THE PRODUCE MARKET.

Stuff Moving Briskly but Pork Declines

The shipping of produce is in full swing. Prices are being maintained in good shape although pork took a slump last week. The cause of this staple falling off is largely occasioned by a failure to comply with the slaughtering regulations recently enacted. Pork to be shipped abroad or to points outside of the province must have the heart, lungs and liver left in the carcass, and as none has been dressed this way the market is limited to New Brunswick points. Last week a large shipment was about to have been made from Florenceville and Hartland to Halifax when the dealers were confronted with the new regulation. The price in Halifax is more than that paid in St. John or elsewhere in the province and farmers have realized a loss accordingly.

The new law is the outcome of the recent investigation into the methods of slaughtering, and hereafter all pork for export or interprovincial trade must pass examination by government officials. THE DISPATCH has been unable to find any explanation or reason why pork that may be marketed in Woodstock or in St. John without inspection should have to be inspected if it goes to Nova Scotia. It would seem that if there is a real reason why pork going to Halifax or to Montreal ought to be inspected, the same reason should obtain in the local markets; or, if not necessary in the local market why is it necessary at all? It is to be hoped someone can throw light on the subject for farmers object to losing money without knowing why.

But the new law is not altogether responsible for the decline in pork. Among other reasons is the decline in other meats, occasioned by the scarcity of fodder. A livestock shipper who returned last week from Montreal where he succeeded in disposing of a carload of lambs at less than he paid the farmers here for them, says he saw good beef cattle offered for $5.00 per head.

Fodder of all kinds was never so scarce and in some sections animals are slaughtered to save only the hides. There is no telling what may be the price of hay within the next few months.

On Monday dealers in this county were paying prices about as follows:

Hay, pressed.....	$11.00 to $12.00
Hay, loose.....	9.50 to 11.50
Oats.....	40 to 45
Pork.....	7½ to 7½
Eggs.....	24 to 25
Butter.....	24 to 25
Beans.....	2.50
Buckwheat meal.....	1.50
Chickens.....	10

In some instances as has been mentioned before fresh eggs and extra good butter bring higher prices than here quoted.

A prominent dealer says that it is his firm belief that farmers are running a great risk in holding hay for more money as there are many contingencies that may work to keep the price down.

At Bath this week 48 cents is being paid for oats, and the same dealer says he will pay that price for carload at any station in the county.

Mrs. Sarah Plummer.

At five o'clock Thursday morning, Mrs. Sarah Plummer, widow of John Plummer, died at the home of her son, A. Ernest Plummer, Waterville, at the ripe old age of 71 years. She had been a remarkably active woman up to a short time before her death. Her husband predeceased her by ten years, but four sons survive: G. Fred Plummer of Fort Fairfield, Charles now in Montana, and John W. of Woodstock, and Amasa of the firm of Keith and Plummer, Hartland, but now in California. Mrs. Plummer was Miss Sarah Alterton, born in England, she came to this province with her parents when a child, and resided at Sheffield; later her father was in business in Woodstock. After her marriage they lived for a time at Jacksonville, but the greater part of her married life was spent at Waterville. She had two daughters both of whom have been dead many years, and one of whom was married to G. W. Vanwart of Woodstock. Leonard Alterton of Woodstock is a nephew.

The funeral was held at the Waterville Methodist church on Saturday and was very largely attended as the deceased lady was held in high esteem by a very wide circle of friends. Rev. E. C. Turner of Jacksonville preached the funeral sermon.

THE Meats that satisfy are the kind that are on sale at the People's Cash Market.

Union Prayer Meeting.

There will be a union prayer meeting held in the Reformed Baptist church Wednesday evening, 20th. The Rev. G. M. Campbell will be present and will speak in the interest of the British and Foreign Bible Society.

Memorial Service.

On Sunday morning last there was something of a special ceremony in St. Luke's church, in the unveiling of four memorial windows at the west end, to the memory respectively of the late Archdeacon Neales, contributed by the children of the Sunday school, of the late Mrs. Charles Connell, of Dr. and Mrs. C. P. Connell, and the late Julius T. Garden. The Rev. Sub-dean Street of Fredericton came to take part in the service and officiate at the unveiling.

The windows are from the firm of Wailes & Strang, London, Eng. The same firm supplied all the windows of St. Luke's and those just unveiled take the place of the last plain windows in the church. They are beautifully designed and fully bear out the reputation for artistic execution that the well known firm has possessed for over a quarter of a century.

The window in memory of the Archdeacon represents Timothy, with the inscription "Children's memorial, Ven. Archdeacon Neales, rector 1871, 1907," while underneath is the text "From a child thou hast known the Holy Scriptures." The window to Charles Connell's memory is of Hannah with Samuel in her arms, that to the memory of Dr. and Mrs. Connell is of Ruth, while the window in memory of Julius T. Garden represents St. John the Baptist.

The sermon was preached by the sub-dean from the words, "And he said to me, these are they which came out of great tribulation, and have washed their robes and made them white in the blood of the Lamb," and was entirely appropriate to the occasion. He spoke of having known personally everyone of those in whose memory the windows were placed, and dwelt upon the kindly and honorable characters that all enjoyed in their lifetime.

Motor Car for the C. P. R.

