Deacon Benjamin F. Everett.

Deacon Benjamin Franklin Everett, of the Baptist church in Washburn, Maine, died at his home in that village on Friday, Nov. 13th. He was seized with a shock about four weeks before and slowly passed away. Deacon Everett was 76 years old last April and was a native of Jacksontown, N. B., though most of his life was spent in the vicinity of Hartland, N. B. Many of the readers of THE DISPATCH in these towns will remember him and will be interested to read this account of his life. He came of a large family of eight girls and eight boys, all of whom have passed on except a sister in Nebraska. In 1751 he married Miss Charlotte McCready, who died in 1864, and in 1865 married Miss Hannah Estey, who died in 1901 in Washburn, Me. Deacon Everett came to Washburn fourteen years ago, and immediately identified himself with the affairs of the community and the local Baptist church. He joined a Baptist church when 19 years of age and was a member for over 58 years. He was made deacon of the Washburn Baptist church soon after coming to the town and since has been one of its strongest supporters. Although living in Washburn a comparatively short part of his life, yet such was his Christian character that he has left upon the community and the church a strong and permanent influence. As a citizen, a man of business, a friend and neighbor, a member of the church he was beloved in the village and surrounding towns. He was a true deacon, and a never failing pastor's friend and counsellor. He was affectionately called "Uncle Ben" by every one and the little children and young people never failed to lovingly greet him. Three children were born to him of whom two are living in Washburn, a daughter, Mrs. John Annett, and a son, Henry Everett, 14 grandchildren and 4 great-grandchildren. There was no limit to the loving ministrations that surrounded his last days. The funeral services were held, after prayer at the house, at the Baptist church on Sunday afternoon, conducted by his pastor, Rev. Brown E. Smith. Rev. F. E. Smith of the Methodist church also added words of appreciation of his sterling character. Although the day was very stormy the church was crowded with friends and relatives, and as he was laid to rest in River View Cemetery beside his second wife, the verdict of all was, "a truly good man has gone."—Com.

Line Stores Raided.

There was something doing in the Scott Act circles on Friday evening last, when Inspector Colpitts, assisted by Sheriff Tompkins and Constables Burpee and Kimball, made a raid on the line stores and arrested J. K. Wise, John Collins, Alonzo Rutcliffe and one Ledbetter, and brought them to Woodstock. The Canadian officers were assisted by two American detectives. The liquor stores at the boundary line between Woodstock and Houlton have been a menace to the safety of the travelling public for some years, and it is about time the authorities of both governments take steps to clear out this illicit traffic.

Jake Wise pleaded guilty to three first offences and one second, and paid over $225.00; Collins acknowledged a first offence and deposited $50, and Ledbetter had three first and a second offence to settle for, which cost him $225.00. Rutcliffe was convicted of four first offences and one second amounting to a fine of $300.00 which he paid.

William John Davis.

After a protracted illness, the result of blood poisoning, Mr. Wm. J. Davis, the popular C. P. R. engineer, died on Tuesday night at his mother's residence. The deceased was the eldest son of the late Richard Davis, and was regarded as one of the best engineers in the C. P. R. service. Some months ago he took ill in Woodstock. As his condition continued to grow worse he came to St. Andrews, where his physician discovered the existence of an abscess of long standing. The abscess was removed, but the operation came too late. He is survived by a wife and child, also his mother, three sisters and one brother. He was 39 years old.—St. Andrews Beacon.

Hunter-Jewett.

On Tuesday the 17th inst., a very quiet wedding took place at the Methodist Parsonage, Andover when the Rev. J. A. Ives united in marriage Susie Mills youngest daughter of James E. Jewett of Florenceville and Harry Dow Hunter of East Florenceville. The wedding march was finely rendered by Mrs. Ives. The bride was prettily dressed in white Point de Esprit. The bride was the recipient of many valuable presents among which was a gold watch from one of her uncles. Mr. and Mrs. Hunter will reside at East Florenceville where they will be at home to their friends after January 1st.

Lavoie--Malaney.

A marriage of more than ordinary interest was celebrated at 7.30 on Monday morning in St. Gertrude's church by Rev. Father McMurray, the contracting persons being Mr. Octave Lavoie, of Houlton, Me., and Miss Agnes Gertrude Malaney, of Woodstock.

A large number of friends gathered to witness the ceremony and extend hearty wishes for a long and happy life. After the ceremony a nuptial mass was celebrated.

The bride, who is one of Woodstock's popular young ladies, was prettily dressed in linen colored pongee with applique trimmings, and carried a white prayer book. She was assisted by Miss Sadie J. Brown, who wore a very becoming suit of navy blue cloth with hat to match, and she also carried a prayer book. The groom was attended by Mr. John P. Malaney, brother of the bride.

After the mass was completed the wedding party and a few friends drove to the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. Malaney, where a tastefully prepared breakfast was served.

Mr. and Mrs. Lavoie took the afternoon train for Fredericton and other parts of the province on a brief bridal trip. The bride's going-away suit was brown panama with tan hat trimmed with brown.

Many useful and costly gifts in silverware, etc., testified to the esteem the young couple is held by their many friends. The groom's gift to the bride was a check for a substantial amount of money and to the bridesmaid a brooch with same-hyst setting. The bridesmaid's present to the bride were silver tea spoons, while the groomsmen gave the bride a handsome bear fur stole. A few evenings previous some of the young ladies' friends of the bride, made a presentation of a linen shower.

The DISPATCH tenders heartiest congratulations to the young couple.

Mrs. Martha Grant.

