A. Corbett of St. John. It is to be of pressed brick with stone trimmings. The work will require about 230 thousand brick. Mr. Corbett has agreed to finish his part of the building and give it to the committee ready for the roof not later than the middle of October.

Military Law in Houlton.

Capt. Whitney of Co. L. caused something of a sensation, Thursday morning, when he halted his company at the Houlton Foundry and Machine Company's plant and with two men entered the foundry. They soon returned with Serg't Murphy whom they arrested, while at his anvil, and took along. On account of the rush of work at the foundry Manager Shea could not see way clear to allow Serg't Murphy to leave with the company. Military rules are not to be disobeyed and the only thing left for Capt. Whitney was to enter the foundry and take his man. Two other members of Co. L. resided in Letter B. were taken from their beds and brought to Houlton this morning. They were farm hands and felt that they ought to be in the hay field but the rules of the military book dictated otherwise.—Houlton Pioneer.

He "Done" it.

(Chicago News.)

A Chicago lawyer tells how the most popular man in a Nevada town got into difficulty with a disreputable tough—for a long time the terror of the place—and proceeded to "do him up" in a manner entirely satisfactory to the community at large. It becoming necessary, however, to vindicate the majesty of the law, the offender was brought up for trial on the charge of assault with intent to kill. The case soon went to the jury. When they had been out about two minutes they returned.

"Well, gentlemen of the jury," asked the judge in a familiar off-hand way, "what have you to say?"

"If it please the court," responded the forman, "we, the jury, find that the prisoner is not guilty of strikin' with intent to kill, but simply to paralyze, an' he done it."

So the prisoner was acquitted amid applause.

Tainted Money.

Here is some new light on the tainted money controversy.

"Pa," asked a juvenile interrogation point, "what do folks mean when they talk about tainted money?"

The rural philosopher removed from his mouth the straw he had been chewing reflectively and made answer:

"They mean mostly by tainted money that tain't theirs."

Death of Daniel McQueen.

Daniel McQueen died at his home on Chapel St. early Sunday morning at the age of 57 years and 8 months after a painful illness of three years of spinal trouble. He was born in Prince Edward Island and came to New Brunswick at an early age and engaged in railway work. He was the conductor of the first train that ran into Woodstock over to the old New Brunswick narrow gauge road about 32 years ago. He left the employ of the railway and went into railway construction work at which he continued about three years. Then, ten years ago he entered into partnership with A. Wilnot Hay in the meat packing business and at the time of his death he was the president of the Imperial Packing Co. He married about 30 years ago Miss Alice Hay of Millville who survives him. He is also survived by one daughter Verna and by three brothers and two sisters. The funeral was held yesterday afternoon from his late residence to the Kirk cemetery in Northampton. The services at the house were conducted by the Rev. G. D. Ireland. After leaving the house the funeral was conducted by Woodstock Masonic Lodge of which Mr. McQueen was a member.

Mr. McQueen was a man of sterling character and had the respect of everyone who had the pleasure of his acquaintance.

A Steady Fire.

(Lippincott's)

During the discussion of the Madden bill for cheaper gas, Congressman Legare told the following story of a cook he had once brought from home with him. She was a splendid servant, but she didn't know anything about gas to cook with, so he went to the kitchen to explain about the range. So that she could see how it was operated, he lit each of the many burners. While still explaining a message called him from the kitchen, and he left her saying, "I guess you will find that it will work all right now, Martha." He didn't see the cook again for four or five days, then upon entering the kitchen he said, "Well, Martha, how's that range doing?"

To his utter consternation she replied: "Deed, sir, that's the best stove I ever did see. That fire what you kindled for me four days ago is still a-burning, and it ain't even lowered once."

New York's New Graft.

(N. Y. Sun.)

A new kind of graft has been reported. A well-to-do man who figured in a street car accident was saved from serious injury by a quick-witted by-stander. After the rescuer called on the injured man and preferred a modest request.

"In the scrimmage," he said, "I lost a scarf pin that I value very highly and a roll of money. I don't want you to think for a minute that I expect a reward for a common act of humanity, but as you are a rich man I wouldn't refuse compensation sufficient to cover the actual loss I sustained."

