

The Famous Pedestrian

Gentlemen:—
 "I was a martyr to catarrh of the head, throat and stomach. I was so bad the doctors feared consumption. I tried many physicians and medicines. A friend suggested Psychine. I tried it and it was the only thing ever did me any good. I am now perfectly well. It is the greatest remedy the world has ever known. I do not need it for my health now but I use it as a strengthener for my walking matches. I owe much of my physical endurance to Psychine."

JAMES REYNOLDS,
 Port Hope, Ont.

Psychine is the greatest cure for catarrh of the head, throat or stomach in the world. It is a wonderful tonic and strengthener of run down system, acting directly on all the vital organs, giving youthful vigor and strength to the system. At all druggists 50c. and $1. or Dr. T. A. Prize List of School Exhibit Woodstock Exhibition, September 22nd, 23rd, 24th, 1908.

At the last Exhibition of the Carleton County Agricultural Society held in Woodstock, September, 1906, the Educational Exhibit proved so attractive a feature that the Management have decided to repeat it this year at their Exhibition on September 22, 23, 24, and hope to make it even better than before. A very liberal prize list has been arranged, open to all the schools of the county. No entrance fee will be charged on these exhibits, and each teacher is respectfully requested to take the opportunity of sending as large an exhibit as possible.

All exhibits should bear the name, grade, school and post office address of the exhibitor and should be in the hands of the secretary not later than September 22nd.

Each exhibitor is requested to take charge of his property at the close of the exhibition.

September 24th will be Children's Day and complimentary tickets will be supplied all pupils and teachers wishing to attend. In order that no one may be omitted, each teacher is requested to communicate with the secretary as early as possible, stating the number of tickets that will probably be required by his school.

The field sports will be held on Children's Day.

The management are making special arrangements with the railway for accommodations and reduced rates. They are also asking the Board of Education to declare Children's Day a holiday for all those attending the exhibition.

All teachers attending should register with the secretary before leaving the grounds.

Sudden Death of Mr. James A. Gallop.

A sudden fatality took place this morning at Hilyard's mill, Strait Short, when Mr. James A. Gallop, who had been apparently in his usual good health fell to the floor and expired. The whistle had just blown for the men to begin work and Mr. Gallop was standing near the stove machine talking to some of his fellow workmen when he was seen to reel and press his hands to his heart. The men hurried to his aid and efforts were made to revive him, but it was seen in a few minutes that he had breathed his last. Dr. Roberts was hurriedly summoned, but Mr. Gallop was dead when he arrived. The cause of death was heart failure. He had been ailing more or less for the past two years, but had never been confined to his home.

Mr. Gallop was sixty-three years of age and had been a trusted employe of Messrs. Hilyard Bros. for the past forty-three years. He was born at Wicklow, Carleton County, and has lived in this city for forty-five years. He was very prominent in temperance circles having been for many years a valued member of Alexandra Temple of Honor. His wife was Annie Burk, of this city, who survives him. He leaves two sons, Fred and Charles both of this city and eight daughters, Mrs. Charles White, of Washade-moak, Mrs. Fred Miller, Mrs. R. G. Tiner, Mrs. R. A. Christie and Misses Annie, Bessie Emma and Lillie. He is also survived by seven brothers, Charles, Alfred of Robinson, Me., George of Boston, and James, Stanley, Byron and Henry of Victoria county.—St. John Globe.

Death of Sedgfield Webber.

The death of Mr. Sedgfield Webber took place on Tuesday at St. Stephen. Mr. Webber leaves a widow and four sisters, Mrs. John K. Gillespie, Calais; Mrs. Alice Hartford, Portland; Mrs. Robert Kirkpatrick, Militown, and Miss Nellie Webber, St. Stephen, and two brothers, Fred Webber, Woodstock, and Harry M. Webber, of the St. Croix Courier. Mr. Webber's age was 53 years and eight months. He was a staunch temperance worker and a member of old Howard division S. of T., for many years assistant superintendent of the Methodist Sunday school and a valued member of the Methodist official board and of the trustee board of that church. He conducted a dry goods business for several years with Duncan Stewart under the name of Stewart & Webber, which passed into the hands of Manchester Robertson, Allison, Ltd., of St. John, for whom Mr. Webber was agent.

When small pieces of pie-crust are left from making pies, instead of forming them into tarts, as is usually done, secure some round hardwood sticks about four inches long, and, after the pieces of crust are rolled out thin, cut them into narrow strips with a jagged iron, flour the sticks and roll the strips around them, letting one edge drop over the other. Place these on a tin and put in a hot oven to bake. When the crust has got partly cool, slide the stick out. When serving fill the spaces with jelly, whipped cream or marmalade, and the family will be delighted with a new dish.

Novel Care of Babies.

Mr. Fred Roscommon, a British officer, and something of an explorer in South America, was chatting with some Toronto friends, when he told of an experience he had with mothers in the interior of the Amazon country.

"I had come to a point," he said, "where my best guides were dead or sick. I needed help to push on to my goal. An Amazon village was near, and to this I repaired.

"Not a man was at home. The village was in charge of the women—tall, bronze-colored, handsome females—each with one or two babies at her heels. They were jolly babies, if born in savagery. They laughed up in your face, and they were clean, because they did not wear clothes, and were taught to live in the water as much as on the land.

"I made the women understand that I wished to be guided over ten miles more of the stream, and four of them volunteered to do the work for me for the equivalent of two dollars. I accepted.

"Then came the funny things about their babies. Each woman had two. They scooped out holes in the sand in the shade and set the babies in them. Then they heaped sand about them until it rose to their armpits. Their heads and arms were free. I inquired if the babies could not dig their way out. My informant said they would not try to. They would play with the sand about them until they were sleepy, but would not attempt to get away.

"The mothers guided us well, and, when we were safe, with a wave of their hands, plunged into the bush and started on a dog trot for their village. I have seen babies roped up, caged and harnessed, to keep them in bounds, but this was the first time I ever saw them planted."
