Constipation

Baked sweet apples, with some people, bring prompt relief for Constipation. With others, coarse all-wheat bread will have the same effect. Nature undoubtedly has a vegetable remedy to relieve every ailment known to man, if physicians can but find Nature's way to health. And this is strikingly true with regard to Constipation.

The bark of a certain tree in California—Cascara Sagrada—offers a most excellent aid to this end. But, combined with Egyptian Senna, Slippery Elm Bark, Solid Extract of Prunes, etc., this same Cascara bark is given its greatest possible power to correct constipation. A toothsome Candy Tablet, called Lax-ets, is now made at the Dr. Shoop Laboratories, from this ingenious and most effective prescription. Its effect on Constipation, Biliousness, Sour Stomach, Bad Breath, Sallow Complexion, etc., is indeed prompt and satisfying.

No gripping, no unpleasant after effects are experienced, and Lax-ets are put up in beautiful lithographed metal boxes at 5 cents and 25 cents per box.

Died in Maine.

Dr. Robert Boyd, of Houlton, died suddenly Sunday at his home at Linneus, Me. His death is thought to have been due to embolism. Dr. Boyd was born at Wakefield, N. B., 71 years ago. For 40 years he has been practicing his profession at Linneus and was probably the oldest physician practicing medicine in the county. For many years he had held the office of coroner. In politics he was a Republican. He attended the Methodist church and took much interest in its welfare. The deceased is survived by his widow, two sons, the Hon. Byron Boyd of Augusta, and Wendall C. Boyd, and one daughter, Mrs. Nettie Hand of Woodstock, N. B.

New Sleeve Simple.

With the incoming of this gümpe, it was only right to expect the outgoing of the ruffled sleeve. We have had the later with us for a long time, and it is still pretty, but obvious and conventional.

The newer sleeve partakes of the simplicity of the round gümpe. It is cut off just below the elbow, is almost straight, has only one seam, and is not intended to fit. If there is any trimming on it, the extreme lower edge is the spot for it.

The variation from it is the sleeve folded or gathered around the arm, the fulness put into tucks or gathered headings down the back.

In very few cases is the draped over-sleeve omitted. It is not as Oriental as formerly. It is short and small and rather severe in its outline. It is elaborately trimmed and may be of lace or any heavier fabric.

Cultivate the Heroic Spirit.

The appalling increase in the number of those who take their lives demands a positive and human preventive.

One of the causes of suicide is undoubtedly the extreme emotional sensitiveness of the modern man, which tends to make him regard weakness and suffering with too much sympathy.

There is nothing more human and admirable than sympathy with our fellows. But the display of sympathy should not be merely a negative kindness; it should express itself in ways that would strengthen the weak and encourage them to heroic endeavor.

After all, as George Kennan points out in a notable article on suicide, we can learn a lesson in this matter from the prize ring.

The pugilist who lies down while there is a fighting chance to win is called a "quitter."

It is the man who is "game," who stands up to life and takes all its blows, fighting on, even when getting the worst of it—the man who says "I won't be a quitter"—this is the man who will win in the end.

Too many of our suicides are simply quitters. And society must somehow take means to cultivate in men the heroic spirit.

Men are fast becoming over-emotional, over-sentimental, with the result that they are losing the quality which we name manliness. They run away from life.

Give life a hard fight anyway—there's some fun to be got out of the fight itself. Cultivate the heroic spirit.

WHEN I GET INTO BED.

(Burgess Johnson, in Harper's Magazine.)

I'm never frightened in the dark,
Though I am very small;
I never sit all scared, and hark
For orges in the hall.
But when my prayers are said
I have one awful dread,
That something waits to grab my toes
When I get into bed!

I try to think of pleasant things
Each time I get undressed;
And how each day no evil brings
If children do their best.
But the thought comes in my head,
As I'm turning down the spread,
That something's going to grab my toes
When I climb into bed!

And when there's nothing more to do,
With bed clothes open wide,
It makes me shiver through and through
A-trying to decide
Which foot shall go ahead,
Cause I'm sure I'd tumble dead
If something ever grabbed my toes
As I got into bed.

ENCHANTMENT.

Dew on the long, dark grass is wet,
Sing, my frogs, for the sun is set.
Was ever a world so wide awake,
Shrill with fun for the moon's sweet sake?
She comes! from a hill on fire.
Dance, oh, my heart's desire!

A small thing fled thru the leaves and grass
What do you see, little peering lass?
Was it mouse or goblin, cricket or fay?
But no—the fairies all went away;
Or died they told me so,
Ever so long ago.

The fairies have all got into your head;
Is that where they went when I thought
them dead?

Frogs are not frogs, but little men?
Perhaps you are right, if so—why, then
Dance, oh, my heart's desire
In the light of the low moon's fire!

Sometimes True.

On leaving his study, which is in the rear of the church, the pastor of a church in Brooklyn saw a little boy, a friend of his, talking to a stranger.

"What was he saying to you, Dick?" asked the divine, as he came up to the youngster.

"He just wanted to know whether Doctor Blank was the preacher of this church."

"And what did you tell him?"

"I told him," responded the lad, with dignity, "that you were the present incumbent."

Half of the Pleasure.

The youngest girl of a Baltimore family was recently much distressed, at dessert, to discover that there was ice-cream for dinner.

"Oh, papa!" exclaimed the youngster reproachfully, "why didn't they tell me this morning that we were going to have ice-cream?"

"What difference would that have made?"

"Lots!" sighed the child. "I could have expected it all day!"

Heading off a Risk

Gas is liable to puff out of the front door of any furnace unprovided for gas escape.

"Sunshine" Furnace has Automatic Gas Damper directly connected with smoke-pipe. Gas pressure sways damper sufficiently for it to escape up chimney (see illustration), but heat doesn't escape.

What does "Sunshine" Gas Damper mean to "Sunshine" Furnace? Means protection to the furnace parts against evil effects of gas.

What does "Sunshine" Gas Damper mean to "Sunshine" householder? Means furnace can be operated without fear as to "puffing" gas; furnace can be left without doubt as to whereabouts of gas.

What does "Sunshine" Gas Damper mean to "Sunshine" coal account? It means, instead of owner with "ordinary furnace" fear having to keep check-draft indefinitely closed to "let off" gas—when there's two-thirds parts of heat-energy to one part of gas passing up chimney—draft can with all safety be opened, and coal saved for another day's duty.
