Rheumatism

I have found a tried and tested cure for Rheumatism! Not a remedy that will straighten the distorted limbs of chronic cripples, nor turn bony growths back to flesh again. That is impossible. But I can now surely kill the pains and pangs of this deplorable disease.
In Germany—with a Chemist in the City of Darmstadt—I found the last ingredient with which Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Remedy was made a perfected, dependable prescription. Without that last ingredient, I successfully treated many, many cases of Rheumatism; but now, at last, it uniformly cures all curable cases of this heretofore much dreaded disease. These sand-like granular wastes, found in Rheumatic Blood, seem to dissolve and pass away under the action of this remedy as freely as does sugar when added to pure water. And then, when dissolved, these poisonous wastes freely pass from the system, and the cause of Rheumatism is gone forever. There is now no real need—no actual excuse to suffer longer without help. We sell, and in confidence recommend Deaths From Scarlet Fever are Declining.

Now that smallpox, thanks to compulsory vaccination, has become a rarity in civilized communities, scarlet fever steps forward as the worst of the eruptive diseases of childhood.

It is a malady of enormous antiquity. Thucydides, writing nearly five hundred years before the beginning of our era, called it a heritage from the remote past. It has scourged the white races in all ages and all countries, and the physicians of all countries, and the physicians of all schools have leveled their heaviest artillery upon it, says Dr. Leonard K. Hirschberg in the August Delineator. Yet it remains a puzzle unsolved and an enemy unconquered even to-day. We are in doubt as to its cause, and there is no drug or antitoxin that will cure it.

But despite all this, the death-rate from scarlet fever is steadily declining, and we may expect it to decline more and more as the years go by. The reason for this, I take it, lies in the fact that the modern doctor is a great deal more sparing with pills and powders than his predecessor, and a great deal more lavish with water, air and antiseptics. In the old days it was customary to dose scarlet-fever patients with all sorts of violent remedies in staggering quantities, and, as a result, many of them died. To-day medicines are but minor auxiliaries in the sick-room, and doctor and nurse devote their main energies to preventing a spread of the infection.

Piles are easily and quickly checked with Dr. Shoop's Magic Ointment. To prove it I will mail as mall trial box as a convincing test. Simply address Dr. Shoop, Racine, Wis. I surely would not send it free unless I was certain that Dr. Shoop's Magic Ointment would stand the test. Remember it is made expressly and alone for swollen, painful, bleeding or itching piles, either external or internal. Large jar 50c. Sold by All Dealers

Mark Twain's Daughter.

(M. A. P.)

Miss Clara Clemens, the daughter of Mark Twain, has made her appearance as a singer in London. Miss Clemens has studied under Mme. Marchesi and Mr. Leechetzky and has sung in public in America during the past two years. Slim and dark-skinned with deep brown eyes and a Madonna-like countenance. Miss Clemens' personality impressed itself with great favor upon her Queen's Hall audience as she sung her aria from "Nadeshda" in a sweet contralto voice of much power and promise.

In addition to her musical ability, Miss Clemens seems to possess her father's sense of humor. When asked why she had not brought her illustrious parent with her, she replied:

"Well, you see, he accompanied me to America for about two years, and I found that he was so anxious to get upon the platform, before I had finished, and make a speech, and the people seemed so impatient to hear him, I guessed if I didn't want to ruin my career he'd better stay at home."

A Proper Comparison.

During the recent panic a Germany farmer went to the bank in Camden for some money. He was told that the bank was not paying out money, but was giving out cashier's checks. He could not understand this and insisted on money. The officer of the bank endeavored to explain, and after a while some intelligence of the situation seemed to be dawning on the farmer's mind and the president asked:

"You understand now fully how it is, Hans, don't you?"

"Yes," said Hans, "I think I do. It's like this, ain't it? Ven my body wakes up at night and wants some milk I gif him a milk ticket."—[Philadelphia Public Ledger.]

The Stingy Grocer.

While a penurious grocer was telling his new boy how careful he must be, a fly settled on a bag of sugar. The grocer caught it and threw it away. The boy then said: "If you want me to be careful, you are setting me a bad example." "Why?" asked the grocer. "Because," said the boy, "you have thrown that fly away without brushing the sugar off its feet."—[The Argonaut.]

Senator Baird Injured.

Senator Geo. T. Baird, of Andover, N. B., accompanied by A. F. MacLaren, M. P., of Stratford, Ont., went out at Cobalt, on Monday to inspect their leased property. They are working on Peterson Lake. After paddling across the lake in a canoe, they started to ascend a small bluff of rock which was slippery from recent rains. Senator Baird slipped and fell, breaking his wrist, but although well up in years, helped to paddle back across the lake. After having his wrist treated in Cobalt, he left for Ottawa.—St. John Globe.

"Sunshine" Furnace

Where Shaking is Respectable

A Draft off furnace dome, with no other assistance, is powerful to overcome the dust nuisance in shaking time. Only surplus dust rises of itself above the fire. Great bulk descends into ash-pit, and unless legitimate outlet is therein provided, dust will escape through ash-door slits and into operator's face.

In "Sunshine" Furnace the legitimate dust outlet is provided. It's a great big dust-pipe running straight from ash-pit to dome, thence to chimney. When big pipe damper is opened, all dust in ash-pit ascends to dome; then, when direct drafts are opened, all dust passes up chimney.

Always the clean and quick dust route in "Sunshine" Furnace—via grate, to pan, to dust-pipe, to dome, to chimney, to open air.

Write to us for "Sunshine" testimonials received from your own townspeople.
