

Florenceville.

The little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Clarke, of Greenfield, reported last week sick with diphtheria, is dead. The fact is especially sad as it was their only child.

Thomas Caldwell's health has improved.

E. Jewett who for some time has held a position on the G. T. P. has returned home.

E. Mackey got in a fine day's plowing on Wed., the 10th inst. There were fifteen team at his plowing bee.

On the 21st inst. a vote is to be taken at Greenfield as to whether or not to continue the Sunday School during the winter. As this is a matter of particular importance, involving the keeping in practical touch with the so mind-enriching, heart warming, character-building Sunday school lessons which are our so precious a heritage, and as so many bright boys and girls are involved with their alert, impressive, plastic and retentive minds, so eager, so responsive, to the influences of the day, the largest practicable attendance is desirable. For those boys and girls to miss several months of the wholesome moulding influence of the Sunday school would be too serious a matter to lightly pass upon. When once a break is made, the difficulty of renewing the interest again is no slight one. The book of Matthew invites our study for the next year. To miss the first of it would seriously interfere with the getting of the richest treasure from its unique contents. Then again, that solid adult class of Greenfield which for years has been an inspiration to its succession of teachers it cannot warrantably afford to suspend its studies for the winter. The vote will be looked forward to with deep interest. Will it be a vote whose remembrance will be a constant source of complacent satisfaction? To keep Greenfield School in step with the so large number of schools that honor our noble county by being evergreen is a bit of religious enterprise worthy of real and effort.

Rev. J. D. Wetmore's texts yesterday were gripping ones. "What shall I do then with Jesus which is called Christ?" and "The lot is cast into the lap, but the whole disposing thereof, is of the Lord." He brought into one day's range of thought the fact of human or individual responsibility, which latter the great U. S. Senator, Daniel Webster, counted the greatest thought that ever occupied his mind.—Jesus on our hands, what shall we do with Him? and that soul aweing thought of God's sovereignty. He who was the great Creator is the administrator not only of the great outlines but also the minute details of human government.

A representative of Kingston, N. B., was here looking over our School Building, presumably to get pointers relative to the new school building to take the place of the one there regrettably destroyed by fire.

The practical enterprise displayed in securing through the County papers such an appreciable publicity of Dr. Walker's so intelligent and excellent address relative to Tuberculosis and the way to fight it, recently delivered in Woodstock, is truly commendable. When along with the spread theoretically of the idea of the fighting of this great white plague with sunlight, fresh air and wholesome food, then be added Government supplementing of philanthropic effort by furnishing the finances, the forward march to conquest will be powerfully promoted. The steps taken also at the meeting of Monday evening, Nov. 8 h were admirably practical.

It is inspiring to note the practical trend of the mind of Chancellor Jones of the U. N. B. His sense of the richness of the resources of the Province of New Brunswick, his detailed presentation in his recent speech in St. John of her so large valuation of a year's output in fisheries, lumber and agricultural products respectively $6,000,000, $7,000,000 and $20,000,000 as well as reference to her abundant mineral wealth are well suited to stir the patriotic pride of our citizens, incite to more practical thinking the minds of many who may have been undervaluing our Province and enhance the influences in favour of the Maritime Provinces which today have et in to render more practically symmetrical the interest in the East as well as the West of our great Dominion.

When the Chancellor of our University can to so great a degree free himself from the more purely Academic character of his position and his thought, can include so readily within the range of that thought to live and take as intelligent an interest in the industries of our province, can so heartily enter into the lives and feel the magnetic thrill of the interests of the enterprise, the stenuousness of the great toiling groups of our population in their respective spheres, can so practically illustrate the meaning and inclusiveness of the word "University," and does so evidence his sense of the importance for our young men of securing a comprehensive and thorough knowledge of scientific agriculture which is so forging itself to the front today, the hope of our University's popularity, prosperity and progress are brightened, and there is likely to flow with the reservoir of her halls of study and stimulative influence, a greatly deepened and broadened stream of promising student life. Specially encouraging is his desire to add agricultural study to the university curriculum. Happily is this in line with the ideas of such captains of industry and men of big thinking as J. J. Hill, of the Great Northern, who would take the money required for at least one Dreadnaught and establish 1000 model farms each at $5000, and Brown of the New York Central, who would have the railway establish conduct and control similar farms for the engagement of the unemployed under intelligent and strict inspection in times of business stagnation.

If along with this our business men through business sagacity determined enterprise through the press delegations to the provincial legislature, etc, secure better markets for our people, our prosperity will be happily promoted.

Again, when we note the host of people who crowded to hear Commissioner Combs of the S. Army in St. John as he launched forth his soul-stirring eloquence in the line of practical Christianity is proof of the wholesome character of the religious thought of so many of our people in the Commercial Capital.

What splendid opportunities for securing a large acreage of plowed around this open fall has admitted.

The enterprise displayed by the editor of the Hartland Observer for the improvement of the appearance and conditions of prominent sections of that live village are highly commendable.

CAUSE AND CURE OF NEURALGIA

Modern Methods Dispose of the Cause Instead of Treating the Symptoms.

Neuralgia means simply "nerve pain," so there may be a great variation in the character and intensity of the pain and any nerve in the body may be affected. There are a number of causes of neuralgia, but the most common is a general rundown condition of the system. The discovery of this fact from reliable statistics led to the new treatment for neuralgia which consists in building up the general health by the tonic treatment and so disposing of the cause of the trouble.

