Mr. Hatfield has won high esteem among the many friends he has made during his stay here, and while his absence will be felt, the young man can feel assured of the good wishes of Hartland people.

George and Mrs. McLaughlin and little daughter were visiting friends in Houlton over Sunday.

Charles W. Hurst and son Frank left on Saturday for Fairville. Mr. Hurst is on his way to Halifax, Charlottetown and St. John where he will handle the largest exhibit of poultry ever shown in the Maritime Provinces, that of the Hartland Poultry Yards. They shipped a carload, consisting of about two hundred separate exhibits. It is to be regretted that this fine show cannot be entered at Woodstock on account of the date coinciding with Charlottetown show. However, the Carleton and Victoria Poultry and Pet Stock Association will hold its second annual exhibition early in the winter, when the local people will have the privilege of seeing a fine lot of birds.

M. Atkinson, of St. John, was at the Exchange on Saturday.

Twentieth Anniversary.

On Nov. 2nd, our denomination will have reached its 20th anniversary. It would be a good plan to celebrate the occasion by a ten days holiness convention, and have all the charter members now living present, so far as possible. We are sure that all would enjoy an old time holiness convention. We are talking of celebrating the 20th anniversary of the organization of the church at Woodstock, and it would require but little more effort to make it a denominational anniversary. All we ask is the co-operation of the ministers of the Alliance, and general approval of the churches, and we will set to work to arrange a grand rally at Woodstock from Oct. 30th, to Nov. 8th, including two Sundays. Brethren consider the matter and drop us a card as soon as possible so we will have ample time to prepare.—The King's Highway.
