dangerous than in mid-winter, as there is much more danger of pneumonia. Take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, however, and you will have nothing to fear. It always cures, and we have never known a cold to result in pneumonia when it was used. It is pleasant and safe to take. Children like it. For sale by All Dealers.

For Law Enforcement.

(From Judge.)

"What are they moving the church for?"

"Well, stranger, I'm mayor of these diggins, an' I'm fer law enforcement. We've got an ordinance what says no saloon shall be nearer than 300 feet from a church. I gave 'em three days to move the church."

The good business horse is not to be had for a song as proved by the recent purchase of E. W. McBurrill of Presque Isle from William McKinnie of the same town. The animal is a good, big business gelding to be used on the purchaser's farm. The price was an even $400, or about the value of a half score fairly good grade dairy cows. Why not try to raise that kind of horse? If half as good there's money in it.

—Heretofore no Englishman has been considered quite respectable unless he took an ice-cold bath every morning. The Hospital now boldly maintains that there can be no doubt that many a middle-aged man would enjoy both better health and better temper if he took a warm instead of a cold bath.

Try This For Your Cough.

To relieve a cough or break up a cold in twenty-four hours, the following simple formula, the ingredients of which can be obtained of any good prescription druggist at small cost, is all that will be required: Virgin Oil of Pine (Pure), one-half ounce; Glycerine, two ounces; good whisky, a half pint. Shake well and take in teaspoonful doses every four hours. The desired results can not be obtained unless the ingredients are pure. It is therefore better to purchase the ingredients separately and prepare the mixture yourself. Virgin Oil of Pine (Pure), should be purchased in the original half-ounce vials, which druggists buy for dispensing. Each vial is securely sealed in a round wooden case which protects the Oil from exposure to light. Around the wooden case is an engraved wrapper with the name—"Virgin Oil of Pine (Pure)"—plainly printed thereon. There are many imitations and cheap productions of Pine, but these only create nausea, and never effect the desired results.

THOSE WHO use it are being quickly and permanently cured of all forms of throat, chest, lung and stomach troubles. It is a scientific preparation, destroying all disease germs in the blood and system. It is a wonderful tonic and system building remedy, and is a certain cure for Bronchial Coughs, Chills and Fever, Difficult Breathing, General Weakness, Female Troubles, Fickle Appetite, Hemorrhages, Night Sweats, Consumption, Catarrh of the Stomach.

All these diseases are serious in themselves, and if not promptly cured in the early stages are the certain forerunners of Consumption in its most terrible forms. Psychine conquers and cures Consumption, but it is much easier and safer to prevent its development by using Psychine. Here is a sample of thousands of voluntary and unsolicited statements from all over Canada:

Dr. T. A. Slocum, Limited:
Gentlemen,—I feel it my duty to advise you of the remarkable cure effected by your Psychine and Oxomulsion, which have come under my personal observation. Three men, well known to me, Albert Townsend, Hazel Hipson and John McKay, all of Shelburne's County, were prostrated by the best medical men to have consumption, and to be incurable and beyond the reach of medical aid. They used Psychine and Oxomulsion and they are now in good health. I feel it a duty to advise suffering humanity to take these facts for the benefit of other sufferers from this terrible disease.

Yours very truly,
LEANDER MCKENZIE, J.P.,
Green Harbor, N.S.
