CAPTAINS DALZELL and Andrews leave tomorrow morning for St. John to take up work there. There farewell meeting was conducted last night at the barracks and was well attended. They were both very capable officers who, during the short time they had spent here, have done a great work and made hosts of friends. We regret very much their departure from Woodstock. Their successors, Adjutant and Mrs. Carter, will arrive Saturday at noon and a great welcome meeting will be conducted that evening at the Citadel. Everybody invited to datten.—J. N.

MISS LOUISE NEALES, daughter of Rev. Scovill Neales, has graduated this year from Edgehill, Windsor, with unusually high honors. She practically swept everything offered for competition at this institution. Among her winnings is the gold medal for knowledge of Bible history and prayer book, the Governor-General's medal for the highest aggregate on all subjects, first prize in history and first in literature. Miss Neales also took the local examinations at Kings College in religious knowledge, history and literature leading her classes in those subjects. Her record as a student has been almost phenomenal and her prize winnings undoubtedly show the best record made by a student at the institution.—Sussex Record.

Accidental Drowning.

Albert Sparrah of Newburg was drowned on Thursday morning while at work on the new C. P. R. track near Hartland. His horse was being driven by a young man, who, seeing the danger of the horse backing over the embankment into the St. John river, jumped out of the cart, but Mr. Sparrah, who was quite handy, wishing to save the horse caught it by the head, and he with the horse and cart went over the embankment into the deep water and it was impossible to make a rescue. He leaves a widow who was Miss Frame and three children. About two months ago the deceased lost a horse at the same place and in the same manner. At the present writing the body has not been recovered. Deceased was about 35 years of age. He was a member of the Independent Order of Foresters in this town. The sympathy of all goes out to the afflicted widow and children.