The man whose life had been spared was so glad to find himself still on earth that he paid what the other seemed to consider a fair recompense and asked no questions. Later he learned from an authoritative source that his savior had never possessed a scarf pin of that kind and possibly no roll of money. Since then he has heard of several cases in which the victims of street accidents have been mulcted in like manner.

Health and Beauty.

Watercress is an excellent blood purifier.

Tomatoes are good for a torpid liver, but should be avoided by gouty people.

People with poor digestion should drink no water with meals, but take a glassful half an hour before and drink plentifully an hour or so after each meal.

It is said that a fever blister will disappear like magic if touched with a drop of sweet spirits of nitre.

Half a teaspoonful of table salt dissolved in a half glassful of cold water will give instant relief in case of heartburn.

To inhale steam from a bowl of boiling water is very good for a sore throat. The sufferer should lean over the steam, drawing it in both throat and nostrils.

Many cases of indigestion, headache, neuralgia, cold hands and feet can be quickly cured by drinking slowly one or two pints of hot water so hot that it almost burns the throat.

Warts may be entirely removed by washing the hands two or three times a day with the water in which potatoes have been boiled or by bathing the wart several times with potato water.

If you are in need of it, try fresh cucumber as a complexion bleach. Get a little fruit press, the ordinary cheap kind, and press the juice out of the slices. Don't pare the cucumber before slicing it, but wash it thoroughly. No other preparation is necessary before slicing it.

Riverside Camp Meeting.

Sunday was a beautiful day at Riverside Camp Grounds, over 2000 people were in attendance. The order was excellent for so large a crowd. The interest in the services was good, Rev's S. A. Baker, M. S. Trafton and W. B. Wiggins B. A. were the preachers for the day in the order named. Rev. G. B. Trafton is in charge of the services. Rev. P. J. Trafton has charge of the singing. Mr. J. F. Bullock of St. John presides at the organ. The Reformed Baptist Male quartette of Woodstock, Messrs F. L. Moore, Geo. H. Arnold, Herbert Palmer and E. Campbell sang several selections while there were much appreciated. The Camp Meeting will continue over next Sunday.

Getting to Work Early.

A recent graduate from Harvard was given a confidential clerkship in the office of the president of a huge railway system.

The young aspirant was not told at what hour he should report; so the first morning he appeared in the office of his chief at nine o'clock. Nothing was said of the clerk's tardiness.

On the second attempt the clerk presented himself at eight-thirty, only to find that the president was there ahead of him, working hard.

The third day the young man went at eight o'clock with the same result.

That night as he went home the clerk took counsel with himself, and determined to be ahead of the boss the next morning. Accordingly he arrived at the office at seven-thirty the fourth day; but there was the chief work-away as if he had not left the office at all.

As the clerke entered, the president looked at him with a quizzical air. "Young man," said he, "what use do you make of your forenoons?"

Country vs. Town.

The chief reason why men reared on farms are so often much better equipped for the battle of life than those born in cities, is because the former, taught to work when they are very young, have acquired habits of industry. They know what it is to work. They are prevented from drawing the harmful conclusion that life is a holiday, and that the thing above all to get rid of is the discharge of duty. Whether better in other respects or not than city boys, country-bred boys have the invaluable habit of industry; and, thus armed, they go forth to the battle of life, recognizing its serious character, and not in the slightest degree daunted by the fact that the price of success is labor.

At the Dentist's.

Tit Bits.

"Do you give gas here?" asked a wild-looking man, who rushed into a dentist's.

"We do," replied the dentist.

"Does it put a fellow to sleep?"

"It does."

"Sound asleep, so you can't wake him up?"

"Yes."

"You could break his jaw or black his eye and he wouldn't feel it?"

"He would know nothing about it."

"How long does he sleep?"

"The physical insensibility produced by inhaling the gas lasts a minute, or, probably a little less."

"I expect that's long enough. Got it all ready for a fellow to take?"

"Yes. Take a seat in this chair and show me your tooth."

"Tooth, nothing!" said the excited caller, beginning rapidly to remove his coat and vest. "I want you to pull a porous plaster off my back."