Mrs. Martha Grant, wife of Joshua Frederick Grant, died at her home, 33 Balcomb St. Salem, Massachusetts, U.S.A., on Saturday, November 14, aged 56 years, 4 mos and 18 days.

She leaves a husband, six children, Mrs. J. H. English, Mrs. E. A. McNeill, Mrs. F. J. Verry, and Misses Bessie Iva and Fleda Grant. She also leaves eight grand children.

Mrs. Grant was buried from her home on Monday, November 16, Reverend Mr. Crosssett of the Advent Church officiating. She was buried in the Greenlawn Cemetery at Salem, Mass., and many beautiful floral tributes were sent.

Mrs. Grant was a beautiful mother and leaves countless friends to mourn her loss. She acted in her many deeds of charity the true spirit of Christianity and to her friends in Salem, she is an irreparable loss.

She was born in Woodstock, N. B. and was the daughter of George and Laurana (Hamilton) McLean.—Com.

Death of J. Walker Donald.

The death of J. Walker Donald, son of the late Rev. William Donald, D. D., for many years pastor of St. Andrew's church, occurred on Friday last in Detroit, (Mich.) Mr. Donald resided in St. John for some years after his father's death in 1871, and then went to Boston where he was appointed agent for the Chicago & Alton railroad. He afterwards went to reside in Chicago and Detroit. In recent years he had been in failing health and had retired from business.

Mr. Donald leaves his wife and one son, Harry, in Detroit. Mrs. Robert Thomson, of this city, is a sister. John A. Donald, of Tacoma, a brother, is well known here, having resided in St. John for many years. Miss Linda A. Donald, another sister, is at present staying with Mrs. Thomson.

The late Mr. Donald was an uncle of Dr. Rankin and the Misses Rankin, of Woodstock.

A Farmer's Want Supplied.

Some farmers are under the impression that they must have a purely agricultural paper to supply agricultural information, but they overlook the fact that there is a Canadian publication that not only furnishes the most reliable information pertaining to the farm, but at the same time furnishes them with a newspaper giving the news of the world and a magazine every week as good as any of the English or American magazines in quality and quantity of good wholesome family reading. The paper alluded to is THE Family Herald and Weekly Star of Montreal, which costs but one dollar a year and is the greatest value to be had. It is a weekly family magazine and agricultural paper combined—all three in one—and if any farmer after giving it a trial does not think it the best value on the market he can have his money back. No farm house in Canada can afford to be without Canada's greatest paper.—The Family Herald and Weekly Star of Montreal.

Letter From George W. White.

To the Editor of The Dispatch:

Some may ask for the reason why I am not a candidate for election in the present contest; this will be given in my next letter, the present not being an opportune time, and would accomplish no beneficial result. However, as an elector, interested in the welfare of this county, and the different interests to be represented in the Legislature, by those who are to be chosen on the 1st of December, I would call the attention of the electors to the following as worthy of serious consideration before they cast their ballots at the several polling booths appointed for that purpose. It is an undeniable fact, that with some, party fealty takes the place of their better judgment, and public benefit is overshadowed by party spirit, and the absence of independence if exercised would be for the public good for all concerned.

In choosing representatives, as much as possible, the different sections of the county should have resident representatives the same as if the county was laid off in ridings as is the case in the Province of Ontario. In this county one representative is located on the East side of the river, one in Woodstock, and we respectfully ask the electors to give one on the West side in the upper end of the county in the person of Wm. J. Owens, a practical farmer and temperance advocate, who is meeting the wish; often expressed, that in this agriculture county we ought to have a representative farmer to represent us in the Legislature. Such an one was recently nominated at a convention and only wants the approval of the electors, which we have reason to believe will not be refused, as a similar opportunity may never present itself again in this county.

Yours for the people,

GEORGE W. WHITE.

Hoadley-Jones.

A pretty wedding took place Wednesday evening, November the eleventh, when Miss Beulah Jones and Mr. J. Arthur Hoadley were married at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Randolph K. Jones, Graham Avenue, Brighton Beach.

The ceremony was performed by Reverend M. A. Frost in the presence of fifty relatives.

The bride was daintily dressed in a white silk and net gown. She carried a shower bouquet of bride roses.

Miss Lillie Osland, gowned in pink silk and carrying pink and white carnations, was the bridesmaid.

Miss Lillian Fisher, neice of the bride, who was maid of honor, wore white with pink ribbons.

The groom was attended by Mr. Stanley Atherton.

The house was prettily decorated for the occasion.—Seattle Sunday Times, Nov. 15.

To The Electors Of Carleton Co.

Gentlemen:—After having announced to you that I would be a candidate in the coming by-election and after having duly considered the same I have concluded not to enter the contest at this time, owing principally to the short time there was in which to make the canvass and the inclemency of the season.

I wish to heartily thank my many friends who have volunteered to support me in this election, and that in the future if you shall request me to consider the matter, I will be at your service.

Yours very truly,

J. R. H. Simms,

Bath, N. B. Nov. 23rd, 1908.

Delicate Children

Made Well And Strong

The little ones are frail. Their hold upon life is slight. At the very first symptoms of trouble Baby's Own Tablets should be given. This medicine cures colic, sour stomach, indigestion, diarrhoea, constipation, teething troubles and other minor ailments. It is equally good for the new born babe as the well grown child. Mothers have the guarantee of a government analyst that this medicine contains no opiate or poisonous soothing stuff. Mrs. Cressman, New Hamburg Ont., says:—"I have used Baby's Own Tablets for stomach trouble and constipation with marked success. I feel that my little ones are safe when I have a box of Tablets in the house." Sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.
