

HARTLAND and VICINITY.

Hartland office in charge of Fred. H. Stevens, at EVERETT'S AGENCY, where orders for Advertising, Printing and Items for publication may be left.

The Woodworking Factory.

Thirteen years ago, when Hartland was enjoying a building boom that has not since been equalled, R. W. Richardson, a man who did as much for Hartland as anyone living, erected the woodworking factory that now stands idle. This factory ran every year up to 1902 since which time it has not turned a wheel. The reason is not because there is lack of patronage but that the right kind of a hustling, practical man has not turned up to take hold of it. The property is owned by D. H. Nixon who is very anxious that one with a little capital and a lot of knowledge of the business will take hold of it.

However this is not an advertisement for Mr. Nixon. The village needs every industry it can secure, and now with the prospects for building brighter than ever before it seems passing strange that his well equipped factory should any longer remain closed. Besides being a convenience to builders the amount paid out in wages would contribute to the general prosperity of the village.

Last spring there was an effort made to raise the necessary capital to start the business going, but, while one man offered to put up half the necessary capital, the project fell through.

But now is the time to talk about it and have plenty of time to get the old factory in ship-shape for the spring work.

A Big Output of Lumber.

Last week several deal rafts of mammoth dimensions were sent away from F. E. Sayre & Co.'s mill. They were 160 feet long and 40 feet wide, and made of three inch spruce deal eight tiers deep. There were 115,000 feet of lumber in each raft, which would have been sufficient to load a dozen ordinary flat cars. Each raft represented something less than three days cut at the mill. This lumber is sent to Fredericton where it is loaded on scows, carried to St. John, and transferred to the ocean steamships. Besides the lumber shipped in this way large quantities of lath and boards go by the C. P. R.

The mill has had an unusually steady run since it started in May and will continue sawing deal until the middle of November. After that date the lath crew will continue work all winter.

Rev. Percy R. Hayward, pastor of the Baptist church at St. Mary's, has been spending his vacation with his brother Marvin L. Hayward.

Miss Grace Tompkins spent Sunday at East Florenceville.

Mrs. S. W. Bannison left on Saturday for Lowell, Mass., where she will pass the winter with her sons, who reside there.

H. D. Keswick went to Fredericton on Saturday evening. He also visited at Douglas, York Co., and returned the first of the week accompanied by Mrs. Keswick and Miss Nellie McAdam who have been visiting there.

Miss Bessie MacLauchlan, Woodstock, was the guest of her cousin, Mrs. George S. MacLauchlan, last week.

Miss Blanche Kelley spent Sunday in Woodstock.

W. G. Tinker, accompanied by Mrs. Tinker, were guests of his aunt, Mrs. Frank Hagerman, last week. They also visited friends at Bristol. Mr. Tinker is an old Hartland boy who is doing well in Bangor, Me., where he is train despatcher for the Bangor & Aroostook railway.

Donald Matheson has something in the way of horse flesh that he is justly proud of.

It is a beautiful young mare, rising four years, whose dam is Minnie Wilkes, by Pure Wilkes. This colt, "Mary L." is sired by Red Glen (2.27) and is a clean-limbed, graceful youngster, that made the quarter in 40 seconds before she was three years old. Her colour is seal-brown with white points. Mr. Matheson has a standing offer of $275 for this animal, and says he will sell only at a figure nearer to even money. He also has a dandy colt foaled by the same mare after Lord Dufferin, which gives promise of good value.

In the parish of Brighton the old councillors, Allen Bradley and C. J. Connolly, will be in the field for re-election, and it is doubtful if they are opposed. They have performed service of great value during the time they have represented the parish. For the first time in forty years Brighton is free from debt. When these staunch men went to the board there was a debt of over $800, while at the close of the term there was a balance on the credit side of over $400. The general feeling is to keep them where they are until cause shall demand their retirement, or they will no longer serve.

J. C. Everett has just added to his stock a good line of canned goods, cereals, brooms, etc.; a fine assortment of whips and shoe findings; bibles, testaments and stationery; fire and accident insurance; issuer of marriage licenses; English spavin cure, and the great Alligator Liniment.

On Friday evening two women of the south end entered complaint to Justice J. C. Everett against several boys for using foul and indecent language and for throwing stones at them. One of the stones struck Mrs. Charles Foster and hurt her quite severely. It is understood the matter has been settled out of court.

Mrs. George M. Shaw, who has been spending the summer with Hartland friends, left on Saturday for Bangor, Me., where she will meet her husband, Mr. Shaw, who conducted a hardware store here for some years, is now a travelling salesman, covering the New England states.

Hezekiah Stottard of Somerville, suffered a shock of paralysis on Sunday morning. Mr. Stottard is nearly 80 years of age, and, while rallying somewhat from the first effects of the stroke, his complete recovery is doubtful.

Mrs. David Raymond, a widow residing at Middle Simonds, was seized with paralysis on Sunday. Neighbours found her lying unconscious in her garden. She was promptly cared for and recovered her senses in a short time, but one side of her body is completely paralyzed. She is 72 years old and has been living alone with her son who is a helpless invalid.

John Allbright, a well known resident of Victoria Corner, died on Sunday evening after a few days illness. He was 73 years old, and leaves a wife and two sons, William and Frank. The funeral was held at the Baptist church yesterday afternoon; sermon by Rev. O. E. Steeves. Mr. Allbright was a shoemaker by trade and was for the greater part of his lifetime employed by the Messrs. Boyer, father and sons.

