

The Message.

I hardly noticed how de summer time done away
 An' de autumn come a-rappin' at de do'
 Cause de breeze kep' on a-singin' an' de blossoms was as gay
 An' de sunshine was as smilin' as befo'.
 I kind o' got to feelin' all contented an' secure
 Like dar wasn' any trouble loasin' roun',
 A-siggerin' dat my comfort an' my happiness was sure,
 When a leaf come slowly driftin' to de ground.
 It jes' got tired o' clingin' 'cause it knew de cold was near.
 It wasn't no use waitin' foh a freeze.
 An' soon a comrade lef' de limb above an' floated near,
 An' still de sun kep' smilin' th'oo de trees,
 An' de flowers kep' on a-bloomin'; but I sholy got de blues
 An' de wind took on a solemn winter sound.
 'Twere like a telegraft dat carried mighty mo'nful news,
 Dat yaller leaf dat fluttered to de ground.

Health and Morals.

The close relation of body and mind in the matter of physical health, of which so much is said by various religious and semi-religious organizations and by a class of professional "healers," is considered from a fresh point of view by an English clergyman. His argument is that no person who is healthy can be wholly bad. The clergyman further expressed the conviction that there is a close connection between health and morals, and that the man who has reached middle life in a sound bodily condition thereby proves that he has led a decent life. In support of his position he advanced the assertion that a large proportion of the convicts in English prisons are physical degenerates. From this it would seem that he does not confine his designation of "badness" to the vices involved in intemperance and other forms of sensual dissipation, but, since convicts are guilty of many things apart from these, as theft, burglary, forgery, and the like, holds that they are led to the perpetration of even this class of crimes by a defective bodily state.

To Build Up After Grip

There is no restorative treatment comparable to Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Food.

Few, if any, diseases so quickly and thoroughly exhaust the human strength and vitality as the gripe and pneumonia. A few days sickness and then weeks or even months are required to get back the old vigor.

But by means of Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Food to sharpen the appetite and to supply in condensed and easily assimilated form the elements which go to form rich, red blood you can hasten recovery and restoration to a remarkable degree.

Without such assistance many drag out a miserable existence of weakness only to become victims to some dreadful disease.

When the blood is thin and weak and the nervous system exhausted, no matter from what cause, Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Food can be positively relieved upon to gradually and naturally build up the system.

Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Food, 50 cents a box, at all dealers or Edmansons, Bates & Co., Toronto, Ont. To protect you against imitations the portrait and signature of A. W. Chase, M. D., the famous Receipt Book author, are on every box.

The Parvenu.

A stout over-dressed woman sat talking to a friend. She said:

"Yes, since John came into his money we have a nice country house, horses, cows, pigs, hens, and—"

"That must be charming," broke in the other. "You can have all the fresh eggs you want and—"

"Oh, well," hastily interrupted the first speaker, "of course the hens can lay if they like to, but in our position it isn't at all necessary."—[Harpers.]

Go to the blood, if you are to drive out Rheumatism. A Wisconsin physician, Dr. Shoop, does this with his Rheumatic Remedy—and with seeming success. Rub-ons, says the doctor, never did cure Rheumatism. It is more than skin deep—it is constitutional, always. Because of this principle, Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Remedy is perhaps the most popular in existence. It goes by word of mouth from one to another, everywhere. Grateful patients gladly spread results. It is an act of humanity to tell the sick of a way to health. Tell some sick one. Sold by all dealers.

COTTAGE CHEESE.—Cottage cheese is best made in a porcelain vessel. Cook slowly, drain in a cheesecloth bag pinned to a clothes line with clothes pin. Never squeeze bag, as this hardens cheese. Place in cool place and when ready to serve season with salt, pepper and cream. Do not spoil a delicious dish by connecting it into a fancy salad.

BEEF LOAF.—Use two pounds chopped beef, one cup rolled crackers, three eggs, well beaten, two tablespoons butter, one tablespoon salt, a little pepper, and one cup creamy milk. Mix in a smooth loaf; put in a deep pan and bake in oven for one hour.

Does the Baby Thrive

If not, something must be wrong with its food. If the mother's milk doesn't nourish it, she needs Scott's Emulsion. It supplies the elements of fat required for the baby. If baby is not nourished by its artificial food, then it requires

SCOTT'S EMULSION

Half a teaspoonful three or four times a day in its bottle will have the desired effect. It seems to have a magical effect upon babies and children. A fifty-cent bottle will prove the truth of our statements.

A Frenchman in London.

New York Post.

