PAIN

Pain in the head—pain anywhere. has its cause in congestion, pain is blood pressure—nothing else usually. At least, so says Dr. Shoop, and he proves it he has created a little pink tablet. That tablet—called Dr. Shoop's Headache Tablet—exhausts blood pressure away from pain centers. Its effect is charming, its pleasantly delightful. Gently, though safely, it surely equalizes the blood circulation.

The Failures.
Keir Hardie, one of labor's ablest representatives in the British Parliament, at a dinner of boilermakers in New York, spoke of success.

"Success, they tell us," he began, "comes from aiming high. I think it oftener comes from aiming low, from aiming within one's scope."

"Suppose, for instance, that the average reporter, aiming high, devoted his life to the composition of Shakespeare—an tragedies or Miltonic epics—do you think he would succeed? Ah, no."

Mr. Keir Hardie shook his head and smiled.

"Let us aim," he said, "at what we stand some chance of hitting. It is they who strive to leave footprints in the sands of time, who, alas, most frequently get stuck in the mud."

To stop any pain in 20 minutes, take one of Dr. Shoop's Pink Pain Tablets. See formula on the box. Ask your Doctor or Druggist about this formula. It can't be bettered. Womanly pains, head pains, any pain gets instant relief. Box of twenty Pink Pain Tablets, 25c. Sold by All Dealers.

Tired of His Palaver.

At a recent trial in Scotland an elderly spinster was called to the witness box to be examined. "What is your age, madam?" inquired the counsel. "Sir," answered the witness, "I am an unmarried woman, and dinna think it right to answer that question." The judge interposed, and told her she should answer. "Oh, weel, then," she said, reluctantly, "I am fifty." "Not more than fifty?" questioned the counsel sternly. "Weel, dinna fash yersel," she replied, "I am sixty." The inquisitive lawyer still further asked it she had any hopes of getting married, to which Miss Jane replied: "Weel, sir, winna tell lee; I hinna lost hope yet;" scornfully adding, "but I widna marry you, for I am sick and tired o' your palaver already."—[The Argonaut.

Preventics, the new Candy Cold Cure Tablets, are said by druggists to have four special specific advantages over all other remedies for a cold. First—They contain no Quinine, nothing harsh or sickening. Second—They give almost instant relief. Third—pleasant to the taste, like candy. Fourth—A large box—48 Preventics—at 25 cents. Also fine for feverish children. Sold by All Dealers.

Table Of Hyperboles.

The lamentable lack of uniformity in the use of words descriptive of numbers, in the yellow press, justifies a little attention, perhaps. At a street fight, a hotel fire, or a political meeting, there is seldom time to ascertain the exact number of persons present, to be sure, but the following scale might be used in approximation:

- Over 3, but less than 10, a crowd.
- Over 10, but less than 20, scores.
- Over 20, but less than 50, a myraid.
- Over 50, but less than 100, thousands.
- Over 100, a vast concourse.

This list would undergo a radical change, however, in case the newspaper was reporting a political meeting of its opponents. It might then be abridged:

- One hundred or more, empty house.
- Three hundred or more, a few stragglers.
- Five hundred or more, a lonely gathering.
- One thousand or more, a small audience.
- Three thousand or more, only the front seats filled.—[Judge's Library.

Asking The Impossible.

"Have you any alarm clocks?" inquired the customer.

"Yes, ma'am," said the man behind the counter. "About what price do you wish to pay for ore?"

"The price is no object if I can get the kind I am after. What I want is one that will rouse the hired girl without waking the whole family."

"I don't know of any such alarm clock as that, ma'am," said the man. "We keep just the ordinary kind—the kind that will wake the whole family without disturbing the hired girl."—[Chicago Tribune.

REPEAT IT:—"Shiloh's Cure will always cure my coughs and colds."

THE RUBICON.

One other bitter cup to drink,
And then—no more!
One little pause upon the brink,
And then—go o'er!
One step—and then the lib'rant morn
Of perfect day,
When my free spirit, newly 'born,
Will soar away!

One pang—and I shall read the thrall
Where grief abides,
And generous Death will show me all
That now he hides;
And, lucid in that second birth,
I shall discern
What all the sages of the earth
Have died to learn.

One motion—and the stream is crossed,
So dark, so deep!
And I shall triumph, or be lost
In endless sleep.
Then, onward! Whatso'er my fate
I shall not care!
Nor Sin nor Sorrow, Love or Hate
Can touch me there.

—William Winter, in Putman's Magazine.

Deafness Cannot be Cured.

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free.

Cheer Up.

The gambler loses his fate is this,
When life is done—the wealth of bliss
That from life's fields is cropped he missed;
But you and I, if wide to day
Will choose, my friend a cheerier way.
For each shall be an optimist.

When pain and anguish wring the brow,
Teeth, chest or other parts, as now,
(Observe how rare my knowledge is!)
When words that shock fall from your voice,
Though ne'er from mine, for I rejoice
And shout all day doxologies.

If ever Fortune on you frowned,
And all your hopes are tumbled down,
Ere to success you'd make a way,
Oh! never show one sign of woe,
But twirl the light fantastic toe
And, laughing, push the jade away!

When Phyllis weds the man you hate,
Course not in wrath your hapless fate,
But fling your fun and chaff at it;
Full many a year, I wot, has flown,
Since first the wise man made it known
That life's a farce—then laugh at it.

Obituary.

Fannie, the darling baby of Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Patterson, aged 11 months passed away on Oct 18th after a few days illness. The funeral service was conducted by Rev. Jas. Rosborough of Prince William assisted by Rev. Wm. Patterson of Vanceboro.

Our darling little Fannie
Passed away one Sunday night;
The child we loved so dearly
And which made our home so bright.

She had been with us nearly a twelve-month,
And it hardly seemed a day;
When a troop of wandering angels
Stole our little daughter away.

We miss thee much dear Fannie,
Thy baby voice is still.
We would have gladly kept thee,
But it was our Heavenly Father's will.

This darling little baby
We shall see her here no more,
But we hope that we shall meet her
On that bright and happy shore.

The old fashioned way of dosing a weak stomach, or stimulating the Heart or Kidneys is all wrong. Dr. Shoop first pointed out this error. This is why his prescription Dr. Shoop's Restorative—is directed entirely to the cause of these ailments—the weak inside or controlling nerves. It isn't so difficult, says Dr. Shoop, to strengthen a weak Stomach, Heart, or Kidneys, if one goes at it correctly. Each inside organ has its controlling or inside nerve. When these nerves fail, then those organs must surely falter. These vital truths are leading druggists everywhere to dispense and recommend Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Test it a few days, and see! Improvement will promptly and surely follow. Sold by All Dealers.