A bright little daughter arrived on Sunday to gladden the hearts and home of Mr. and Mrs. Ziba Orser.

Born.—Sept. 15th, to Mr. and Mrs. Allison Shaw, Simonds, a son.

On Monday the merchants were paying 20 cts for eggs; 20 cts for butter.

Miss Viola Ingraham went to St. John on Monday for two weeks visit.

One car lime just arrived. For sale low by Keith & Plummer.

Last March, George S. MacLauchlan, editor of "Chat," who always has shown a deep interest in the Sunday school and church work, offered two handsome books as prizes to the Baptist school. The first prize offered to the teacher who showed the best class record, was won by Mrs. G. C. Watson; the other prize, to the scholar showing the best attendance record and general proficiency, was awarded to Vernon W. Simms, one of Mrs. Watson's pupils. The members of the Baptist church and Sunday school wish to publicly acknowledge in the DISPATCH their appreciation of Mr. MacLauchlan's generous offer, as well as for his untiring interest in school work.

Keith & Plummer have re-engaged Miss Branscombe for their millinery department, and the fall opening will be announced within a few days.

Mrs. A. W. Rideout returned from Fredericton last week greatly improved in health.

G. M. Morgan and wife of Caribou were the guests of his brother, D. E. Morgan over Sunday. They had been visiting the exhibition at Fredericton.

Ladies' jackets, fall clothing and overcoats, camp blanketing, horse blankets. All new goods, which the moths have not touched. A full line of fall goods at prices that will lead you direct to our store. Keith & Plummer. (All kinds of produce bought and highest market prices paid.)

Mrs. M. A. Tompkins of Both was the guest of Mrs. D. E. Morgan over Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. William Stapleford of Bath, were guests of Mrs. Spurgeon Tompkins from Saturday to Monday.

Hartley Boyer left Friday evening for a visit at Melrose, Mass. Mr. Boyer, in company with his mother, had planned to go to British Columbia before this, but has deferred the trip for several weeks.

After visiting Hampton, St. John, Fredericton and Fredericton Junction, Misses Helen and Dorothy Alexander returned home on Friday. At Fredericton Junction they visited their uncle, Frank Alexander, who is very ill. This young man was several years ago a clerk in J. T. G. Carr's store and was very popular among the young people of that time.

M. R. Benn, of Douglastown, the man that sells the dictionaries, was doing business here last week.

J. M. Dysart, of Robinson, Me., was here on Friday. Once upon a time he conducted a shoe store here.

Mrs. T. T. Hammond and son, Gerald, have returned to Cabano. The eldest son, Deane, will remain here with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Keswick, and go to school.

There is now promise of a lively contest for municipal honours in Wilmot and Wicklow.

Largely through the efforts of the Woodstock Board of Trade the C. P. R. authorities announce their intention of continuing the "hobo" train throughout the winter.

Elsewhere on this page may be seen the advertisement of Horace R. Nixon, a man, who having lost about all of his earthly possessions in the big fire, has had the pluck to keep right at it. Upstairs over a blacksmith shop is hardly an ideal place for a general store, nevertheless Mr. Nixon has got his place fixed up attractively, and as he puts it "the goods may be away up but the prices are still away down." This man deserves a good patronage.

C. W. Hurst and Dr. MacIntosh who exhibited twenty varieties of barnyard fowls at the Fredericton exhibition were very fortunate in securing prizes. The number of entries was much greater than in former years and the Hartland exhibit was not behind any in point of general excellence.

W. F. Thornton has sold his residence on the corner of Forester and Main streets to Dr. MacIntosh and intends moving into the James G. Campbell house on the hill. Dr. MacIntosh will have his office and residence in his newly acquired property in the near future.

Mrs. Eric Nelson and children who have spent the summer at Somerville departed last week for their home in Beechmont, Mass.

Miss Bertha Bateman, of Shediac, Albert County, is the guest of Miss Inez Bradley.

Keith & Plummer promptly sold the two double waggons offered last week. They still have two single wagons at low prices.

Amasa Plummer, Scott Sipprell, of Hartland, and Woodbury Raymond, of California, were out to the big game region last week. Meeting with only indifferent success this trip it is their intention to make another trip later. Sportsmen say the condition of the woods is exceedingly unpleasant on account of the wet.

Dan Sanborn, of Robinson, Me., was visiting at E. Alexander's over Sunday.

The Rev. J. B. Daggett, Florenceville, was in the village the other day.

Miss Janet McMullin, Frank Bradley, and Mrs. Stephen McMullin returned from their Ontario trip last week.

Mrs. Clarence Rideout, Peel, was visiting here on Friday.

Shingles, all all grades, from $1.10 to $2.50 at Keith & Plummer's.

It is understood the post office will be removed to the new building D. E. Morgan is fitting up next to his meat shop. This will afford ample room for present requirements, but is in rather an out of the way locality. However it is the best place available and maybe the government will provide a better building sometime.

The State of Maine Railway Commissioners passed over the C. P. R. enroute to Aroostook Co. on Monday. They were conveyed in the handsome private cars "Earncliffe" and "Dexter."

The Rev. H. Goring Alder will hold Church of England service in Bartt's Hall, at 10 30 a. m. on Sunday, Sept. 29. Holy Communion will be celebrated.

Keith & Plummer are just unloading two cars of flour and feed. A good quality of flour at $5.75.
