Town Council

The last meeting of a Town Council is always a serious and solemn matter. According to the statute made and provide the council outlives the passing of the old year, but as soon as the new year gets well settled in his seat, he bids them begone and make way for others. It is almost a universal rule that each councillor goes out of office less popular than when he was first born to civic life. Then he was municipality speaking, faultless, but being mortal he has not been able to please everybody and so somebody is vexed with him. Still while the real new man is apt to get the surprising vote to himself as well as everybody else, good service at the Board does count, and a councillor who has worked in good earnest, steered clear of graft and favouritism, and attended conscientiously to his duties, is pretty sure of a solid vote of fairminded citizens which will put him back in his seat, if he so desires. The public are not all ungrateful.

The final meeting of the Town Council was held on Tuesday evening of last week. The Mayor presided and about the board, in their accustomed seats, were Couns. Noble, Sutton, Hagerman, Burt, and Fisher.

The Town Treasurer's report is naturally of very great extent at this particular meeting. It showed in gross that the receipts were $38,657.73; expenditures $38,673.73 made up as by the following tables:

DOES THIS INTEREST YOU?

A prominent physician, famous for his success in the treatment of kidney and bladder diseases, attributes a great deal of his success to the following simple vegetable prescription:—
One ounce Fluid Extract Dandelion;
One ounce Compound Salutaria;
Four ounces Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla;
Mix, shake well, and take in teaspoonful doses after each meal and again at bedtime.
Your druggist can supply the ingredients, and the mixture can be prepared at home at very little expense.
This, the doctor says, acts directly on the kidneys assisting them to filter the poisons from the blood and expel them in the urine, at the same time restoring the kidneys to healthy, normal action.
We feel that a great many readers will be pleased to learn of this simple prescription, and knowing the ability of the physician whose formula it is, we do not hesitate to recommend it to any sufferer.

The committee on licenses and by-laws reported and their report which was verbal was submitted by the town clerk Mr. Hartley, who explained that he had a talk with Mr. Clinch when he was here who thought that the Fire License By-Law could well be amended by allowing, within the district, the erection of certain buildings such as dwelling houses, churches and warehouses provided metal or some or some such fire proof roofing should be placed on the buildings. The committee recommended that the town clerk be authorized to confer with the Board of Fire underwriters on the subject.

Coun. Noble recommended on behalf of the License Committee that store keepers who do not mean to do bonified business within the town, be subject to a license of $10 per day, $30 per week, $60 per month and $100 for a year. This is a marked raise in the by-law which formerly provided for $5, $20, $30 and $60 respectively. This by-law is supposed to aim at people who come in town to carry on slaughter sales of goods. The Board accepted the report of the committee.

A committee appointed to look into the matter of a claim for damages to his cellar, preferred by E. J. Clark, reported that they did not have time to give the matter proper consideration, recommended that the matter be over to be taken up on the second night of meeting of the new council.

The report of John A. Lindsay, Scott Act Inspector was submitted. It showed that 55 cases had been tried, in some of which convictions were obtained and in some dismissals were found. The total of fines imposed was $1050 00, of which $500 00 had been paid, the remaining standing over. In several cases fines were allowed to stand the parties having announced that they would quit the business. These were largely pocket peddling cases. The report was referred to the Scott Act committee.

After some routine business the council adjourned.

At the adjournment the Mayor invited the members of the council and officials of the board and the representatives of the press to an oyster supper at McLean's restaurant, which was heartily enjoyed by all present.

His Advantage.

John and Willie were twins. Their best friend and playfellow was Archie, who is gifted with red hair and a hot temper. One day they quarrelled and Archie started home in a huff. The unsympathetic twins called after him. "Red head! Red head!" Archie seemed not to hear until the insult was repeated, then he turned and called back—"Don't care if I am red-headed, I ain't twins and folks can tell me apart."

Shake in a Bottle.

Now is the time when the doctor gets busy, and the patent medicine manufacturers reap the harvest, unless great care is taken to dress warmly and keep the feet dry. This is the advice of an old eminent authority, who says that Rheumatism and Kidney trouble weather is here, and also tells what to do in case of an attack.

Get from any good prescription pharmacy one-half ounce Fluid Extract Dandelion, one ounce Compound Kargon, three ounces Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla. Mix by shaking in a bottle and take a teaspoonful after meals and at bedtime.

Just try this simple home-made mixture at the first sign of Rheumatism, or if your back aches or you feel that the kidneys are not acting just right. This is said to be a splendid kidney regulator, and almost certain remedy for all forms of Rheumatism, which is caused by uric acid in the blood, which the kidneys fail to filter out. And one can easily prepare this at home and at small cost.

Druggists in this town and vicinity, when shown the prescription, stated that they can either supply these ingredients, or, if our readers prefer, they will compound the mixture for them.

Queer Bequests of Some English Folk.

(London Globe.)

Duchess Dudley, dying in 1655, left $500 per annum for the redemption of poor English Christian slaves from the hands of the barbarous Turk, and in the year 1725 Thomas Belton of Hoxton proved his enmity toward his own kith and kin by cutting off his three sons and his brother Timothy with a shilling apiece, while he showed his sympathy for his distressed countrymen by leaving the bulk of his property, about $125,000, in trust to the Ironmongers' company. One-half of the interest of this large amount he directed should be expended in ransoming British subjects from slavery in Turkey or Barbary.

An old lady of Barton, Lincolnshire wolds, was able to direct her steps by the sound of the curfew bell from St. Peter's church. In graceful remembrance she conveyed a piece of land of 13 acres to the parish clerk and his successors on condition that they and he ring the bell from 7 to 8 p. m. daily, Sunday excepted, from the carrying of the first load of barley until Shrove Tuesday. The curfew bell is still rung in England in some place in accordance with old bequests.

Some persons had a curious predilection for their own names—a predilection which found vent occasionally in a puerile manner. Thus one Henry Green left his estates to his sister, with the proviso that she should give four green vests lined with green galloon to four poor men every Christmas, and his fellow townsman Gray directed that a sum should be spent annually in providing six old women with vests of gray cloth and 40 shillings in providing three old men with coats of the same materials.

The Retort Courteous.

At a dinner in Philadelphia, Archbishop Ryan and Rabbi Joseph Krauskopf were seated side by side. In front of them was one of those celebrated Virginia hams which make the mouths of men water. Turning to his neighbour, the archbishop inquired graciously—"My dear rabbi, when may I help you to some of the delicious ham?" With ever-ready wit, the rabbi smilingly replied—"At your wedding, your grace."

No Obstacle.

One of the best stories told by the late Lord Brampton, is due to a Scotsman. Lord Watson told him at Grey's Inn of a very stupid and very rude Scots judge, who once, when a celebrated advocate was arguing before him, pointed with one forefinger to one of his ears, and with the other to the opposite one. "You see this, Mr.—" "I do my Lord," said the advocate. "Well, it just goes in here, and comes out there!" "I do not doubt it, my Lord," said the advocate. "What is there to prevent it?"