Fredericton and vicinity are likely to enjoy the privileges of a motor car suburban service on the Gibson branch of the C. P. R. next season as a result of representations made by the railway committee of the Board of Trade which have culminated in General Superintendent Downie promising to make application to the head offices at Montreal for a motor car equipment for the service referred to. If established the motor car will make an early morning trip from Millville daily, bringing market produce and any other freight which may be offered as well as passengers. In the evening the motor train would make a return trip to Millville.—St. John Globe.

It has been suggested that to accommodate the most people the motor car should start from Bath early in the morning, run to Woodstock to connect with the early train to St. John and the west, and then proceed to Fredericton via the Gibson branch. The return trip might be made to leave Fredericton for Woodstock in the evening and after the arrival of the late train proceed to Bath. This would enable Woodstock people as well as those in the villages north, and along the whole length of the Gibson branch, to go to Fredericton and return the same day. At present passengers north of Woodstock who desire to go out on the morning train must come here the day before, or those for the north arriving on the late train must stop here until the next day.

A Methodist Minister Recommends Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

We have used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in our home for seven years, and it has always proved to be a reliable remedy. We have found that it would do more than the manufacturers claim for it. It is especially good for croup and whooping cough,

REV. JAMES A. LEWIS,
Pastor Milaca, Minn., M. E. Church.
Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is sold by all dealers.

Golden Wedding.

On Nov. 5 Mr. and Mrs. Richard Crabbe, a most highly respected couple of Debec, celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of their marriage. The weather was beautiful and although Mrs. Crabbe is not in robust health she was able to go with her husband and family to church where Mass was offered for their spiritual and temporal welfare. It is the wish of all that they may be spared many more years in our midst.—Com.

Large Monument.

A very beautiful monument which has been shipped from St. George to be set up here, in memory of the parents of the late Peter Fisher, of Woodstock, is at present stored in the Star Line freight shed. The monument is the work of Gallagher Bros. of Woodstock and will be set up in the Old Burying Ground here.—Fredericton Gleaner.

A LADY Quartette is always a source of delight to lovers of beautiful music, and the Schubert Lady Quartette is one of the best.

Scathing Attack on Liquor Traffic.

"I wish I had the liquor dealers here, so I could speak to them," said Rev. M. S. Trafton, speaking under the auspices of Thorne Lodge, I. O. G. T., in the Tabernacle church, yesterday afternoon. "I wish I had the Joneses, and Readys, and the McCormicks and the other saloon keepers within sound of my voice. They're the people I want to talk to."

The foregoing sentences were uttered during the course of a most scathing attack on the liquor traffic, as it exists in this city. Mr. Trafton assailed many classes. He blamed the editors for treating the violation of the liquor laws as a joke; the man in the street for being apathetic when a drunken man drowns in the harbor or is frozen to death near the city; and the government for passing temperance legislation only when forced to do so.

The speaker announced himself to be the friend of the temperance and the drunkard, but the biggest foe on rum and the saloon keeper. The latter he said, had been called by some gentleman, but how could a man who gives his fellow that which degrades, debauches and demoralizes him be a gentleman?

Mr. Trafton closed his remarks by making a plea for the appointment of a detective to assist Inspector Jones.

"That official," said the speaker, "is known as far as he can be seen. He will visit a bar and find it closed, but fifteen minutes afterward it may be open and selling liquor to a dozen men. You may use a detective to catch a thief, why not to catch a saloonkeeper? The Scott Act is not a failure. I passed my early life in a Scott Act county, Carleton. I accompanied the inspector on his rounds many times. Shortly after his appointment he had every hotelkeeper in Woodstock in jail. (Applause.) The saloonkeepers couldn't stay in the place. We have one in St. John that couldn't stay there. Doherty couldn't stay there."

The speaker next Sunday will be R. B. Addison.—St. John Star.

BABY SMILES.

One mother happily expressed her opinion of Baby's Own Tablets when she said "there's a smile in every dose." In homes where the Tablets are used there are no cross, fretful, sickly children. The Tablets make children well and keep them well. They cure indigestion, colic, constipation, diarrhoea teething troubles and all the other minor ailments of childhood. They can be given with absolute safety to the new born child, for the mother has the guarantee of a government analyst that the Tablets do not contain one particle of opiate or poisonous soothing stuff. Isn't such a guarantee worth something to you, mother? The Tablets are sold by all medicine dealers or may be had from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont., at 25 cents a box.

Benn--McClymont.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. P. A. McClymont was the scene of a happy event Monday afternoon Nov. 11th at 3.30 o'clock when their daughter, Mary, was united in marriage to Ernest Benn by Rev. H. Harrison.

The bride wore a dress of white cashmere lace trimmings and carried a bouquet of white carnations and ferns. The bride was unattended. The parlor and dining room were decorated with ferns. After congratulations lunch was served.

Mr. and Mrs. Benn left on a wedding trip to Boston, where they will be the guests of Mr. Benn's mother.

The brides going away dress was brown broad cloth and an old rose hat.

The costly presents were many and testified to the popularity of the young couple.

From the brides parents a Piano and from the family an oak bed room suit while the present from the groom's parents was silver.

THEY'RE a happy looking crowd who visit the People's Cash Market every day. That's because they feel assured they can get the "meat that satisfies."
