FIRE broke out in the residence of Albert Patterson on Monday afternoon and considerable damage was done by smoke and water. The horses were away from the engine house when the alarm went in and the firemen had to take up the hand reel which caused considerable delay.

THE death of F. Asahel Good occurred in Burin, Moncton, on October 15th after a few weeks illness of Typhoid Fever. The deceased was born at Upper Woodstock and was a son of the late George and Margaret Good and brother of John Clarence and Randolph Good and of Mrs. A. G. Brewer.

HARRY ANNETT, aged 26 years, died at the home of his brother, A. D. Annett, in South Berwick, Me., after a long illness of Consumption. Until two months ago he had been living with his mother in Minneapolis. Mr. Annett was a native of this town and left here about five years ago. The remains were brought to Woodstock on Tuesday for burial. The Rev. A. H. Kearney officiated at the funeral.

I PICKED up one of the best of the county weekly newspapers that come to my office the other day and in the course of six consecutive paragraphs I learned that three men were popular, one was genial and that a girl was smart. It is too bad for a newspaper man to get in the habit of calling every brat of a boy a popular or genial young man and every freckled faced female a beautiful and fascinating young lady. It makes his best compliments very cheap.

A QUIET wedding took place at Minneapolis, Minn., Oct. 12th, at 8 p. m., when Charles W. Stevens and Mable J. Hansen were united in marriage. The ceremony was performed by Rev. G. F. Holt pastor of the fourth Baptist church of Minneapolis. The bride was attended by Miss Elsie Blake, and Albert Hansen brother of the bride acted as best man. The couple will reside at 606 20th Ave North. Mr. Stevens was formerly a Woodstock boy, and is a brother of Mrs. C. P. Phillips.

G. N. A. BURNHAM of Upper Woodstock, an expert woodworker and finisher, says that in the last two years a great deal of very fine old furniture has been coming to light in Woodstock. Some householders have discovered pieces the value of which they had no idea until they got them cleaned up. One lady called him in to look at an old Centre table a few weeks ago. She said she had always had it but had never known what it was made of nor anything of its value. Mr. Burnham said it was made in St. John sixty years ago, was made of mahogany and rosewood, and was the most beautiful table he ever saw. No doubt there is a great deal more of this rich old furniture in town that has not yet been unearthed, and that with a thorough overhauling and cleaning would be very valuable.

Too few are the very worthy musical events to be heard in Woodstock during the season, and there will be but seldom that so enjoyable a one is possible here as the concert to be given in the opera house Monday, Oct. 28th, by the Misses Winifred and Nellie Lugin of Victoria, B. C., J. A. Kelly, tenor, Mrs. Kent Scovil, solo pianist, and Miss Mildred Isaacs, elocutionist. The programme will be a varied one, combining selections which will please the musically educated and those who lean more to that which is not truly classical.

This concert is being looked forward to as one of the principal musical events of the season and will doubtless receive the patronage which it so richly deserves.
