WORK on the interior of the new opera house is being pushed along rapidly under the direction of Mr. Edgett, and it is the intention to have it ready for business the last of the present month. Men who are in the show business say it will not be surpassed by any opera house building in the province for beauty and convenience. The scenery is now being painted by artists from Boston who are specialists in their line, and the arrangements for shifting the same are the latest now in use. Messrs Hayden and Gibson, the proprietors, are to be congratulated on providing the townspeople with such an up-to-date place for amusements and functions of all kinds.

SPECIAL and very interesting meetings are to be held this week at the Salvation Army Citadel conducted by Adjutant Carter of St. John assisted by Capt Porter. The Meetings will be as follows: Thursday night (tomorrow) the subject will be "The largest cradle in the world, who is in it and who rocks it." Saturday night "A mock auction, Sale of children." Silver collection at the door to both of these meetings. On Monday next week the Adjutant assisted by Mrs. Carter of St. John will put on a pathetic Drama in four acts entitled "The Out Cast." This promises to be a good thing and the Adjutant has performed it to full houses in big cities and many souls have been brought to the Saviour just by attending it. Admission 15 cts. It may be said at this time as this is the Army's self denial week that the income will be to help the Officers and Corps. Everybody invited.—Com.
