GOLF.

Woodstock Club Again Defeated by St. John.

Twelve members of the Woodstock Golf Club went to St. John on Friday evening last. On Saturday they played four rounds with the St. John club, which resulted in a victory for the St. John club by the small majority of twelve holes.

As the score below shows, some of the steady players of the home team, of whom good playing was expected, were badly beaten. There was a high wind blowing on the links in the afternoon which interfered with the play of the Woodstock team to a great extent. It is expected the St. John team will play a return match here about the middle of September, and should the home team win, each club will have won seven games.

The River.

Not for a number of years has the St. John River been at such a high pitch at this season of the year as at the present time. A steamer of the draft of the Aberdeen could easily run on the Woodstock route. In fact there has scarcely been a week since navigation opened that she could not have made the trip. Speaking of the matter to a Herald representative recently a citizen who takes an interest in river navigation, expressed great regret that there was no steamer plying between this city and Woodstock at the present time. He thought that on account of there being no boat, Woodstock merchants were capturing a lot of trade which in other years came to this city. He intimated that if it were possible to have a suitable boat he intended to see to it that there is one on the route next season.—Fredericton Herald.

A Divorce For Joseph Holmes.

In the divorce court at Fredericton last week, Judge Gregory delivered judgment in the case of Joseph Holmes vs. Eliza Ann Holmes, annulling the marriage contract. The case was brought before his honor last term and was undefended. The couple belong to Victoria County, and were married at Wicklow by Rev. Charles Sterling, Oct. 15, 1903. They lived at Cabano (Que.) for a few weeks, at the end of which time the wife left her husband, and went to Riley Brook, Victoria county, where she has since resided.

The libel in the case alleged adulterous intercourse with one Andrew McCaskell, of Riley Brook, but the judge held that there was no evidence to sustain the libel in this respect. As it has been clearly shown by the evidence, however, that the defendant had given birth to a male child nearly two years after leaving her husband, the court held that this established the charge of adultery, and justified him in granting the plaintiff a decree. Nothing was said in regard to costs of the suit.

J. G. HASTEY had a cancer of the lip cured by the X-ray treatment, and has returned to his work at Fort Fairfield.

A very pretty wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. I. Rogers, Gordonsville, on Wednesday afternoon, July 10th, at three o'clock, when their daughter Lizzie V. was united in marriage to A. Wallace Dickinson of Arrowhead, B. C., in the presence of about forty guests. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. H. A. Bonnell of Tracey Mills. Mendelssohn's wedding march was played by Miss Ellen Giberson of Bristol, a cousin of the bride.

The bride was beautifully gowned in cream voile with trimmings of silk lace and insertion and carried a shower bouquet of roses. She was attended by Miss Nellie Dickinson of Windsor who was dressed in cream nuns veiling and carried pansies. The groom was supported by the bride's only brother, Nelson Rogers. The ceremony was performed on the veranda under a beautiful arch of roses and green leaves. After the ceremony the bridal couple and the guests repaired to the dining room and partook of a tastefully served wedding dinner.

The wedding gifts were numerous and costly. The gift of the groom to the bride was an elegant gold bracelet set with pearls and amethysts and to the bridesmaid a ring set with pearls. Mr. and Mrs. Dickinson left on the 16th en route to Arrowhead, B. C. where they will make their home. The bride who has been one of our most popular young ladies will be very much missed by her many friends who wish her a long and happy wedded life.

The resignation of Principal Draper of the Broadway school was accepted, with the regret of the Board, and R. Ernest Estabrooks of the College school appointed to the vacant position at a salary of $615 exclusive of government allowance.

Since then Mr. Draper has applied for his old position and the trustees will allow him and Mr. Estabrooks to settle the matter between themselves.

Miss Henderson's Recital.

A pleasing musical event on last Monday evening at the Opera House was Miss Maude Henderson's first public piano recital, assisted by other pupils of the Woodstock School of Music. As Mrs. Adney observed in a few remarks to the audience at the close, the program had been purposely selected from the best "classical" music for the piano, while the songs all were the "old-fashioned" ones. She had heard it disparagingly said that Woodstock was not a "musical town," but if any proof were needed to the contrary it was convincingly shown, notwithstanding the warm evening, by the attentive interest of the audience and by the work of her pupils, who were only a few of some fifty-three all of whom were just "plain Carleton County people" and were making excellent progress in music. No other place in the Province could make such a showing both of audience and pupils. Miss Henderson appeared four times alone, playing the Staccato Etude and Kammermoo Ostrom (Rubenstein), Norwegian Bridal Procession (Greig), Nocturne, op. 37, No. 2 (Chopin), Polonaise, op. 40 No. 1 (Chopin), Last Hope (Gottschalk), (Raff), Silver Spring (Marche Militaire (Schubert-Tausig), and on two pianos tuned in unison played the Callirhoe of Chaminate with Mrs. Adney. Miss Henderson, who we believe is only fifteen years old, has remarkable natural talent for music and played the difficult pieces with great apparent freedom. On two pianos Miss Fannie Raymond (another talented pupil) and Mrs. Adney played the Loreley of Hans Seelig. The Rankin children, Miss Margery and Masters Franklin and Donald, sang Heidelberg from opera Prince of Pilsen, and their favorite "A Hundred Pipers" to Mrs. Rankin's accompaniment in a way which brought great applause. Miss Carrie Boyer, whose first appearance it was in public, sang very sweetly, Little Boy Blue, and made a very happy choice in the song which will always be associated with "Tribby." Sweet Alice Ben Bolt, Miss Helen S Wolverton sang sweetly, At My Window, and Two Marionettes. Miss Bessie McKibbin showed her fine voice in, The Bridge, and Twickenham Ferry, and Miss Dottie Brewer, who has never before sung in public since studying with Mrs. Adney, gave evidence of her instruction in her fine singing of the Serenata (Braga), and The Fields in May. Little Donald Rankin, who had been set down for his favorite "Mollie Darling" at the end of the programme, gave his song, to the great pleasure of his audience, earlier in the evening, and his place was taken by Mrs. Adney in an impromptu number by request the Irish ballad, The Low Backed Car, giving evidence as usual of her great skill in singing.

Altogether it was a performance greatly enjoyed by the good audience present, and reflects credit on this part of New Brunswick.
