Burglary at McKenzie Corner.

Harry Green, John Ferguson and James Welch were arrested and brought to Woodstock on Monday charged with breaking into the residences of James Martin and the Rev. R. A. McDonald at McKenzie Corner, and taking therefrom clothing and other articles. The preliminary hearing was held in the office of Police Magistrate Dibblee on Monday afternoon. A. B. Connell appeared for the prosecution and the prisoners were un-defended. Following is the evidence:

James Martin sworn: I live in the Parish of Richmond near McKenzie corner. My house was broken into on Friday afternoon, Aug. 7th between 5 and 8 o'clock in the evening. I saw two of the prisoners passing Richmond Corner, John Ferguson and Harry Green, about two miles from my home. Ferguson had a pack on his back. They were going south. I live alone and there was no one in the house. I got home about nine o'clock. There was a boy with me at the time. When I went to the door it was closed as I had left it. When I went in the door leading into the entry was open. When I left home it was closed and I said to the boy there has been someone in here. I went into the kitchen and lit the lamp and came back to the entry and found bureau drawers pulled out and ransacked. Then I went into the bedroom and found that a trunk had been tampered with and a pair of shoes, a gun and other articles taken. Next morning I went to McKenzie Corner and saw Mr. Dickinson and we got some men and went down the track and finally located the three prisoners in a vacant house and most of the stolen property with them.

The Rev. R. A. McDonald gave evidence as to the manse being broken into and a quantity of clothing and other things stolen.

C. W. Dickinson described the arrest of the prisoners and how Ferguson resisted and finally had to be tied, after which he threatened to burn the premises.

Police Magistrate Dibblee sent the three men up for trial at the supreme court which meets in October.

Upper Kent Wedding

One of the pleasant events of the season occurred at the home of Mrs. Byron Shaw, Wednesday, at five o'clock p. m., when her only daughter Nellie, was united in marriage to Joseph Everett Ritchie, by Rev. Walter P. Dunham of Centreville. The bride looked charming in white with veil, held in place by lilies of the valley. She was attended by her cousin, Miss Gertrude Shaw, of Bath, who also wore white. The groom was supported by his cousin, James Kinney of Greenfield.

The wedding march was played by Miss Gertie Grant of that place. After the ceremony the guests repaired to the dining hall where a dainty supper was served.

The many useful and beautiful presents which were left testified to the esteem in which the young couple are held.

We extend to them our best wishes for their future happiness along the matrimonial road.

Andover Grammar School.

The following pupils of Andover Grammar School have passed the University Matriculation examinations unconditionally:

In Division II—David E. Wiley, Jessie A. Kelly, Erma E. Kelly.

Division III.—Helen M. Munzer.

David E. Wiley thus becomes the winner of the Victoria County Scholarship at the University of New Brunswick.

Guy J. McAdam, M. A., who has been the principal of this school for the past four years will pursue a course of study at Harvard.

Davis-Brown.

At the residence of the Rev. Nathaniel McIntyre, father of the bride, on Sunday last Charles Davis was united in marriage to Miss Mildred E. Brown, by the Rev. A. B. LePage, in the presence of a few invited guests. Both the contracting parties are popular among the coloured people and the bride received many pretty presents. After the ceremony a reception was held.

Goff.

His Worship Mayor Balmain won the Pewter Mug donated by E. W. Mair for handicap play, on Wednesday evening last, his opponent being Wm. Dalling.

He Hooted.

"Do you know," said Cholly, "I never had played a game of golf in my life and when I asked the old Scotchman what was the first thing for me to do, he looked at me just like this and said:

"Hoot mon!"
"Then what did you do?"
"I hooted, of course."

Miss Gladys Foster.

Miss Gladys Foster, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Foster, died on Sunday morning after an illness of only a few weeks in the 19th year of her age. Miss Foster was an employee on the Post Office staff and was courteous and obliging in the discharge of her duties. Besides her parents she is survived by two sisters and two brothers. Mr. Foster is at present in the hospital, having undergone an operation for appendicitis a short time ago. The funeral took place yesterday, the Rev. Dr. W. C. Kierstead officiating. Mr. and Mrs. Foster will have the sympathy of a large circle of friends in their loss.

Mrs. Joseph Pryor.

Mrs. Joseph Pryor departed from this life July 22, 1908, after a lingering illness. She was a patient sufferer and bore her illness with christian fortitude. She leaves to mourn eight children, Frank, Annie, Alice, of Pioneer; Mrs. Zeph Good, of Goods Corner; Perry, of Prov., R. I.; Frazier, of Presque Isle, and Mrs. C. F. Bull, also Mrs. W. E. Gartley, besides a large number of relatives.