One of the most interesting of recent French visitors to London, "Mars" (Maurice Bonvoison,) the artist whose humorous and satirical sketches have kept France laughing for twenty years, left British shores the other Saturday.

Before his departure from London "Mars" expressed great admiration for the policemen and omnibuses. He had much to say concerning Englishwomen. "your really well-dressed women women," he said, equal the best-dressed French-women—your middle-class and working-class women are not well-dressed in French eyes. Our lower classes are better turned out—they have a better eye for a line.

"Look at the poise of your women's hats. It makes me laugh, as I stroll about, to see their heads down a valley under a roof of chiffon and feathers—or, one has to look round the corner of their ears to find them. Frenchwomen know the 'sit' of a hat much better.

"But your women especially your young women, have the freedom of a bird, so sweet and natural are they, so different from the stiff Frenchwoman. And what I particularly notice is that your women—regard them as wives, sisters, sweethearts—seem the compliments of the men. They are just the perfect other half, the exact being one expects.

"Women in London walk so well. Our women mostly 'mince' or ride. Frenchmen and women might cross to London if only to see the women walk. They are so energetic.

"Yes! the White City is bright; but there are too many bands about."

Knew His Business.

The Leroy "Reporter" tells this story about John E. Watrous of Burlington, Kans., one of the deputy collectors of internal revenue: Travelling along a country road Mr. Watrous was attracted by frightful screams coming from a little house not far from the road. Hurriedly tying his horse he ran to the house and found a little boy had swallowed a quarter, and his mother, not knowing what to do, was frantic. Mr. Watrous caught the little fellow by the heels, and, holding him up, gave him a few shakes, whereupon the coin dropped to the floor.

"Well, mister," said the grateful mother, "you certainly know how to get it out. Are you a doctor?"

"No, madam," replied Watrous. "I'm a collector of internal revenue."—[Topeka Capital.]

Jack rabbits are said to be so numerous in the Antelope valley of California that the ranchmen are in despair. The animals are becoming so fierce that they are actually breaking down the fences around the adjacent fields and eating crops down to the roots. Not content with this, they are swarming into the desert towns and invading the front yards of the dwellers. The citizens of Lancaster turned out recently and made a round-up. They put a fence across the road between fences surrounding fields on either side, and in a short time drove in and killed with clubs over 500 jack rabbits. The people of the valley are considering the advisability of inviting Los Angeles to join in a general slaughter. They think several hundred men and boys, on horseback, might be able to kill 40,000 of the cottontails.

Being Accurate.

Kate (with scorn)—"She's not washing her face—she's washing her feet and wiping 'em on her face."—[Judge's Library.]

What to Wear.

Capes have sprung into style prominence. They are not only much used for evening wraps, but discriminating women of perfect taste in dressing, are also wearing them over elegant afternoon gowns. Many of the most successful capes are simple in cut, relying upon artistic decoration for their beautiful effect.

In suitings and cloakings, plain and striped wool fabrics prevail. The high novelty for dinner, ball and reception dresses is very soft finished satin.

All colors will be worn. Blues and browns are most prominent in walking suits. Black is to be more worn for both day and evening than for several seasons. Few all white tolets will be worn. Greens are in favor, also grays. There are handsome reds and lovely wistaria shades. In general, colors for the street will be dark.

For walking, traveling and general utility wear, two-piece tailored suits are worn by well dressed women. Their style consists in high-grade materials, correct lines, and perfection of tailoring.

Suit coats are semi-fitting, 30 to 36 inches long, according to the height of the wearer. Plaited skirts are preferred with the longer coats, as their lines conform better to those of the coats.

Line is new fashion shibboleth. Suits, cloaks and dresses to day must be designed, cut and made by style experts who study the lines of all figures, and produce models that are harmonious throughout, and becoming.

Tested Receipts.

PRUNE SOUFFLE.—Soak half a pound of prunes over night. On the morrow drain them well, remove the stones, and mince the prunes finely. Whip the whites of seven eggs to a standing foam. Beat in quickly six spoonfuls of powdered sugar; whip the minced prunes into this meringue, turn into a buttered pudding dish and bake in a hot oven. Twenty minutes should send it to table hot and high—a dream of lightness and deliciousness. Serve whipped cream as sauce.

FRENCH PAN CAKES.—Beat together six eggs and a half pound of flour. Melt four ounces of butter and add to the batter, with one ounce of sugar and a half pint of milk. Put a spoonful at a time into buttered frying pans and spread evenly on the surface.

A Doctor's Statement
