Heart Strength

Heart Strength, or Heart Weakness, means Nerve Strength, or Nerve Weakness—nothing more. Positively, not one weak heart in a hundred is, in itself, actually diseased. It is almost always a hidden tiny little nerve that really is all at fault. This obscure nerve—the Cardiac, or Heart Nerve—simply needs, and must have, more power, more stability, more controlling, more governing strength. Without that the heart must continue to fail, and the stomach and kidneys also have these same controlling nerves.

This clearly explains why, as a medicine, Dr. Shoop's Restorative has in the past done so much for weak and ailing hearts. Dr. Shoop first sought the cause of all this painful, palpitating, suffocating heart distress. Dr. Shoop's Restorative—this popular prescription—is alone directed to these weak and wasting nerve centers. It builds; it strengthens; it offers real, genuine heart help. If you would have strong hearts, strong digestion, strengthen these nerves—re-establish them as needed, with Britain Still Rules.

A remarkably interesting comparison of the merchant navies of the world is given in a blue book issued by the board of trade showing that Britain is still ruling the waves so far as the tonnage of her ships is concerned.

The world's merchant navy possesses a tonnage of about 21,000,000, and of this over 10,000,000 tons sail or steam under the British flag. Here are the comparative figures as they stood at the end of 1906:

	Tons.
United Kingdom.....	9,612,013
Rest of empire.....	728,576
United States.....	3,384,002
German Empire.....	2,081,205
Japan.....	1,041,311
France.....	727,047
Norway.....	700,259
Spain.....	684,339
Italy.....	492,823
Sweden.....	491,596
Eight other countries.....	2,112,800

In one particular it is interesting to note, however, the Germans have forged ahead of the United Kingdom. This is in regard to the larger class of vessels, those over 4000 tons chiefly used for passenger traffic. The two nations compared in this respect as follows:

	Ships	Tonnage
United Kingdom..	244	1,313,902
Germany.....	254	1,535,426

About Digestion.
It is not the quantity of food taken but the amount digested and assimilated that gives strength and vitality to the system. Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets invigorate the stomach and liver and enable them to perform their functions. The result is a relief for your food, increased strength and weight, greater endurance and a clear head. Price, 25 cents. Samples free. For sale by all dealers.

For any of the ordinary diseases of the skin Chamberlain's Salve is excellent. It not only allays the itching and smarting but effects a cure. For sale by all dealers.

A Bald-Headed Reply.

(London Punch.)
A naval officer, very well and favorably known in London, has for some unknown reason been advanced in his profession very slowly, though he has grown gray in the service and indeed lamentably bald. Recently one of his juniors was bold enough to question him as to remarkable absence of hair. "You, man, you would be bald, I think if you had men stepping ever your head for years in the way I have."

A Home Made Happy By Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

About two months ago our baby girl had measles which settled on her lungs and at last resulted in a severe attack of bronchitis. We had two doctors but no relief was obtained. Everybody thought she would die. I went to eight different stores to find a certain remedy which had been recommended to me and failed to get it, when one of the storekeepers insisted that I try Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. I did so and our baby is alive and well today.—GEORGE W. SPENCE, Holly Springs, N. C. For sale by all dealers.

Work of a Steam Plough.

The first steam plough in Saline county has just been sold to Will Johnson, who lives four miles west of Salina. The plough has twelve disks, which can be set so as to cut twelve furrows. When running two and one-half miles an hour it will plough thirty acres in ten hours. It was started in a 100 acre field at 3 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, and Mr. Johnson finished the field Friday evening. He had two crews on and kept the plough running all night. Mr. Johnson said he would never bother with a common plough again. The plough turns the ground as well as a walking or sulky plough.

Must Not Strip Canada.

Appreciation of the fact that Canada's forest must not be ruthlessly depopulated is voiced by Forestry and Irrigation, Washington, D. C., in the following terms. "Some persons place all their hope of relief from high prices of lumber on supplies from other countries, particularly Canada. "However desirable it may be to get lumber from Canada and thereby save our own trees, still such relief can be but temporary. It is imperative that we take care of our own timber crops, and not stop with coveting those of our neighbors. It is not merely a question of present prices, but of guarding against having no supply at any price. If we should import all of our timber supply from Canada for the next twenty-five years, and the cutting should be as wasteful as it has been in this country in the past, then there would be the same conditions facing us later.

"It is very much to be hoped that the Canadians will not allow us to cut their timber without regulation, however eager we may be to buy it. This would be for their benefit and likewise for ours. For the sake of a permanent supply, we should wish that Canada or any other country from which we may have to import lumber should put its forests under the same careful administration that now is given to the National Forests in the United States.

"Suppose a sailing ship a month's journey from land has a week's provisions in one part of the ship untouched, and a week's provisions in another part half used up, and it is proposed to put the crew on half rations in order to have sustenance until land is reached. Is it a valid answer to say there is no need to economize on the partly used stock, because there is an untouched stock in another part of the ship?"

How Diphtheria is Contracted.

One often hears the expression, "My child caught a severe cold which developed into diphtheria," when the truth was that the cold had simply left the little one particularly susceptible to the wandering diphtheria germ. When Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is given it quickly cures the cold and lessens the danger of diphtheria or any other germ disease being contracted. For sale by all dealers.

Pepper Cured Hiccoughs.

A new and immediate remedy for hiccoughs was discovered at the Hahnemann Hospital on Friday Evening by Dr. Peters by whom George McClellan was cured of hiccoughs, which began two days ago, by means of a pinch of pepper. McClellan had tried all kinds of remedies before coming to the hospital, but without avail two hospitals were visited, but the treatment received was apparently as little good as the drugs he had taken at home. He became weaker and weaker and could not eat or sleep. It was in this condition that he appeared at the Hahnemann Hospital last evening.

Here is something that you never tried, said Dr. Peters. He gave the man a pinch of pepper. The man was hiccoughing violently at the time, but managed to inhale the stimulant. Tears came from his eyes as he sneezed violently. He sneezed again and when he was through sneezing the hiccoughs were gone.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

A Business Man's Idea.

(New York "Sun.")
"Since my stenographer has been furnished with a rubber stamp reading "Dictated but not reread," I've taken solid comfort," said the head of a large New York institution. "Of course, nine times out of ten a letter will be perfect, word for word, but it's an absolute impossibility for me to read every letter I dictate and this little stamped explanation makes it possible for me to sign a couple of letters in no time without any apprehensions as to what I may be committing myself to. Of course, in the case of any very important letter I never have this stamp used, but for ordinary business correspondence it's a great scheme and I notice more and more busy men are having this little saving clause stamped at the lower left hand corner of their letters. It is a sort of loophole of escape that New York business men have been quick to appreciate, and I wonder some real philanthropist did not think of it before."

"If," said the Billville editor, "you see the major coming this way with his shotgun be sure and let me know."

"He's coming now, sir," replied the office boy, "but I notice that he's half shot"—so it will be an easy matter to finish him!"—Atlanta Constitution.

BOVRIL creates appetite

BOVRIL added to any dish gives it the delightful odor of roasting beef.
Makes your mouth water—puts your appetite on edge.
Its rich, beefy flavor, starts the gastric juices flowing, helping the digestive organs extract more nutrition from the food you eat.
BOVRIL is not a mere extract. It contains in concentrated form all the essence, substance and flavor of prime beef.
When tired out, try a little BOVRIL in a cup of boiling water, with a soda biscuit. 'Twill refresh and strengthen you.
All good cooks keep BOVRIL always on hand. There's not a day passes that it cannot help make some dish more palatable—more nourishing.
All good grocers sell BOVRIL.
