

Most people know that if they have been sick they need Scott's Emulsion to bring back health and strength.

But the strongest point about Scott's Emulsion is that you don't have to be sick to get results from it.

It keeps up the athlete's strength, puts fat on thin people, makes a fretful baby happy, brings color to a pale girl's cheeks, and prevents coughs, colds and consumption.

Food in concentrated form for sick and well, young and old, rich and poor.

And it contains no drugs and no alcohol.

Death and Life.

(Prof. Chas. S. Minot.)

Death is not a universal accompaniment of life. In the lower organisms death does not occur as a natural and necessary result of life. Death with them is purely the result of an accident, some external cause. Natural death is a thing which has been acquired in the process of evolution. Why should it have been acquired? You will, I think, readily answer this question if you hold that the views which I have been bringing before you have been well defended, by saying that it is due to differentiation, that when the cells acquire the additional faculty of passing beyond the simple stage to the more complicated organization, they lose something of their vitality, something of their power of growth, something of their possibilities of perpetuation; and, as the organization in the process of evolution becomes higher and higher, this necessity for change becomes more and more imperative. But it involves the end. Differentiation leads up, as its inevitable conclusion to death. Death is the price we are obliged to pay for our organization, for the differentiation which exists in us.

Pain in the Back Over the Kidneys

TELL OF DISEASED KIDNEYS AND THE PROVEN CURE FOR THIS DREADFULLY PAINFUL AILMENT IS DR CHASE'S KIDNEY LIVER PILLS.

When kidney disease does not arise from exposure to a draft or chilling of the body, it is usually developed gradually as a result of liver and bowel disorders.

It is because of the intimate and dependent relation of the liver, kidneys and bowels that Dr. Chase's Kidney Liver Pills cure diseases of the kidneys when mere kidney medicines fail.

By quickening the action of the liver and bowels this treatment immediately lessens the work of the kidneys, and at the same time restores their natural vigor. In this way the most serious and complicated diseases of the kidneys are thoroughly cured.

Miss Della McDermott, 373 Main street, Moncton, N. B., writes:—

"For some time my mother could not walk across the floor or stoop over because the pain in her back just over the kidneys were so severe. She had severe headaches, backache, spells of blindness and dizziness, and tried many medicines without obtaining relief. The doctors of our town said that the trouble was due to the turn of life.

"A lady friend advised mother to try Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and by the time she had used two boxes of this great medicine she was perfectly cured, and the old trouble has never returned."

Mr. J. Edwards, of Colborne, Ont., and who is employed by the Kennedy & Davis Milling Co., Lindsay, Ont., states: "I have been taking Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills for some time, and can positively say that they are the best medicine I ever used. I was troubled very much with my kidneys and had dreadful pains in my back, which were increased by leaning over.

"I can testify to the exceptional merits of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills because they have cured me, and shall gladly recommend them to anyone inquiring about them.

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills regulate the action of the liver, kidneys and bowels, one pill a dose, 25 cents a box, at all dealers, or Edmondson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

The Shah's Baggage.

How the Shah of Persia left Teheran on his journey to Europe in 1900 is described by the author of "Through Persia in a Motor Car." The Imperial baggage—items of which were sacks of corn and barley, a school globe and a colossal musical box—was four hours rolling through Teheran. In the midst on a diminutive donkey, came a little man with a grey beard and spectacles, who carried an enormous wallet, out of which bulged mysterious looking articles, among others a huge open telescope. This was his sacred majesty's astrologer.

The Real Thing.

(Washington Star.)

A Philadelphia property man was relating in a sad and respectful voice his memories of Richard Mansfield.

"If one worked hard," he said, "one got on with Mr. Mansfield well. He never rebuked me but once, and then it was hardly my fault.

"It was a sultry afternoon in the spring, and we were rehearsing one of the Mansfield plays—I think it was Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde—and here and there I had to supply a clap of thunder.

"Everything went well for a time. Then, in an unexpected place, a loud roar of thunder rumbled forth. Mr. Mansfield hurried to me.

"Look here," he said, with a hurt look, 'do be careful, won't you! A mistake like that would be very serious before an audience. That clap of thunder came in the wrong place.'

"I'm very sorry, Mr. Mansfield," and I; 'but it wasn't my thunder. It came from outside.'"

Boy Criminals.

(Boston Advertiser.)

Commissioner O'Meara, as a result of his experience at the head of the Boston police, is convinced that the city boy of this generation is far readier to act in defiance of the law especially as regards such offences as window-breaking, petty thievery, etc., than the boy of an earlier generation in Boston. The bath commission finds that the theft of towels from city bath houses, by boys and girls, is so enormous that the whole system of free supply may have to be abolished. The residents of Dorchester, Roxbury and other suburban parts of the city have found that petty thievery is so general that it is almost useless to attempt to keep an orchard or fruit garden. Motormen and chauffeurs find it a nerve racking task to avoid accidents due to the pertinacity of street children in running risks deliberately and from the same idea of violating the common laws of the road. All these indications point to a cause which sociologists have already remarked in the United States; the decline in what used to be called "home training" in our large cities. With the free day school and Sunday schools everywhere, the temptation to the heads of families is to throw the burden of a child's instruction almost wholly on teachings outside of the family. It is a dangerous shirking of responsibility.

Boston Advertiser: I often wonder why the laboring man does not take a leaf out of his diplomatic sister's book of management. She has shown her methods to be altogether superior to his. For years the women who do kitchen and other branches of domestic work have been on a strike for higher pay, and in all that time they have made no loud demands, they have had no elaborately reported public meetings have not in any way called attention to what they were doing, nor has their their work been interrupted; but looking back over this period of years and noting the steadily increasing scale of wages during that time, the employers have to confess that this quiet strike has been entirely successful, and that they have been outwitted and outgeneralled.

LINGERING COLD

Withstood Other Treatment But Quickly Cured by Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

"Last winter I caught a very severe cold which lingered for weeks," says J. Urquhart, of Zephyr, Ontario. "My cough was very dry and harsh. The local dealer recommended Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and guaranteed it, so I gave it a trial. One small bottle of it cured me. I believe Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to be the best I have ever used." This remedy is for sale by all dealers.

Change of Price.

With this issue the "Canadian Courier" changes from a five cent to a ten-cent weekly. The publishers promise a greatly enlarged paper on December 1st. This illustrated paper has made great strides since it was established last year, and is certainly a creditable production. Judging from its appearance, both the reading and the advertising public have given it quick and generous support. John A. Cooper, the editor, is to be congratulated upon the success his venture has met with, and also upon the enterprise which he has displayed in bringing this national weekly to its present excellent position. Canada should be able to support the few national publications which she possesses.

Orchid Tints.

The fashionable orchid tints appear in many of the satin and soft silk waists worn to matinees and small luncheons, whereon soutache and fancy braids rival embroidered bands and contrast with the lace guimpes and high collars.

Although seemingly loose and designed for comfort as well as for beauty, they have carefully fitted and boned linings of peau de soie or taffeta. Tailored shirtwaists in white taffeta, heavy linen or flannel are worn the winter through with simple coat and skirt costumes, and are unlined, depending for their trimness upon their belts, and, in the case of every stout figures, upon the kind of corsets cover worn beneath.

The Family Doctor.

"Your husband will be all right now," said an English doctor to a woman whose husband was dangerously ill.

"What do you mean?" demanded the wife.

"You told me he couldn't live a fortnight."

"Well, I'm going to cure him, after all," said the doctor. "Surely you are glad?"

The woman wrinkled her brows.

"Put me in a bit of an 'ole," she said "I've bin an' sold all his clothes to pay for his funeral."—Exchange.
