AT the last meeting of Woodstock Masonic Lodge, D. Munro, P. M., Dr. M. G. McLean S. W. and D. W. Kyle, W. M., were elected delegates to attend grand lodge which meets in St. John July 27th.

REV. J. JAMES MCCASKILL of Fort Kent was with his uncle the late D. A. McCaskill of Montreal when that gentleman died recently in Switzerland. Rev. Mr. McCaskill brought the remains to Montreal, and assisted in the funeral services last week.

WM. MCCLEMENT, a native of this town, now employed in one of the largest printing shops in New York, has returned home for a few days and will accompany his wife, who has been here for some weeks, back to New York this week.

ON MONDAY afternoon at 4 o'clock the Misses Constance and Leslie Smith entertained a number of friends at a golfing party at the links, when a clock golf match was played. Mrs. Harold Schofield and Miss Rankin, of Woodstock, were the lucky prize winners.—St. John Telegraph.

HENRY UPHAM, a well known citizen, died at the residence of Wm. Bagley on Saturday morning, in the 82nd year of his age. About a month ago he was taken ill and, after a short time spent in the Hospital, he was removed to the house wherein he died. His sister and brothers are dead. George and Frank Upham of Woodstock are nephews of deceased.

DR. MANZER who went to Boston last week on business was taken suddenly ill of appendicitis and had to be removed to a hospital where an operation was performed. The operation was a success and Dr. Manzer is resting as comfortably as can be expected. During his absence his business is being attended to by Dr. Daman, of London, Eng., a graduate of the Royal College of Surgeons.

WILLIAM GLEW died at his home here early Sunday morning after a long illness of cancer of the stomach. His father is living in Sydney. Besides his wife and one son George, he leaves two sisters, Mrs. George A. Libbey and Annie E. Glew of Sydney, C. E.; four brothers, Thomas Glew of Woodstock, John Glew of Canterbury Station, George Glew of Fort Fairfield, Me., and Robert Glew of Lincoln, Me.

A SEVERE thunder storm passed over a part of Carleton County Tuesday of last week. Lightning struck a large barn belonging to Mrs. Ernest Hale, at Pembroke, and it was burned to the ground. The afternoon accommodation train from Woodstock was passing at the time and, seeing the fire, the crew stopped the train and succeeded in saving the other buildings. Mrs. Hale is a widow with five young children. Her husband, a well known farmer, died last spring.

WOODSTOCK will be a scene of gayety on Tuesday next for the Catholic picnic will be held on that day and large crowds from the country districts and along the line of railway will supplement the usual large attendance from town. It will cost you nothing for admittance and you are invited to be present and enjoy the music to be furnished by the 67th Regt. Band and the usual picnic games that will be held in profusion. "Meet me in Woodstock on Tuesday," should be the rallying cry of all people adjacent to town.

THE inquest into the cause of death of Charles O. McKinney, the fireman who was electrocuted on the 31st ult., was held Friday evening by Coroner W. W. Hay and a jury. The witnesses examined were A. W. Fields, Robert Welsh and F. B. Carvell, M. P. A verdict to the effect that deceased came to his death by an accident caused by his taking hold of an electric wire highly charged, but that from the evidence it is impossible to say as to how the wire became so charged, was rendered. It was also recommended that the town furnish fireman with rubber gloves to be used in cases of fire.

A VERY sad accident occurred at Moore Bros. Mill, St. Croix, Maine. A man by the name of Wright was loading a gun when his son passed by. The gun exploded and killed his son. He was twenty-two years of age.

LAST Wednesday evening Norman McIntyre, a bad black, tapped his wife over the coco with a club and it took Dr. Grant a good hour to restore the lady to consciousness. Norman has a conviction for a like offence hanging over him and it is not likely he will get off with a light sentence.

A Beautiful Ivory Gavel.

At the last monthly meeting of Woodstock Masonic Lodge, D. Munro, P. M., on behalf of brother J. Colby Henderson of Dawson City presented the lodge with a handsome ivory gavel. It is a beautiful piece of workmanship made by Mr. Henderson himself from ivory he dug in the Youkon at a distance of 45 feet below the surface of the ground. The striking piece bears on one side the legend "Woodstock Lodge No. 11 Free and Accepted Masons" and the emblem of the pillars. On the other side is the inscription "Presented by J. Colby Henderson, Dawson, Y. T., 1907." The handle is wedged into the striking part by a piece of fine gold and the handle is encircled by a golden band. It is a very rich looking implement and Woodstock may well be touched with this exhibition of love by an absent member.

Charles O. McKinney.

The funeral of the late Charles O. McKinney was held from the residence of Mrs. John Graham on Friday afternoon. The remains were taken to Camden, Me. for interment. The services were conducted by the Rev. Dr. Kierstead and the Rev. R. G. Falton. The 67th and the 71st Regt. bands played a funeral march to the train. The firemen attended and marched in uniform. The remains were accompanied to Camden by Mrs. Graham, Miss Annie Graham and Miss Aughterton.

Deceased came here from Camden about ten years ago and has followed the occupation of carpenter and painter. He was a member of the 67th Regt. band and of Hose Co. No. 1 and sang in the Methodist choir.

Don't Growl.

Be cheerful. No man likes to do business with the fellow who growls while doing up his bundles, about how dull things are. A tale of woe never makes a new customer, and people won't take their trade anywhere through sympathy. By continual growling and knocking the town and its industries you will attract only one class—the loafer—who won't work, but is willing to hear your hard luck story in return for a long credit. Seem to be prosperous. "To him who hath shall be given" is a true saying, and the man who looks as if he didn't need anything to eat always gets the invitations to dinner.
