Rheumatism

I have found a tried and tested cure for Rheumatism! Not a remedy that will straighten the distorted limbs of chronic cripples, nor turn bony growths back to flesh again. That is impossible. But I can now surely kill the pains and pangs of this deplorable disease.

In Germany—with a Chemist in the City of Darmstadt—I found the last ingredient with which Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Remedy was made a perfected, dependable prescription. Without that last ingredient, I successfully treated many, many cases of Rheumatism; but now, at last, it uniformly cures all curable cases of this heretofore much dreaded disease. These sand-like granular wastes, found in Rheumatic Blood, seem to dissolve and pass away under the action of this remedy as freely as does sugar when added to pure water. And then, when dissolved, these poisonous wastes freely pass from the system, and the cause of Rheumatism is gone forever. There is now no real need—no actual excuse to suffer longer without help. We sell, and in confidence recommend Building Homes.

One of the most noticeable and direct results of the recent financial disturbance is the manner in which real estate values in practically every part of the country have been beneficially affected. The increased interest manifested in real estate is not due to any boom or false inflation of values, but rather to the fact that dwelling houses are being more and more regarded as a safe investment for funds that ordinarily would be placed on deposit with some financial institution.

Statistics thus far available show somewhat of a decrease in the aggregate outlay for construction work for which permits were issued in the first two months of the year, but this is attributable largely to the cessation of speculative building or the erection of large structures on borrowed capital. On the other hand, the work authorized shows many dwellings of a modest character undertaken by individuals and which, upon completion, will represent the savings of the owner. It is in these smaller operations, into which lumber, cement, brick, lime, etc, will enter that building activity will show first signs of reviving.

Perhaps no more opportune time for building than the present has been offered the man of moderate means who is anxious to build a home of his own. Not only are real estate values more satisfactory to investors than has been the case for several years past, but most items of building material are just now changing hands at more advantageous rates than will be the case a short time hence. This cannot last long. All material must presently assume an upward tendency. It is but a momentary lull in the roar of trade, and he is wise who grasps present opportunities.

Pain can be quickly stopped. A 25 cent box of Dr. Shoop's Headache Tablets will kill any pain everywhere, in 20 minutes! Besides they are thoroughly safe. Painful periods with women, neuralgia, etc., quickly cease after one tablet. Sold by all dealers.

Maxims of Sage for the Young.

Russell Sage was fond of delivering newspaper lectures to the young during the last ten or fifteen years of his life. Some of the things he said are given:

- "If you have two pennies, save one and keep the other to earn a third with."
- "Don't be afraid of a small earning, but do be ashamed of a large expenditure."
- "Half of what you think you need need never be bought."
- "The other half can be divided and half of that will give comfortable living."
- "If you have money, others will try to deceive you. If you have no money, you will deceive yourself."
- "It is not work, but disliking work that brings on want and disease."
- "If you have learned how to save, two-thirds of the protection you will need in life will have been secured."

Tickling or dry Coughs will quickly loosen when using Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. And it is so thoroughly harmless, that Dr. Shoop tells mothers to use nothing else, even for very young babies. The wholesome green leaves and tender stems of a lung healing mountainous shrub give the curative properties to Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. It calms the cough, and heals the sensitive bronchial membranes. No opium, no chloroform, nothing harsh used to injure or suppress. Demand Dr. Shoop's. Take no other. Sold by all dealers.

Farewell Dinner by T. C. Brewer.

Many friends and acquaintances of Mr. Todd C. Brewer, who has been in charge of the masonry and woodwork construction on the highway bridge here, and who is now leaving for the South on account of ill health, were last night very pleasantly entertained at a farewell dinner given by Mr. Brewer at Washington's Cafe. The function was well attended, upwards of forty invited guests being present, and the affair was voted an unqualified success. Among prominent local men present were Mr. James Holland L. L. B., A. J. Ryan, J. H. Fleming, L. M. Owens, F. H. Peters and about thirty-five others. The several courses were interspersed with speeches and songs, and toasts to the admirable qualities of Mr. Brewer were heartily responded to. Much regret was expressed at Mr. Brewer's departure, and the Gleaner joins with his many friends in wishing him health, wealth and prosperity. —Fenton Gleaner.

