"Why I Recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills."

The Particulars of a Remarkable Cure Told by a Presbyterian Clergyman—The Sufferer Brought Back From Death's Door.

St. Andrew's Manse, Cardigan, P.E.I., Jan. 1908.

Though I have never been sick myself, and have not had occasion to use Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, I thought you ought to know of the remarkable cure they have wrought in Mr. Olding's case.
During a visit to my home in Merigomish, N. S., some years ago, I was grieved to find our next door neighbor and friend, Michael Olding, very low. "He is not expected to live," my mother informed me, "and you must go over and see him as he is liable to pass away at any moment." "Not expected to live," that was the opinion not only of the doctor who attended him, but of his wife and family as well. Upon visiting him myself I found abundant evidence to confirm their opinion.

Mr. Olding had for years been afflicted with asthma and bronchitis, but now a complication of diseases was ravishing his system. He had been confined to his bed for months and was reduced to a skeleton. Though evidently glad to see me, he conversed with the greatest difficulty, and seemed to realize that it was the beginning of the end. He was daily growing weaker; his feet were swollen to twice their natural size, and the cold hand of death was upon his brow. "It's no use," he said feebly, "the doctor's medicine is not helping me and I am going down rapidly." I prayed with him as for a man soon to pass into eternity, and when I took his hand in parting it was the last time I expected to see him in the flesh.

Three years later, while on another visit to my mother, Michael Olding was seemingly

The river is partially clear at this point.

A Notion from Paris.

And now for a new little notion just over from Paris—i. e., a coat and skirt costume, with the skirt of one color and the coat of something else, but braided over with the color of the skirt. An instance quoted consisted of a mauve cloth skirt and a biscuit-colored coat braided in mauve. What think you of that, or what of the reverse idea—the coat mauve, and the skirt of biscuit, mauve braided? One can vary the idea, of course. One can vary the idea, of course. How would you like a skirt of mole color and a coat of pale blue, mole braided, or else gray braided rose face-cloth, with a gray skirt and perhaps a gray hat, and just all gray save for a knot of roses at the side in varying shades of pink, from which, like a gray film, might rise a mass of osprey?

Spring Fishing Number Of Roq and Gun

With the advent of April the majority of sportsmen turn their thoughts to fishing, and "Rod and Gun & Motor Sports in Canada," published by W. J. Taylor, Woodstock, Ont., has published a Spring Fishing number for the month. There are stories of fishing in Ontario, Nova Scotia, New Brunswick, Alberta and British Columbia, while an article descriptive of Kalki—the new rod wood—is of deep interest to fishermen. A fine survey of the whole question of International Control of International Waters by Mr. C. H. Wilson is worth careful perusal, embodying as it does a long and careful study of the whole question from both sides. A paper on Guides and Their Patrons, written from a guide's point of view by a veteran guide ought to lead to a controversy as exciting as that on dogs versus still hunters. Wolf hunting, moose hunting, deer hunting and preservation are but a few of the many good things in the number, while How One Settler Helps the Deer, should prove as widespread in its interest as the former paper by the same settler on How Settler Treats the Deer. Indeed the many excellencies of the number are apparent from the opening paper to the closing page.

PE-RU-NA SCORES

Another Triumph in Canada.

"A Relief to Breathe Freely Once More."

MR. G. W. MARTIN, Hartford, Ont., choir leader at St. Paul's Episcopal church, writes:

"Peruna is a wonderful remedy for catarrhal troubles.

"I have been troubled with catarrh for a great many years, and always trying something for it, but was able only to secure temporary relief until I used Peruna.

"Only five bottles rid my system of all traces of catarrh, and I have not noticed the slightest trouble for several months.

"My head was stopped up, my breath offensive, and it is a relief to be able to breathe freely once more."
