WOODSTOCK, N. B., FEB. 26, 1908.

If the Italian murder mania is not soon ended or mended there will inevitably before long begin an agitation to exclude certain classes of that nationality from this continent. The matter grows worse instead of better. In Montreal last week, there were two of such murders, one by a stiletto and the other by pistol shots, and in the big cities of the United States hardly a day passes without the commission of similar crimes. One thing is clear, whatever else is done or left undone, the Italian laborer should not be allowed to carry murderous weapons, as he almost invariably seems to do. There should be a thorough system of searching instituted, weapons when found should be confiscated and destroyed, and those found carrying them should be punished severely. One very grave feature of these assassinations, both in the United States and Canada, is the frequency with which the assassins escape justice. Through fear on the part of many, and through active sympathy on the part of confederates, the murderers are hidden away from the police by compatriots, and helped by underground means to slink off to other cities, where they are hidden again. Is there not some way in which the respectable Italians of this continent, who infinitely outnumber their murderous countrymen, could band themselves together and assist the authorities to remove this great reproach upon Italian reputation from which they must all more or less suffer? A movement of this sort has been started in New York and would seem to be needed in Montreal and other cities. Present conditions are intolerable.

WHAT WILL MAKE YOU GLAD

When the years have slipped by and memory runs back over the path you have come, you will be glad you stopped to speak to every friend you met, and left them all with a warmer feeling in their hearts because you did so.

And you will be glad that you were happy when doing the small, every-day things of life, that you served the best you could in earth's lowly round.

You will be glad that men have said all along your way: "I know I can trust him, he is as true as steel."

You will be glad there have been some rainy days in your life. Clouds and storms are not the worst things in life. If there were no storms, the fountains would dry up, the sky would be filled with poisonous vapors and life would cease.

You will be glad that you stopped long enough every day to read carefully, and with a prayer in your heart, some part of God's message to those he loves.

You will be glad that you shut your ears tight against all the evil things men said about one another, and tried the best you could to stay the words winged with poison.

You will be glad that you have met all the hard things which have come to you with a hearty handshake, never dodging one of them, but turning them all to the best possible account.—Christian Standard.

THERE will be a Church of England meeting in the hall at Hartland on Sunday evening next.

At the close many people signed the Resolutions drawn up and accepted the convention earlier in the week.

Next Sunday it is expected that Rev. A. F. Baker will preach his farewell sermon to the congregation to whom he has ministered for a year and a half. During his pastorate the Baptist church has had substantial increases in its membership roll, and the church has been benefitted in many ways. On March 3rd Mr. Baker intends to leave for Cranbrook, British Columbia, near which place he has been called to labour. Mr. Baker will be succeeded here by Rev. E. C. Jenkins, the present incumbent of the Ludlow Street Baptist church in St. John West. Mr. Jenkins will not, however, enter upon his duties here until the third of May. In the meantime the congregation will depend on various ministers as occasion may enable them to secure for supply.

Mrs. A. F. Baker went to Woodstock on Saturday to visit her mother, Mrs. William Sutton, for a few days before going west. The Women's Auxiliary of the Baptist church has presented her with a handsome and valuable shopping bag, while the little ones comprising the Mission Band made Mrs. Baker a "goodbye" present in the way of an autograph quilt.

Weak, Pale And Worn out Women

Can be Saved From a Life of Misery by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

Women are called the "weaker sex," and yet nature calls upon them to bear far more pain than men. With too many women it is one long martyrdom from the time they are budding into womanhood, until age begins to set its mark upon them. They are no sooner over one period of pain and distress than another looms up only a few days ahead of them. No wonder so many women become worn out and old looking before their time.

In these times of trial Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are worth their weight in gold to women. They actually make new, rich blood, and on the richness and regularity of the blood the health of every girl and every woman depends.

Mrs. Urbane C. Webber, Welland, Ont. is one of the many women who owe present health and strength to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Mrs. Webber says:—"About three years ago, while living in Hamilton, my health began to decline. The first symptoms were headaches and general weakness. After a time the trouble increased so rapidly that I was unable to attend to my household duties. I lost flesh, looked bloodless and had frequent fainting fits. I was constantly doctoring, but without any benefit, and I began to feel that my condition was hopeless. One day a friend asked me why I did not try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and mentioned several cases in which she knew of the great benefit that had followed their use. After some urging I decided to try the pills, and had only used them a few weeks when I began to feel benefitted, and from that time on the improvement was steady, and by the time I had used about a dozen boxes of the pills I was again enjoying the blessing of good health. I cannot too strongly urge other discouraged sufferers to give Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a fair trial."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills will cure all troubles due to poor, watery blood, such as anaemia, general weakness, indigestion, neuralgia, skin troubles, rheumatism, the after effects of la grippe, and such nervous troubles as St. Vitus dance and partial paralysis. Sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.
