The Way of the Transgressor.

On Thursday afternoon Deputy Sheriff Foster received a telephone message from Plasier Rock instructing him to arrest James Gray, who was a passenger on the south-bound express. The Deputy had no difficulty in getting his man and took him to his house at Middle Simonds intending to turn him over to the Victoria County officials the next day. In the course of the evening Mr. Foster asked his prisoner to step outside the room while he attended to some private telephonic messages. Gray stepped out of the room, and out of the back-door as well. The Sheriff and "Joe," the hired man, gave chase at once but the man could not be found. A hue and cry was raised and several men searched the country around nearly all night. Next morning a message from Lakeville said a man answering the description was seen to pass that place and Sheriff Foster started in that direction, but in passing through a piece of woods en route he saw his man emerge from the bushes, and captured him after a short chase. Secured with handcuffs the man was brought to the railway and was taken at once to Victoria County.

This James Gray is a Scotch immigrant of about 21 years of age. He is alleged to have stolen from James Stewart a check for $27, forged an endorsement, came down to Andover and drew the money from the Bank of Montreal there. He then proceeded to Florenceville and forged a check, signing Edward Waugh's name and drew $840 from the Bank of New Brunswick. Then he bought a ticket for Montreal and was going on his way rejoicing when Sheriff Foster nabbed him.

Mrs. Barney's Meeting.

Mrs. J. K. Barney, of Providence, Rhode Island, spoke to a large audience in the United Baptist church, Hartland, on Monday evening October 14th. Her subject was "Taking in the situation," and she delivered a carefully reasoned lecture. Mrs. Barney is a national prison evangelist and she told many touching incidents of her work among prisoners. She spoke also of her work among children, and made a strong appeal to the people to put down the liquor traffic which is doing so much harm in our country.

Mrs. Barney was engaged in this work with Miss Francis Wetland, and is now working under the direction of the Provincial Convention.

During the course of the evening, the New Brunswick Y Prize Banner was presented to the Hartland Y.

Gammon's Stories.

Some comment by Spurgeon Gammon, the Nova Scotia correspondent of the American Horse Breeder, on the recent race meeting at Halifax is of interest, including the following extract:

MARGUERITE (2 22 1/2).

"The Maritime horsemen who have campaigned trotters in the show classes this season, and who know the old but ever popular song Marguerite, when they think of the old but speedy white mare Marguerite, can very appropriately hum the song's refrain, 'I can ne'er forget you, Marguerite,' and if the many trimmings she has given them does from their memory fade, and they don't recall the song, they probably smoke the cigar called Marguerite, and the clerk's 'Marguerite, sir, three for a quartar,' will bring to them visions of Gallagher and the old white mare pulling out for a wing finish at the head of the stretch. Starting in ten races, some of them mixed, she won ten races and this is her first season on the turf. Marguerite was sired by Arclight (2.19 1/2), one of the truest and best trotters that ever pulled a sulky. Arclight was by the Almont stallion Rampart, that did much for the breeding interests of the country. Marguerite's dam was by the New Brunswick sire, Sir Charlie. He too was grey, and no doubt the color of her coat is inherited from that side of the house."

Mr. Edwards' Death Sudden.

Further details of the death of the late E. M. Edwards of White Sulphur Springs were yesterday received in the city by relatives.

Mr. Edwards had been suffering from an attack of stomach trouble, and a day or two before his death he returned from a visit to his mines at Copperopolis, feeling very ill. He took some medicine which had been prescribed recently by a physician, but it failed to relieve him, and he took to his bed. The following morning he was found dead in his bed, having died some time during the night. Deceased was about 50 years of age. His wife was Florence Barker, a daughter of Mr. Robert Barker, formerly of Woodstock, and a niece of Robert Caldwell. He leaves two brothers, Robert, of Woodstock and Theodore of Meductic.

GOLF.

Woodstock Again Victorious.

Six ladies and ten gentlemen of the Woodstock Golf Club went to St. Stephen on Friday evening last, and on Saturday played and defeated the home team in a very interesting game. The only thing to mar the pleasure to any extent was the cold weather, and even that did not "cut much ice."

After the morning play luncheon was served at the club house by the ladies of the home team, after which speeches were made by the president of the St. Stephen club, J. E. Ganong, Col. Chipman, George J. Clarke and J. R. McColl, also by vice president Wm. Dickinson and Geo. E. Balmain of the Woodstock team. In the afternoon four-somes were played until 4.30 when light refreshments were served.

Everything possible was done to make the day a most enjoyable one for the visitors.

Following is the score:

Serious Accident.

