PAIN

Pain in the head—pain anywhere, has its cause Pain is congestion, pain is blood pressure—nothing else usually. At least, so says Dr. Shoop, and to prove it he has created a little pink tablet. That tablet—called Dr. Shoop's Headache Tablet—conveys blood pressure away from pain centers.
Its effect is charming, pleasingly delightful. Gently, though safely, it surely equalizes the blood circulation.

If you have a headache, it's blood pressure.
If it's painful periods with women, same cause.
If you are sleepless, restless, nervous, it's blood congestion—blood pressure. That surely is a certainty, for Dr. Shoop's Headache Tablets stop it in 20 minutes, and the tablets simply distribute the unnatural blood pressure.
Bruise your finger, and doesn't it get red, and swell, and pain you? Of course it does. It's congestion, blood pressure. You'll find it where pain is—always. It's simply Common Sense.
We sell at 25 cents, and cheerfully recommend

The Only Child.
(Harper's Bazar.)

There are two sides to every question and the people who argue that it is better to rear a small family, and do it well than to have a family too large to be properly supported and educated, are probably just as honestly patriotic as the holders of the other view. But apart from national considerations, the effect upon a child itself of belonging to a small family also has two sides. The family with an only child is remarkably frequent now-days, whereas in old times it used to be considered a calamity only next to a childless home. And the old opinion has much to back it. For the parents who wish only for one or two children, in order to do their best by them, are in extreme danger of thereby doing the very worst possible by them instead.

An only child, whether his mother means it to be so or not, finds his whole little world, as he grows up, conditioned for him. All the family hopes converge on him. He is the important member. Either he is spoiled—and how dreadful only children can be all the world knows—or in the effort not to spoil him he is made more or less of a prig. The normal child is one of a group—yielding some points daily in his normal intercourse with brothers and sisters and gaining others; seeing life as a place to give and take, a place where he must adapt himself to what others do and are. No older person, however anxious and conscientious, can teach a child what other children teach unconsciously. To be one of the younger children of a good-sized family is an education in itself, and an inestimable advantage in life.

A tickling cough, from any cause, is quickly stopped by Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. And it is so thoroughly harmless and safe, that Dr. Shoop tells mothers everywhere to give it without hesitation even to very young babies. The wholesome green leaves and tender stems of a longhealing mountainous shrub, furnish the curative properties to Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. It calms the cough, and heals the sore and sensitive bronchial membranes. No opium, no chloroform, nothing harsh used to injure or suppress. Simply a resinous plant extract, that helps to heal aching lungs.
The Spaniards call this shrub— which the Doctor uses. "The Sacred Herb" Demand Dr. Shoop's.
Take no other. Sold by all dealers.

A Walking Suit.

Walking suits are charming, and some in a number of smart guises. A French homespun is artistically designed with skirt and coat, and shown with a charming blouse of silk Toscos. The front of the skirt is made with a panel which extends in a loose fold around the fold and there is an extra trimming of flat bands of braid above the fold of homespun.

The coat is trimmed with panne velvet, which forms the revers, collars and cuffs. It fastens at the front with a vast of white eather of the softest, finest quality. There is a wide tuck on either side of the back and front, the tucks ending above the waist line in front under bands of the cloth which are cut in one with the coat.

The bands are ornamented with a row of velvet buttons. At the back the skirt part of the coat is tucked from under the panel, while the shoulder extends over the upper part of the sleeve, the sleeves being attached to the armhole with a tuck. The bottoms of the sleeves are finished with cuffs of velvet, as previously mentioned. The cuffs, in turn, are ornamented with crochet buttons and simulated buttonholes.

Why Suffer from Rheumatism?

Do you know that rheumatic pains can be relieved? If you doubt this just try one application of Chamberlain's Plain Balm. It will make rest and sleep possible, and that certainly means a great deal to any one afflicted with rheumatism. For sale by all dealers.

Each one of us is bound to make the little circle in which he lives better and happier.
Each one of us is bound to see that out of that small circle the greatest good may flow.
Each one of us may have fixed in his mind the thought that out of a single house may flow influences that shall stimulate the whole commonwealth.

Before putting a cake in the oven sprinkle a pinch of flour at the bottom. The oven is the right heat if the flour turns a golden brown in about a minute. If the flour turns black the oven is too hot; if a dirty yellow the oven is too cool.

VESPER.

Life is short;
The crystal pealing of the sunset bells Rolls from the golden glory of the molten west,
And faintest strains of angel music steal Down from the endless vistas of the Place of Rest;
All thro' the purpling twilight perfume floats, As from myriad unseen censers swung By those mysterious forms with eyes aglow And hands to highest heaven in rapture flung.
The roaring tumult of a busy world Stills in the perfect calm of closing day.
And from the sombre curtain of the night
One glittering star pours forth its mellow ray,
And we have lived,
And loved, and suffered, won or lost;
Have stumbled on our way with many a fall, Yet He whose mercy far exceeds His wrath Will stoop to pity and condone them all.
So let us live remembering life is short,
That twilight bells will peal for us one day.
Ushering us thro' portals of the night Into those realms where stands a vast array Of countless legions who have gone before,
And wait to bid us welcome
On the farther shore.

Mistook The Quantity.

John D. Rockefeller, jr., in one of the last addresses that he made to his Sunday school class before abandoning it, said of carefulness in business:

"Too many business men are careful on one side, their own side, only. Thus a coal-dealer whom I used to know shouted one afternoon to an employee who was driving out of the yard:

"Held on there, Jim! That coal can't have been weighed. It looks a trifle large for a ton to me."

"Jim shouted back:
" 'This ain't a ton, boss. It's two tons."
" 'Oh, all right,' said the dealer, in a mollified tone: 'Beg your pardon. Go ahead.'" —[Washington Star.

One of the jokes Lewis Carroll, the author of Alice-in Wonderland, didn't dare publish, according to his biographer, who found it among his papers, is the following:

A schoolboy asked, "What is the meaning of average?" at once replied, "The things hens lay eggs on."

When requested to explain his answer, the boy said: "I read in a book that hens lay on an average two hundred eggs a year!"

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy Benefits a man at Kingston, Jamaica.

Mr. W. O'Reilly Fogarty, who is a member of the City Council at Kingston, Jamaica, West Indies, writes as follows: "One bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy had good effect on a cough that was giving me trouble and I think I should have been more quickly relieved if I had continued the remedy. That it was beneficial and quick in relieving me there is no doubt and it is my intention to obtain another bottle." For sale by all deal-

As all good nurses know, an invalid's or convalescent's food should be dressed up in an attractive way to tempt the palate by means of the eyesight. A new way of seeing the special kind of foods which the doctor has recommended helps decidedly to stimulate the appetite, especially where a continuous variety in food cannot be given. A writer on invalid cooking says: "Remember that surprises are delightful to a sick person.
Never let the bill of fare, if possible, be known beforehand, and if you can disguise a well-know dish, so much the better. Beaten white of egg is a good fairy and serves you cheaply. Snowy white, or made golden brown in the oven, it may top many a dish concealing at one time a custard, at another a mould of chicken jelly, or even a cup of delicate apple sauce."
