"I had been suffering for over two months with an obstinate cough, as had also my little girl. We tried several remedies common to any drug store without obtaining any apparent relief, in fact we were growing worse. I got a bottle of Coltsfoote Expectorant from my druggist and inside of two days the cough was stopped, and the results so permanent and rapid that we decided to keep it in our home continually.

The County Council.

Coun Balmain called the attention of the council to the fact that Mr Veness was present and wished to be heard before the council on the question of the license for merry-go-rounds.

Mr Veness said that the $200 license exacted by the council was simply prohibitive. He owned property in this county, was a native of the county and gave an entertainment that was harmless and had no gambling features about it. He would be willing to pay a fee of say $50, but thought the present license was out of all bounds.

Coun Flemming moved that the license fee for merry-go-rounds be fixed at $50 instead of $200. Coun Balmain seconded the resolution.

Coun Connolly did not believe in the principle of making a by-law and then repealing it because some person thought it too heavy. He was given to understand that at these gatherings at the merry-go-rounds the conduct of the people was not what it should be. He would oppose the resolution.

Coun Gillmor could not go back on the by-law.

Coun Brown (Woodstock). I was here when the license was passed and I believe in the $200 license.

Coun Williams favoured letting the license stand.

Coun Lamont also favoured the present license.

Coun Tompkins said he agreed with the speakers who had just said they did not wish to change the by-law.

Motion lost.

On motion of Coun Kinney $4 was ordered paid to John McCreedy paid for laying out a road, and charged to Kent.

$150 was ordered assessed on the parish of Woodstock for roads and sidewalks and charged to Upper Woodstock road district.

Coun Stevens said he had been asked to make some inquiries regarding a possible grant by this board to aid in the developing of the mining industry going on in this county. He was told that a grant had been made some years ago by the council but it had never been used.

The Warden—My recollection is that some years ago there was a petition for the procuring of the diamond drill for the county. I don't know whether there was an appropriation made by the council to defray the expenses or not. My recollection is that no such appropriation was made.

SAYS THIS IS BEST

A leading health journal in answering the question, "What is the best prescription to clean and purify the blood?" prints in a recent issue the following:

- Fluid Extract Dandelion one ounce;
- Compound Salatone, one ounce;
- Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, four ounces.

Take well and use in teaspoonful doses after each meal and at bedtime.

A well-known physician states that these are harmless vegetable ingredients, which can be obtained from any good prescription pharmacy.

This mixture will clean the blood of all impurities. In just a few days the skin begins to clear of sores, boils and pimples. It puts vigor and energy into run-down debilitated men and women. For many years Sarsaparilla alone has been considered a good blood medicine. But while it built up and made new blood, the impurities remained within and the good accomplished was only temporary. Sarsaparilla, however, when used in combination with Compound Salatone and Extract Dandelion, works wonders. This combination puts the kidneys to work to filter and sift out the waste matter, uric acid, and other impurities that cause disease. It makes new blood and relieves rheumatism and lame back and bladder troubles.

tion was made.

Coun Flemming did not believe in devoting money for such purposes. Matter dropped.

The report of the County Board of Health was submitted as follows:—
To The Warden and Councilors of the Municipality of Carleton.

GENTLEMEN,—I beg leave to submit the report of Local Board of the latter District No 10 for the year 1907. There were a good many cases of Scarlet Fever in different parts of the County during the last half of the year, which gave the Board a good deal of work to look after. A number of Schools had to be closed for a time on account of the disease.

There were rather more than the usual number of nuisances to look after.

The bills for the year, with the vouchers, are attached to this report. The Board respectfully ask for an appropriation of One Hundred Dollars for 1908.

Respectfully submitted,
I B CURTIS, M D,
Chairman.

The account of the chairman showed balance on hand of $44.97. $160 had been appropriated.

Report was received and $100 ordered assessed for Health for the current year.

On motion $4 was ordered paid John Barnett (over assessed) and charged to parish of Woodstock.

On motion Samuel Miller was heard before the Board in the matter of a grievance he alleged that he had.

Mr Miller referred to several cases brought against him for violation of the Scott Act in his capacity as a druggist at Hartland. The amount of the costs incurred to the county was $115, the cases having been dismissed. I claim, said Mr Miller, that this was unnecessary and that the man who got the Inspector to act was Councillor Bradley. I claim he did this as personal spite against Dr Curtis and myself. I believe that he will not deny that he gave the information which led to these cases being brought, and for which the county paid $115.00 needlessly, for, we do not sell liquor, and Coun Bradley knows it.

Coun Bradley—How do I know? I believe you do.

Mr Miller—Coun Bradley has tried to get liquor there through friends. He sent Norman Wallace to try and get it.