Funeral services were held at Willamstown church, Rev. Mr. Ayres and Rev. Mr. McGill officiating. To all the friends who assisted in any way the children offer heartfelt thanks. It was hard to give her up; she was but fifty-five.

A Good Book and a Good Play.

In this great era of fiction, when of "making many books there is no end," a really clever book is much sought for and should it hold the elements of a good play therein, it's sure to be dramatized before the season is over, which was the case of "Miss Petticoats," for very soon after the book came out it appeared as a play at the Boston Theatre and the authors, two Boston editors were congratulated all over the country on their great success as play-wrights. The critics were unanimous in pronouncing it a wholesome sparkling New England play unlike any other and in a class by itself, by reason of its truth and sincerity of purpose. Its characters are not figments of the imagination but real people whose like can be found in the seaport villages of New England and perhaps nowhere else in such abundance. There is a warm large heartedness about these people that brings a responsive thrill to both reader and theatre-goer who have the pleasure of making the acquaintance of charming "Miss Petticoats" who is a fascinating creature and in the first scene is living in the cabin of the "Harpoon" filled with antiques and with her faithful old grandfather for a guardian and a faithful one is he. She is brought into good society through the offices of a rich lady when she is immediately thrown under the influence of an interesting kind of villain and how she escapes the designs of jealous enemies and finally becomes the great lady, Countess Forney, by the death of her French father and lives in Paris, is told in a most realistic and thrilling manner throughout this highly interesting play. Those who read the book will be anxious to see the play, for it follows the text very closely, losing not one bit of the salt pungent flavors of the story which was laid in New Bedford where the scenes of the old wharves and whalers are depicted to the very life.

The scenic equipment is of the finest, the detail and finish invariably correct and a really great future is predicted for "Miss Petticoats," who has already made hosts of friends and will be seen at Woodstock on August 13 '08 for one night only.

More About The Grand Falls Boom.

The Grand Falls correspondent of the Victoria's County News says:

Mr. McLaughlin of New York, accompanied by his wife and two children, is at the Curless. He is one of the chief promoters of the new Power Co., for which some machinery has arrived. He and the officials report that work will be immediately started. It is also reported that the old Parent mill power will be developed first to give power for the drilling and other operations. It is to be hoped that these reports are bona fide and not mere fake schemes to retain their charter, which is about expired.

DANGEROUS OPIATES.

Most of the liquid medicines advertised to cure stomach and bowel troubles and summer complaints contain opiates and are dangerous. When the mother gives Baby's Own Tablets to her little ones she has the guarantee of a government analyst that this medicine contains no opiate or narcotic. And she has the assurance that no other medicine will so speedily cure stomach and bowel troubles, if they come unexpectedly. Give the well child an occasional dose of these tablets and they will prevent sickness by clearing the stomach and bowels of offending matter. Mrs. Wilbert Bone, Carrville, Ont., says:—"I have used Baby's Own Tablets for stomach and bowel troubles and know of no other medicine so satisfactory." Sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25c a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Prof. Watson Honored.

Prof. W. F. Watson who is spending the summer with his parents at Hartland, has recently been appointed by the National Civic Federation of New York to go on an important mission to Great Britain to spend some months in examining into the educational system of the United Kingdom and rendering an exhaustive report. His being elected as one among America's greatest educationalists, Carleton county may point with pride to another of her sons who has reached the high places.

For years Prof. Watson has held the chair of Chemistry in Turman University at Greenville, S. C. and a few years ago that of Biology added.

It is not altogether the work at the University that has given him fame. His discoveries in the field of natural science have brought him into the rank of the greater scientists, and his contributions to periodicals of such indisputable rank as Collier's, Scientific American of New York, the Technical World of Chicago, and other papers has placed his name before the millions as well as the select few who are competent to judge of the real merit of his work.

It was Prof. Watson who introduced photo micragraphic plates for printing an invention at once adopted into general use, and now appearing in almost every issue of the magazines.

Prof. Watson is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George C. Watson, and was born forty odd years ago at Jacksonstown. During the 17 years his parents have lived in Hartland, he and his family have been regular summer visitors. His wife was Miss Clara Norwood of Greenville and the two have been blessed with two daughters, now growing into young womanhood. The professor will sail from New York on Oct. 7 per SS. "Adriatic" to commence his important errand.