Nelson Turney, postmaster and general merchant of Jacksonville, was the victim Saturday of a serious accident caused by an automobile. Mr. Turney who was returning from Woodstock with a load of merchandise, was alone on his wagon. He got down from his wagon and walked behind it after he had turned into the quiet country road. He did not hear the sound of the approaching motor, coming from behind, and which gave no signal, but his horse usually a trusty animal, became alarmed and started to run. Mr. Turney grasped the right hand wheel of the express wagon in an effort to reach for the reins, but the terrified animal plunged ahead, drawing Mr. Turney over the wheel, dislocating his right shoulder and fracturing his right hip.

Dr. Rankine was immediately summoned from Woodstock, and has been successful in alleviating in some measure the suffering of the injured man.

Mr. Turney was in a very serious condition, but is rallying under the surgeon's treatment. Miss Kate Phillips has been engaged as nurse. Mr. Turney is forty-five years of age, and is one of the most enterprising men of the district. Jacksonville Cor. St. John Sun.

William T. Kerr.

The news reached Woodstock on Monday announcing the death in Boston on Sunday of William T. Kerr at the age of 53 years. Mr. Kerr was born in Campbellton but he spent a number of years in this community, first as principal of the school at Upper Woodstock and later as principal of the Broadway School. He was a most successful teacher and always had his heart in his work, but was compelled by ill health to retire from the profession some years ago, since which time he has resided in Boston.

He leaves a wife who was Miss Ella F. Hovey, daughter of the late George W. Hovey of Grafton and one brother Fred Kerr of Campbellton. The remains will be taken to Campbellton for burial.

Frank Stephenson

The funeral of Frank C. Stephenson who was killed in the west some days ago was held from the residence of Mr. Parlee, Broadway, on Monday afternoon at 3.30. The services were conducted by the Rev. G. D. Ireland assisted by the Rev. R. G. Fulton. The pall bearers were, Archie Cole, Ira McAfee, Walter Stone and R. M. Watt. The deceased met his death while driving a loaded team. He thought his horses were going to plunge through a store front and he jumped to catch them, when the load shifted and crushed him against the store. He was 20 years and 9 months old.

CROPS AND THE MARKETS.

Frost Adds to the Ruin of the Potato Crop--But Prices are Going High.

The "pronounced cold wave" predicted last week by the weather man came according to the program, and everything freezable froze up solid. It caught the farmers with fully a third of their potatoes still in the ground, and Monday they found the earth frozen so they could scarcely open the potato hills with a pick-axe; and the few spuds they dug froze solid in 20 minutes. Of course operations were perforce suspended. It is known that in some places the frost was hard enough to freeze the potatoes in the ground, but at this writing an estimate of the loss in this way would be the merest guesswork.

Reports reach the DISPATCH from farmers in every part of the county and vary from the loud wail of the man who is not getting his seed back to the jubilant voice of the one who is happy with a yield of upwards of a hundred barrels to the acre. But the great majority declare the yield less than half what it should have been and judging from reports received 40 barrels to the acre is a conservative estimate of the last week's digging. The price is now $1.00 per barrel at most points in the county and dealers are of the opinion that the price will not go higher in the very near future.

It is simply amazing to hear the dealers quote prices for hay and oats, and there is every chance for them to go higher as enquiries come daily for quotations on these goods, and from the sections of the country that in ordinary years raise this stuff to sell. There is a vast deal of hay in Carleton county, but most of it will grade second class. Consequently the first quality will bring almost any price. The quality and quantity of oats is above the ordinary and the price quoted now is said to be equivalent to ten cents more per bushel next spring in view of shrinkage, interest on the money, and the various causes of waste in holding them.

This season the farmers have not gone so heavily into pork as in the past few years, their attention having been diverted by the lure of easy fortunes in potatoes. Live hog exports amounted to almost nothing as the farmers found it was necessary to keep the pigs to eat up the bad potatoes. There will probably be about the average production of dressed pork. Eggs and dairy products are scarce and high. It is rather early to talk about poultry but it is thought there will be for market about the ordinary amount. At present prices are good. Firewood is a burning question. There is little to be had in any of the villages.

Farmers suffering from the blues because of the potato crop may get a grain of comfort by perusing the following list of prices which on Monday were being paid at Hartland and Florenceville and Woodstock:

Hay, loose	$8.00 to $9.00
Hay pressed	9.50 to 10.50
Oats	45
Dressed pork	08 to 08 1/2
Butter	22 to 24
Eggs	22
Chickens	10 to 12
Hard wood ready for stove	4.00

Dr Tracy Promoted

The Philadelphia Ledger of October 16th says—

A rumor to the effect that there were to be some changes in the staff of the Stetson hospital, at Fourth street and Columbia avenue, was current yesterday, when the directors met. After a secret session they announced that Dr. Stephen E. Tracey, assistant surgeon of the gynecological department, had been elected chief of the department, to alternate with the senior chief, Dr. Charles P. Noble.