Coun Bradley—I deny it.

Mr Miller—Mr Wallace came in to me. He had a prescription for some whiskey for his wife. Afterwards Wallace said he wanted some liquor for Allen Bradley—some brandy. I said I would as leave give Mr Bradley a present of the liquor as anybody else. After going out Wallace came in again and got the brandy, and later (I had not charged for this small vial) Bradley came in with the bottle of brandy. I said to him "You are not as sick as you appeared to be." Then he made himself out a great friend of mine. Continuing Mr Miller said that on every occasion possible Coun Bradley abused Dr Curtis and had called him a perjurer. He takes every opportunity to strike at Dr Curtis.

Coun Bradley—You are saying what is not true.

Mr Miller—Inspector Colpitts has admitted to a certain councillor that you wrote him letters charging us with selling liquor. You were the man who forced those cases on, and I want now to put you (Mr Bradley) in a position where you cannot do it again. I will venture to say that there is not another man in the county who believes we are selling liquor illegally. Bradley knew this. He has tried to catch us.

Coun Bradley—I don't know.

Mr Miller—There is nobody foxier than our friend Bradley from Brighton. He wanted to be County Inspector last year and canvassed the councillors.

Coun Bradley—I did not, I refused to be Inspector.

Mr Miller to Coun Connolly—Did he not ask you to vote for him?

Coun Connolly—No.

Coun Brown (Northampton)—I asked Mr Bradley if he would take the position.

Mr Miller—Then I want to make an apology. I understood Mr Bradley was trying to get the place, but I believe he was trying to get his friends to get it for him. He has put the council to a big expense on this prosecution against me. Why did Mr Dibblee the magistrate say that there were other druggists who observed the spirit of the law but that we tried to observe the very letter. He said on dismissing the cases that they were brought either through ignorance or malicious prosecution. Coun Bradley began by denying that he had called Dr Curtis a perjurer but that he made some remarks to him in connection with his evidence in a suit that had cost him (Bradley) $1000. It was about some correspondence that was written. I told him I had it in my power to have him arrested for perjury. That was all he said. Mr Miller spoke of putting up money for costs in a case if I could prove anything. He can make more money than I, thanks to rum.

Mr Miller—You tell what is not true if you say I sell rum.

Coun Bradley—I was told he sold three longnecks.

Mr Miller—You are telling a lie if you say I ever sold three longnecks.

Mr Bradley—I did not prosecute him, but I am willing to give information against all rumsellers, even if they are backed up by prescriptions from a doctor. If I was an inmate of the town of Woodstock and had to take my chance between one rumseller and three thieves, I would choose the thieves. (To Mr Miller) Did you never sell to Norman Wallace without prescription?

Mr Miller—Never in my life.

Coun Bradley—Well, he told me he could get liquor from you without a prescription. Then, the councillor quoted the names of James Rideout, Tom McInnis, Robert Henderson and others, as persons to whom liquor was sold. Continuing the councillor said "I take back nothing I have done, I did not institute the case against Miller. I have no knowledge of sending the inspector information, but if I did I was only doing my duty. If there is anything I despise it is a rumseller."

Mr Miller—I defy you to show that I sell without a prescription.

Coun Bradley—Well, you are a rumseller just the same. A man who sells rum is a rumseller, (to Coun Gillmor who rose as if to speak) I will soon be through.

Coun Gillmor—Oh, go right on. Honors are easy, so far.

Coun Bradley admitted that he did tell Wallace to go and get a half pint. He wanted it to rub on his chin, after shaving. Wallace told him he could get it without a prescription.

Mr Miller—I don't believe he told you that.

Coun Bradley—I have been told that a certain class of people could get it without a prescription. I think I have as good a right to make an information as any other person.

Mr Miller—If the doctors give a man a prescription the druggist cannot be fined for selling the liquor. I have refused to fill lots of them. Gentlemen at this board know that I never sold without a prescription. Regarding Robert Henderson I never did and would not fill a prescription for him and as to John McInnis I never sold to him without he had a prescription.

Coun Bradley—Don't you know he gets drunk?

Mr Miller—The liquor he got on prescription was for his aunt who was sick with heart failure and he got other medicine for the same trouble at the same time. They expected her to die, and I believe the liquor was used for the purpose for which it was got.

Coun Gillmor—Well, I have rather enjoyed it, but I would rather they would skin their own skunks outside. (Laughter)

The Long, Cold, Dark Evenings,

Are coming upon us when the wise father and mother will look about for some means to keep the young people at home. Nothing will do this more effectually than a musical instrument, a Violin, an Organ, or a Piano. I heartily recommend to your notice the renowned Gourlay Piano. Won't you come and have a talk with me about the matter.
