Disquieting Revelations in Great Britain.

(Montreal Witness.)

The revelations made in England recently showing an amazing number of errors in dispensing, have been the cause of much perturbation and consternation among those using drugs. The numerous, mistakes are all the more surprising when it is known that the Pharmaceutical Society has raised the standard of examinations so high that it is most difficult for chemists, or, as we say. druggists, to get apprentices. Dr. Frank L. Teed, the public analyst for the city of London, is authority for the statement that about eighty-six out of every hundred of the perscriptions sent to him for examination were wrengly compounded; while one bottle was 55 per cent deficient in one drug and, another had 49 per cent. too little ferrous carbonate in its composition. Such serious errors in matters so vital would be incredible if the accusation was not made by a supreme authority. It is persumable that samples submitted were for some reason under suspicion, make the public all tne more willing to acquiesce in the present attitude of the medical profession with regard to the use of drugs. As a result of these disclosures, a circular letter has been issued by the city of London Health Department, warning all chemists might well take advantage of this warning and follow its example. A new school tells us that "medicine is a means of amusing a patient while nature cures disease." But even assuming that drugs are of little positive benefit, inaccurately complied prescriptions are always a menace of danger, and not infrequently have been of the cause of fatalities.

Uncle Reuben came back from the city, excited and nervous. He had gone to the city to transcact some law business connected with his farm, with a lawyer whose address Reuben carried along for memorandum.

"Wal," he began, after his wife, alarmed at his changed condition, had threatened to summon the doctor from the nearest village, if he would not explain its causes, "I had about th' skinniest shave from death this morning, I ever heard on! it waz in that lawyer's buildin', too. Y' see, I found th' right place an' started lookin' through the buildin' for his name an' number. Finally after walkin' up stairs for two hours, I set down all tired out on th' top step o' th' last stairway, completely discouraged.

" Where kin I find Lawyer Barnes office?' I asked a man hurryin' by me. He didn't stop, but just pointed his thumb at a young feller standin' inside a little cage-like room, chewin, gum like sixty. So I stepped over an' into this little room an' asked th' but even so the result is startling, and will boy if he waz Lawyer Barnes' clerk. 'No', he sez a bit fresh-like, 'but I'll see that y' see 'm!' Then that fresh young fellar hit th' wall a punch that did th' hull business!" Here Reuben paused to cover his eyes and shake all over. "He hadn't any more an' hit that wall, within is jurisdiction of the importance of when he disloged that room's git-rich-quick the subject. Health authorities everywhere fastenin's," he went on, when his spell was over, "an' th' hull floor o' that room fell right out an' daown them fifteen stories to th' ground, takin' me an' that young tellar with "Wal, thank God, here I be, Sarahy. How either o'sus escaped gittin' every bone in our bodies broke I don't know, an' an' don't care. All I know is that floor fell flat on th' ground an' we didn't lose our footin'. When that shock wus over I hugged th' young fellar for joy an' gave him a five dollar bill for openin' th' door an' lettin' me out ahead o' him. Then I hustled for home."

The Small_Yield Cow,

Dairying in the United States is depressed by one element that must forever stand in the way to block the dairymen from success. That element is the small-yield cow, and the she-steer that costs $40 or $50 a year for keep and returns her owner $25 to $35 for milk. Many a milk producer, with a herd of thirty such cows, representing an investment of $1,000 or $1,200, is losing money regularly, and must lose as long as he insists on operating with such cows. He can invest his $1,200 in, say, twelve cows that cost $100 apiece, and these cows will give more milk than his 30 scrubs give him. He would save the feed of eighteen cows, with all the hard labor and other costs of their keep, and he would be in the way to make money. There is in sight no change in farm and market conditions that promises ever to put a profit into dairying carried on with cows that average 1,000 to 1,500 quarts of milk a head per annum, and producers may as well open their eyes to this truth. The proposition to make milk with such cows is an absurdity, because it is proved beyond all possibility of doubt that they put more money into their milk. than they can hope ever to get out of it when it is sold in the market. The student of milk production is surprised every day to observe what a large number of herds he will find that averages less than 1,800 quarts of milk a head per annum. The owners of these herds say that they "cannot afford better cows." The truth is that they cannot 'afford these cows. One correspondent says that last summer, in a tour of over 300 so-called "dairy farms," he found less than twenty herds whose average yield was large enough to bring the cost of production inside of the net returns from their milk sold at the average price of the year. The twenty who owned these herds were making money. The other 180 owners were losing money on their small yield herds. The lesson is plain. The conclusion is inevitable .- New York Farmer.

A Message for Pile Sufferers FROM TWO LADIES WHO HAVE BEEN CURED OF EXTREMELY TORTURING CASES OF PILES BY

Dr. Chase's

Ointment.

Mrs. George H. Simser, Grant, Russell county, Ont., writes :- "Eleven years ago I began to suffer from piles, and as they caused keen distress, and became worse, I doctored for them, but with little or no avail. They were bleeding, itching and protruding, and oh! the torture I suffered at times can never be described. It was with suffering that the bowels moved, and, as nothing brought relief I could only endure the misery with an aching heart and without hope of cure.

"Finally a lady friend told me about Dr. Chase's Ointment cnring piles, and to my surprise I felt relief at once on using this ointment: the little tumors soon disappeared, the ulcers healed, and the bowels became regular. This was five years ago, and I have never been troubled with this terrible ailment since, a thousand thanks to Dr. Chase's Ointment.

Mrs. Capt. Clinansmith, Salvation Army, Essex, Oat., writes:-"It is with pleasure that I write to you in praise of Dr. Chase's Ointment. Two years ago I was taken with a severe attack of protruding piles, and be-came so bad that I had to keep my bed, and could lie in no position except on my stomach. Doctors could give me no help, and the various oils and ointments used proved of no avail.

"One Saturday night, when I was suffering untold agony, my husband went to the drug store for a box of Dr. Chase's Ointment, which I had heard of as a cure for piles. Although I had almost given up hope, to the wonder of those around me, I was able to be up and on my feet by Monday, and have had no difficulty from piles since. As a treat-ment for all kinds of sores and burns, Dr. Chase's Ointment works like magic.'

To persons who have given up looking for a cure of piles or hemorrhoids, this letter should bring new hope. There is, we believe, no more effective treatment for piles than Dr.

Ammonia and spirits of turpentine mixed in equal parts will take paint spots out of cloth, no matter how hard and dry they may be. Saturate the spots two or three times, then wash out in warm soapsuds. Glycerine is said to remove old tea and coffee stains. Wet the spot with cold water, cover with glycerine, and let stand two or three hours. Then wash with cold water and soap. If necessary repeat the process. Grass stains have ruined many a white dress. They may be taken out by soaking the discolored places in alcohol.