Persons reduced by acute sickness, or by severe mental or physical strain, or by loss of sleep are frequently victims of neuralgia and it is common in the case of those suffering from anaemia or bloodlessness. This brings us to the actual cause of neuralgia, which is nerve starvation. The blood which in normal health carries to the nerves all of their nourishment, is unable to perform this duty satisfactorily when it is weak or impure. Build up the blood and the neuralgia pain will disappear as the nerves become better nourished. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are a blood-making tonic, and for this reason cure even the most obstinate cases of neuralgia. Every dose of this medicine makes new, rich blood, which feeds the starved veins and drives out the sharp, darting, stabbing pains of neuralgia. Mrs. John Tibert, Little River, N. S., says:—"A few years ago I was a great sufferer from neuralgia in my head and face. At times the attacks were simply excruciating, and I would be forced to remain in bed. I tried doctors' medicines, but did not receive any benefit until I began using Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and I am happy to say that the benefit I received from these was wonderful. I may also add that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills cured my daughter of anaemia and indigestion, at a time when we began to despair of her getting better. I can highly recommend these Pills to anyone suffering from these troubles."

You can get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills from any dealer in medicines or they will be sent by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 by The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Mrs. Jennie Bagley.

The death of Mrs. Jennie Bagley wife of William Bagley occurred on Sunday, Nov. 7 at her late residence in Ludlow.

Mrs. Bagley was confined to her home for the past 10 weeks and failed steadily although everything possible was done for her that medical skill could do.

Mrs. Bagley was born in Springfield, Car. Co., N. B., 47 years ago and she was Miss Jennie McCorkindale.

During her long residence in Ludlow, she endeared herself to all by her quiet, gentle, christian character and she will be sadly missed by her husband, four brothers, two sisters and an aged mother whom she leaves to mourn her death—Houlton Times, Nov. 10.

The Final Settlement

A thoroughly up to the minute drama of American social life, "The Final Settlement" will be the attraction at Hayden-Gibson theatre on Wednesday, Nov. 17th. The play is by L. B. Parker, author of many successes, and is considered to be one of the best of his many compositions.

In the play, the hero, an ambitious young workman rises to be the president of a great iron mill corporation. Then comes his ambition to shine in the social world. To do this he divorces his faithful first wife and marries a beautiful actress, thinking her talent and social graces will open to him the doors of society. The final settlement between love, ambition, wealth and sentiment forms a startling denouement. It is from this climax that the drama gains its name.

Broad questions are raised by the drama, which holds up "business and social success in sharp contrast with domestic happiness.

A strong company headed by H. Blosser Jennings will present the play here. Seats on sale at Geo. W. Gibson's.

Every-Day Problems

Problem I. Bad Roads:—

The old way was to curse nature and idly await sun's return. The new way is to telephone for what you want, and smile because you get the information in a thousand part of the time.

Problem II. Weather Forecasts:—

The old way was to work on belated information, and to excuse the losses with "That's what the farmer has to put up with." The new way is to telephone every morning to the weather man and overcome much of the needless haste and bustle of the old way.

Problem III. Prices Current:—

The old way was to ask a neighbor or trust to the newspapers. The new way is to get information in the nick of time over the phone, thus knowing when to sell and when to hold.

Problem IV. Emergencies:—

The old way of procedure when some one took sick, was to harness up a "driver" and make all haste for the doctor. Effort in this direction often procured as its only result the information: "doctor is out." The new way is to call up the doctor on the phone, and know instantly what can be done pending the medical man's arrival.

Problem V. Help:—

The old way was to allow men to go on boys' errands—waste half a morning walking to Smith's only to find that his horse was already loaned. The new way is to make the phone your errand boy—buy, borrow, beget by means of the "silent partner."

We have prepared a Booklet describing fully a rural phone system. Make it your better instructor as to send you this interesting bit of information, seeing it costs you nothing.

A Double Celebration.

It was a happy coincidence that Nov. 9 h, the King's Birthday, should mark the 40th year of the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Estey, as well as the eighteenth anniversary of the Woman's missionary aid of the United Baptist church of Jacksonville.

It was particularly appropriate that the missionary society should gather at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Estey to extend its congratulations, as this worthy couple have given a daughter to the work in Korea.

About forty took tea and a profitable time was spent in reporting the work done during the past eighteen years of the missionary work of this place.

In the evening all repaired to the church where a largely attended public gathering was held at which addresses were given by Mesdames Vail, Johnson, (Mrs. R-v) and Jas. Good. Rev. Mr. Johnson spoke on Home Mission work. Music and recitations interspersed the evening's entertainment. The address by Mrs. Rev. Johnson on the "Women of India" was particularly interesting. The collection amounted to $11.19.

Don't get Cold Feet, call around to Gibson and Ross, and see the large range of foot warmers they have; don't forget to see the sheep skin moccasins they have, with the wool on the inside, the kind Captain Cook used; to be worn inside a pair of our Shoe Packs or Gum Rubbers.

THE EYES

The eyes are the windows through which the soul looks out upon the world. There is no need of having them darkened or defective. Don't tamper with unknown inexperienced opticians. Vision is too precious, have them scientifically fitted with glasses, DONT DELAY.

For instance—Mrs Freeman wife of the Rev. Mr. B. L. Freeman, for 7 years pastor of the Centreville Baptist church was trouble by defective sight. Five specialists treated her, one in New York, one in Boston, one in Halifax, one in St. John, one in Woodstock N. B. She could not wear their glasses and her eyes grew worse. Two years ago just before moving to B. C., with her husband she came to me, I treated her by my new discovery and supplied her with glasses. She now writes me as follows, the glasses are a perfect fit. You evidently have the right theory. My eyes are better than for years. Many thanks.

MRS R L FREEMAN. If your eyes trouble you at all, come in and let me examine them FREE.

I would also like to call your attention to a new line of Jewelry just in, finer and more beautiful than I have ever carried before, my souvenir goods especially will interest and attract you.