The cultivator of the soil may have his fill of good things, but the cultivator of the mind will enjoy a continual feast.

The Slave of His Wife.

"What a shame for a big strong man to be such a slave to an invalid wife!" The words were spoken in a disgusted tone by a girl in the saloon of an ocean steamer. The couple on whom she made her caustic criticism were slowly descending the stairs. The woman was pale and haggard. Her hands were twisted by pain and her voice had the pathos of suffering.

She was helped from stateroom to steamer chair and back every day, and all day long her handsome husband attended her. He adjusted her wraps, saw that her food was prepared for her helpless hands, read to her hour after hour, or sat quietly with his hand resting near hers and his eyes watching her, even when they seemed fixed on the horizon.

Sympathetic spectators had pitied the man, even while they admired his devotion, and the girl had but put into words the popular irritation when she called him "a slave to an invalid wife."

She spoke in a louder tone than she meant, and the two persons interested in her speech heard her clearly. An hour later the man slipped into a deck chair beside her critic and said:

"I think your remark, which I accidentally overheard, justifies me in telling you a little about my 'slavery,' as you call it. It began 30 years ago when I went out to the east and my young bride nursed me through yellow fever—alone—because everyone else had fled in panic.

"She did not have a sound hour's sleep for three weeks. Most of the time I was violently delirious and how she managed to control me was a wonder. We were quarantined three miles from a town, and she cooked for me, and brought me safely out of the loathsome disease before she fell ill with it herself.

"After she recovered she pulled me through a worse trial. I was in business with a man who turned out to be a scoundrel and for three years everybody except my wife believed that his villainy was mine. When I lost money and position she did herself the work of three women. When children came she contrived that they should be noticeable for their gentle manners and thoughtfulness although they wore poor clothes.

"When sickness and death visited our home it was her courage and wisdom which kept the sordid details of the trouble away from the rest of us and left us only the ideal sorrow which lifts life toward heaven.

"For 25 years all this was her task. I tried to save her from strain when I could, but so great a spirit could not spare herself. Five years ago her health gave way. She will never be well again. She has given her life for mine.

"My 'slavery' thank God, is the slavery of whole-hearted devotion to one of the noblest women ever given to earth, and you may well pray every night that you may some day be so lovely a tyrant, and that you may command so happy a 'slave'!"—Ernest Loftis.

The St. Patrick's Day Parade.

At one of the meetings of the Ancient Order of Hibernians, Mr. Doogan was elected president. After it had been announced, he proceeded to make the following speech:

"Gentlemen:—Having been elected president of the grand and glorious organization of the Ancient Order of Hibernians, I appoint myself grand marshal of the parade on St. Patrick's Day. Being grand marshal of that parade, I have a suggestion to make, and that is, that all the hoomp-backed and bow-legged men take the rear line of march. Cuz I don't want the A. P. A.'s and the Dootch on the opposite corner to say that the Irish were crooked from the start."—Short Stories.

Not His Majesty.

At a Durham County banquet, recently held in Toronto, when "old boys and girls" from one of Ontario's favoured districts told stories of the good old days, a Durhamite who had come over from the city of Hamilton to meet his former associations told of an aged farmer from the home country who decided to make a visit to Toronto. It was the first time he had been at a city station and when a hotel crier hurried to him with the interrogation, "King Edward?" the newcomer simply smiled as he answered. "No, sir—Thomas Cox of Eramosa."

Halifax, N.S.—
Dear Chum:

I am enjoying my visit with grandpa and grandma hugely. Yesterday grandpa took me down to the docks to see the ocean liners. Gee! they're whoppers * * * * * bought me my third box of Moir's Chocolates. They are the sweetest candies ever. The chocolate outside are awfully smooth and rich, and in the inside are cream, jellies and nuts. Those called Moir's Chocolate Chips taste like honey dipped in chocolate. Another kind called Moir's Nougatines are so good that I teased grandma into promising me another box tomorrow * * * * * not a bit homesick.

Your old chum,
Tommy.
