Forget Each Other's Faults.

The man and wife had separated, and the man applied to the court to have their four young children placed in a public institution on the ground that his wife was not a proper person to care for them. Thereupon the judge said: "I want you both to go home and take these children with you, and take care of them and forget each other's faults." That is first-class law. A marriage is a civil contract, and that man broke it by leaving his wife. The court decreed a specific performance of contract, and they left together in obedience to the decree, taking the four children with them. "And forget each other's faults." There is the secret of family harmony. Remembering one another's faults is the road to domestic anarchy. It will break up any home. It is the Devil's work to look up faults in husband or wife and he will succeed even if either is as perfect as it is possible for humans to be. If neither is so, it is the prettiest sort of experience in believing that either is so.—Exchange.

Cold Settles on Kidneys

Cure is obtained promptly by using Dr. A. W. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

Medical authorities place colds as the most frequent cause of kidney diseases. It is customary to consider the lungs alone in danger from colds. This is a mistake. The kidneys are quite as susceptible and the effect is to congest and clog these filtering organs until the whole system is poisoned and there comes backaches, lumbago, aching head, painful limbs and urinary derangements. In a wonderfully short time Dr. A. W. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills afford relief and cure. By reason of their direct and combined action of kidneys, liver and bowels they cleanse the system, purify the blood and carry away the poisons generated by reason of the cold. The great secret of health lies in keeping these filtering and excretory organs regular and active and this can best be done by using Dr. A. W. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, one pill a dose, 25 cts. a box, at all dealers or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto, Ont. On the extraordinary success of this medicine as well as on the reliability of his great Receipt Book rests the fame of A. W. Chase, M. D.

What Hats Are Doing.

Every now and then the world has a practical demonstration that good can come out of bad. The very latest, up-to-date, and undeniable proof of this is found in the incident which occurred in a St. Louis church a few days ago and on Sunday too, at that. While the Easter service was proceeding a fire started in the church. Fortunately the lady worshippers were out that day in their glory in those umbrella-sized hats known as "Merry Widow" species of head gear. The pastor is quoted as having said that the anxiety of the fair sex to have their millinery creations noticed, led them to occupy front seats in the church. At any rate the ladies and "merry widows" were their full force. So great was the row of hats in the front seats, it is said, that a view of the fire was shut off, and the flames were extinguished before anyone had time to become frightened. This is an evidence of what hats can do, and after this when husbands are asked for greenbacks to pay for hats, no matter what their style, those husbands should think of the great service the milliners' product rendered in old St. Louis. It will save him many a deep regret; it will teach him the philosophy of life; it will prevent him from making any harsh, soulless threats against extravagant fashions.

In view of the lives saved by reason of space taken up by the "merry widows" it would seem that the remarks are singularly out of place of clergymen who solemnly warn their congregation that this dream of head dress has started many a man on the downward path. Let these persons pause and think. The women of to-day are demanding votes and know better than to wear anything which would either be unseemly or drive humanity down hill.

Our daily opportunities present themselves with open door, and when we pass along looking the other way the door is shut, and that door never opens again. Other doors of opportunity may open, but that door never. —George Hodges.

Mother's Love.

Some day,
When others braid your thick, brown hair,
And drape your form in silk and lace,
When others call you "dear" and "fair,"
And hold your hands and kiss your face,
You'll not forget that far above
All others is a mother's love.

Some day,
Among strangers in far distant lands,
In your new home beyond the sea,
When at your lips are baby hands,
And children playing at your knee,
O then, as at your side they grow,
How I have loved you, you will know.

Some day,
When you must feel love's heavy loss,
You will remember other years
When I, too, bent beneath the cross,
And mix my memory with thy tears;
In such dark hours be not afraid;
Within their shadow I have prayed.

Some day,
Your daughter's voice or smile or eyes,
My face will suddenly recall;
Then you will smile in sweet surprise,
And your soul unto mine will call
In that dear, unforgetten prayer,
Which we at evening used to share.

Some day,
A flower, a song, a word maybe
A link between us strong and sweet;
Ah, then, dear child, remember me;
And let your heart to "mother" beat.
My love is with you everywhere—
You cannot get beyond my prayer.

Some day,
At longest it cannot be long,
I shall with glad impatience wait
Amid the glory and the song,
For you before the Golden Gate,
After earth and earth's pain,
Never to part. Never again.

Those Who Work Hard.

The nervous breakdown of Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman from overwork has started an inquiry by the newspapers of London as to the number of hours people of various vocations and positions find it necessary to labor.

As a result of the enquiry it was learned that the British Premier was accustomed to work fifteen hours a day. Cabinet members enjoy less leisure than any other class; physicians and newspapermen come next in the scale of industry. The average clergyman likewise has very little time to call his own.

The extensive enquiry was not necessary to show that intellectual workers are compelled to labor longer than those who work only with their hands. Eight to ten hours a day is the average for the manual laborer. It is quite common for the intellectual classes to keep at their tasks for twelve to fourteen hours daily.

The facts brought out by the papers tell their own story to all who look at prominent men everywhere, and who wonder how prominence was obtained. The poor generally envy the rich; the obscure long for the eminence of the great; the ignorant conspire against the success of the brilliant.

Those below do not always realize what struggles were made by the ones above. They do not remember that while hard work is one of the severest employers it is the most liberal of paymasters.

The prime ministers, the cabinet ministers, the presidents, managers, founders and financiers of large affairs are the ones who, though in highest positions, work long hours. The persons who fill humble roles, find the labor of from eight to ten hours too long.

A man's worst enemy is his selfishness. It narrows and poisons his existence and transforms him into a slave of himself. Love is the free, vast horizon where the soul can spread its wings.—Charles Wagner.

Many a man has been kept from a disgraceful criminal act by the very thought that somebody loved him, that somebody believed in him, that somebody trusted him.

The tendency to persevere, to persist in spite of hindrances, discouragements, and impossibilities; it is this that in all things distinguishes the strong soul from the weak.—Carlyle.

No Honing— No Grinding

You know from daily experience, at home or in the barber shop, that the question is—"Why doesn't a razor hold its edge uniformly from heel to head without honing and grinding?" Whether it is a safety, with the certain tax of new blades, or the ordinary open-bladed razor does not alter the question. You want the comfort and satisfaction of a clean, smooth shave every morning with the confident knowledge that your razor will be ready for instant use the next time needed.

The Carbo Magnetic razor is the only razor unconditionally guaranteed to do this. Thirty years of study on the razor situation has perfected a new secret process of ELECTRIQ TEMPERING that positively merges every particle of carbon (the life of steel) into the metal—giving a diamond-like hardness uniformly throughout the blade—something absolutely impossible with fire tempered steel—used in making all other razors.

But test this razor in your own home—or if you prefer, have your barber use it on you. Give us your name, or call and see the "Carbo Magnetic" razor, and we will state our proposition for testing these razors without obligation on your part to purchase, together with our free booklet "Hints on Shaving." This book illustrates the correct razor position for shaving every part of the face.
