Rheumatism

I have found a tried and tested cure for Rheumatism! Not a remedy that will straighten the distorted limbs of chronic cripples, nor turn bony growths back to flesh again. That is impossible. But I can now surely kill the pains and pang of this deplorable disease.

The Summer Fashions.

Grace Margaret Gould, the dress expert, says in WOMAN'S HOME COMPANION for May: "There are two distinct types of dress this summer, both emphasizing the straight up-and-down effect. One is the tailored coat suit showing in many instances a cutaway coat, which gives the hipless effect, and a skirt comparatively narrow at the bottom—that is, it is made without the sudden flare that the tailored skirt used to have.

"The other type of dress is the cut-in-one gown, and great will be its favor throughout the summer. In the form of the new princess jumper this cut-in-one dress is a most practical gown to own. It can fasten in the front quite as easily as the back, and it is a model equally good for silk or linen.

"This style dress is always cut out at the neck, and is generally sleeveless, to show the guimpe, or trimmed just sufficiently over the shoulders to give a modified large armhole effect. Or it may be made, as a number of the imported models are, so that it has much the effect of a polonaise cut out at the neck, but having a sleeve which is cut in one with the bodice.

"Now, of course, there are many variations of these two basic ideas in dress, but whatever the fashionable model this summer, it is sure to be simple in design, lacking entirely any exaggeration in form.

"Perhaps this idea is better shown in the sleeve than anywhere else, which has diminished in a pronounced way in size within the past six months, and now in most cases follows very closely the outline of the arm.

Weak women should read my "Book No. 4 For Women." It was written expressly for women who are not well. The Book No. 4 tells of Dr. Shoop's "Night Cure" and just how those soothing, healing, antiseptic suppositories can be successfully applied. The book, and strictly confidential medical advice is entirely free. Write Dr. Shoop, Racine, Wis. The Night Cure is sold by All Dealers.

Keeping His Word.
A house-painter in a New Hampshire village was proceeding down "the main street" one day when he was accosted by a fellow-townsmen.

"Hello, Tom!" called the latter. "Why, I thought you were working on old Spinner's house to-day."

"I was about to commence the job," said the painter, "when the old man picked a quarrel with me. He said he'd put the paint on himself."

"Do you think he'll do it?"
"Well," said the painter, with a smile, "when I passed just now, that is where he had put a great deal of it."—Edwin Tarrisse.

Why He Married Again.
An Ohio lawyer tells of a client of his—a German farmer, a hard-working, plain, blunt man—who lost his wife not long ago. The lawyer had sought him out to express his sympathy; but to his consternation the Teuton laconically observed:

"But I am again married."
"You don't tell me!" exclaimed the legal light. "Why, it has been but a week or two since you buried your wife!"
"Dot's so, my frent; but she is as dead as effer the will be."

Never.
(Washington Star.)
"Are you superstitious?"
"Not a bit," replied the man who is ashamed of his little weaknesses. "I have nothing to do with superstition. In fact, I have observed that whenever I begin to take notice of signs I always have bad luck."

Where Women Vote.

There is one New York Congressman who will hereafter be more careful in choosing his quotations while talking with ladies of recent acquaintance.

He passed last summer at the seashore, and on the hotel piazza one morning the conversation turned upon politics. A lady from a Western State had just been recounting some of the difficulties attendant upon the fight for good government. "And do you know," she said in conclusion, "the grafters were so strongly entrenched in control in our city that it was only by a combination of the best elements of all the parties that we were able to defeat them? The Reform Party elected as Mayor the most prominent liquor-dealer in town, and for district attorney, the president of our Temperance League.

"Our Congressman laughed. "Well, well," said he, "it is certainly true, isn't it, that politics makes strange bed-fellows?"

The Western lady drew herself up to her full height and a slight blush suffused her cheek. "I consider such a remark entirely uncalled for," she said in frigid tones, and immediately changed the subject.

"I seem to have offended her in some way," said the New York man to the friend who had introduced him, "though I can't imagine how."

"It was your last remark that did it," replied his friend. "Of course you couldn't be expected to know it, but the president of their Temperance League is a woman.—Henry H. Day.

Robbed at Home.

(Lowell Courier-Citizen.)
It is painful to learn that the only ports which undertook to fleece, rob and swindle the bluejackets of the fleet were those of their own country. The ships stopped at various points along the way and then the men had shore leaves. They spent their money freely, but no reports came that they were over-charged for anything they bought. Extortion they met for the first time when the Californians stopped bombarding them with flowers long enough to rob them right and left. In Los Angeles they were taxed at the rate of $12 a day for a room 50 cents for a bottle of beer and 10 cents for a piece of pie. In Santa Barbar two of them were charged $7 for two small pieces of steak, coffee and four eggs. Four others were held up for $12 for an ordinary supper. These later stories do not agree with the first that came overland to the effect that the sailors were not allowed to pay for anything. In a sense they were not; settling such charges was not payment; it was robbery. That 400 bluejackets stormed and cleaned out one of the restaurants is not surprising. The nation's defenders are surly entitled to better treatment than this among their own people.

Billy "Two Saw Dead.

The death occurred recently at French Village, some miles above the city, of William Goodine, better known as "Billy Two Saw." Billy was one of the best known figures along the St. John river, a great pedestrian and annually he travelled on foot up the river as far as Garnd Falls or Madawaska county and sometimes as far as Quebec, notwithstanding his lameness which caused him always to carry a big stick. Billy, who was 59 years old, suffered a paralytic stroke last winter and never recovered from the effects.—Gleaner.

Will Oppose Tobique Dam.

President Chestnut of the New Brunswick Fish, Forest & Game Protective Association, states that the bill for incorporation of the Northern Pulp & Paper Company with permission to dam the Tobique River at the Narrows would be opposed by the Association on account of the Tobique being the only spawning ground for salmon that is left and also on the modern idea that public utilities should not be given to private enterprises but that they should be administered for the benefit of the people.—Gleaner.

A Subtle Difference.

Mrs. Blank, wife of a prominent minister near Boston, had in her employ a recently engaged colored cook as black as the proverbial ace of spades. One day Mrs. Blank said to her:
"Matilda, I wish you would have oatmeal quite often for breakfast. My husband is very fond of it. He is Scotch, and you know that the Scotch eat a great deal of oatmeal."
"Oh, he's Scotch, is he?" said Matilda.
"Well, now, do you know, I was thinkin' all along dat he wasn't des like us."—Woman's Home Companion for May.

"Sunshine" Furnace

Where Shaking is Respectable

A Draft off furnace dome, with no other assistance, is powerless to overcome the dust nuisance in shaking time. Only surplus dust rises of itself above the fire. Great bulk descends into ash-pit, and unless legitimate outlet is therein provided, dust will escape through ash-door slits and into operator's face.

In "Sunshine" Furnace the legitimate dust outlet is provided. It's a great big dust-pipe running straight from ash-pit to dome, thence to chimney. When big pipe damper is opened, all dust in ash-pit ascends to dome; then, when direct drafts are opened, all dust passes up chimney.

Always the clean and quick dust route in "Sunshine" Furnace—via grate, to pan, to dust-pipe, to dome, to chimney, to open air.
