Constipation

Baked sweet apples, with some people, bring prompt relief for Constipation. With others, coarse all-wheat bread will have the same effect. Nature undoubtedly has a vegetable remedy to relieve every ailment known to man, if physicians can but find Nature's way to health. And this is strikingly true with regard to Constipation.

The bark of a certain tree in California—Cascara Sagrada—offers a most excellent aid to this end. But combined with Egyptian Senna, Slippery Elm Bark, Solid Extract of Prunes, etc., this same Cascara bark is given its greatest possible power to correct constipation. A toothsome Candy Tablet, called Lax-ets, is now made at the Dr. Sloop Laboratories, from this ingenious and most effective prescription. Its effect on Constipation, Biliousness, Sour Stomach, Bad Breath, Sallow Complexion, etc., is indeed prompt and satisfying.

No griping, no unpleasant after effects are experienced, and Lax-ets are put up in beautiful lithographed metal boxes at 5 cents and 25 cents per box.

Longfellow Was a Dandy.

In the upper left-hand corner of a letter dated Craige House, November 30th, 1841, are those words:—

"If you have room in your trunk, put in to it that rowdy portrait of me which you have in oils."

This reminds the reader of Longfellow's extraordinary love for various and rather bright colors in his clothes; a characteristic very noticeable during the early years of his professorship, but modified by time. His students at Harvard wrote a song about this and were wont to chant it to a popular tune. The verses are to be found among the Chronicles of the Hasty Pudding Club at Harvard, but this sample stanza serves to illustrate the point:

Just twig the Professor dressed out in his best,
Yellow kids and buff gaiters, green breeches,
blue vest;

With hat on one whisker
And an air that says go it!

Look here! the Great North American poet.

How Fireworks are Made.

The most solitary person in the world during working hours, says Rene Bache in The Technical World Magazine, is the maker of Roman candles. He occupies an isolated cell, somewhat like that of an old-time hermit, save that its precincts are more contracted, and nobody comes near him while he is engaged in his patient toil. The wages he gets are high, but not by reason of the loneliness to which he is condemned; he is paid for the risks he is obliged to take. The quarters occupied by this eremite artisan are a tiny house, which might almost be called a hut, with a floor space not more than six feet square. Standing by itself, at least sixty yards from the structure, the little building is of wood, of the simplest imaginable architecture. If it were to be blown up the financial loss would be almost nil—a point of some importance; inasmuch as its diurnal tenant is obliged to use considerable quantities of explosives in the business which engages his attentions. For a Roman candle is a sort of magazine or repeating gun, with a paper tube for a barrel and balls of fire for projectiles.

To check a cold quickly, get from your druggist some little Candy Cold Tablets called Preventives. Druggists everywhere are now dispensing Preventives, for they are not only safe, but decidedly effective and prompt. Preventives contain no quinine, no laxative, nothing harsh nor sickening. Taken at the "mezzo stage" Preventives will prevent Pneumonia, Bronchitis, LaGrippe, etc. Hence the name, Preventives. Good for feverish children. 48 Preventives 25 cents. Trial Boxes 5 cents. Sold by all Dealers.

Bridget had been going out a great deal, and her husband Mike was displeased. "Bridget, where do ye spend yer toime, nights? Ye're out iv'ry avenin' for two weeks," he said.

"Shut up, Mike! I'm gettin' an edication," she answered.

"An' phwat are ye learnin'?" said her indignant husband.

"Why, tonight we learn about the laws of compensation."

"Compensation?" said Michael. "What's that?"

"Why, I can't explain; but, for instance, if the sense of smell is poor, the sense of taste is all the sharper, and if yez are blind, ye can hear all the better."

"Ah, yes," said Mike, thoughtfully. "I see, it's loike this. Fur instance, if a man is born wid wan leg shorter than the other, the other is longer."

Excellent Advice.

From "Daily Mail" (England).

The Bishop of London, with the impression of his recent visit to Canada still fresh in his mind, has recently uttered a warning regarding the future of the Dominion. The bishop discussed the question: Is Canada to remain British? and stated that the inevitable answer was "No," unless the people of Great Britain "woke up," and sent of their best to the "land of the future." Canada, as readers of the Over-Sea "Daily Mail" know well from the correspondence which is constantly appearing on the subject in "Our Parliament of the Empire," badly needs emigrants. But if those who go forth from the Motherland are unsuitable, or the number is inadequate, then most assuredly Canada will look elsewhere for population. Canada is now inhabited by six and a half million people—there is room for one hundred million.

As the bishop pointed out, every nation regards Canada as a rich prize, and one of the first countries to realize the immense future before the Dominion has been the United States. Already there are 250,000 American settlers in the great Northwest. And this is only the beginning. The bishop alluded, during his discourse, to the great difficulty of getting domestic servants in the Dominion. He strongly advised British girls who desired employment in this capacity to emigrate to what may be termed the girls' "Land of Promise."

Thought He Knew Him.

A laborer was engaged in the grounds of an asylum and received instructions to pay no attention whatever to the remarks of the patients.

Some little time after he commenced work the governor of the asylum, a well known doctor, looking at the progress of the work mildly suggested one alteration. The workman dug steadily on and never lifted his head.

The doctor raised his voice, but the man, without answering, went on digging energetically. The doctor threatened, stormed and finally thundered out:

Do you know who I am?"
The laborer straightened his back, looked at him a minute and, shaking his head, sorrowfully exclaimed:

"Poor chap! I am sorry for ye," and went on calmly with his work.—London Express.

Not an Eye Witness.

A country doctor, whose most troublesome patient was an elderly woman of parsimonious disposition, was vigorously scolded by her one day for not coming when summoned the night before. "You can go to see your other patients at night," she said, "Why can't you come when I send for you? Ain't my money as good as other people's?" "I don't know, ma'am," was the reply, "I never saw any of it!"

To Cough Properly.

(From Health.)

Few people know how to cough properly. It never occurs to the ordinary individual that there is a right way and a wrong way of doing it. Yet it is a matter of no small importance.

If every sigh means a drop of blood out of the heart, as people say, every cough means greater or less proportion of time knocked off one's life.

Most people cough as loudly and forcibly as they can. But it is rather costly noise, for the single reason that it tears and inflames the lungs. The lungs consist of an extraordinarily delicate sponge-like tissue, which sometimes gets inflamed and choked with phlegm. When we try to get rid of this substance we cough. But obviously, if we remove it violently, we must necessarily injure the delicate lung tissue. Therefore, train yourself to cough as gently as possible.

The Deacon was Right.

A minister of the gospel one Sabbath announced to his flock that he would have to leave them, as he was called to another field.

"How much more salary do you expect to get there than here?" asked one of the deacons.

"Three hundred dollars," remarked the minister with some hesitation.

"I don't blame you for goin'," remarked the deacon, who had been a worldly man in his time, "but you should be more exact in your language. That isn't a 'call'; it's a 'raise.'"
