Rheumatism

I have found a tried and tested cure for Rheumatism! Not a remedy that will straighten the distorted limbs of chronic cripples, nor turn bony growths back to flesh again. That is impossible.
But I can now surely kill the pains and pangs of this deplorable disease.
In Germany—with a Chemist in the City of Darmstadt—I found the last ingredient with which Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Remedy was made a perfected, dependable prescription. Without that last ingredient, I successfully treated many, many cases of Rheumatism; but now, at last, it uniformly cures all curable cases of this heretofore much dreaded disease. Those sand-like granular wastes, found in Rheumatic Blood, seem to dissolve and pass away under the action of this remedy as freely as does sugar when added to pure water.
And then, when dissolved, these poisonous wastes freely pass from the system, and the cause of Rheumatism is gone forever. There is now no real need—no actual excuse to suffer longer without help. We sell, and in confidence recommend

An Arctic Excelsior.

The shades of night were falling fast As through the Arctic regions passed A man who bore, 'mid snow and ice, A banner with this strange device:

"DocCooksalial!"

"Try not the mud!" the old man said;
"Prevent the proof and close your head; The lecture platform's deep and wide!"
And loud the clarion voice replied:

"DocCooksalial!"

"Beware the Ananias herd!
Beware the short-and-ugly word!"
This was the public's last Good night.
A voice replied far down the height:

"DocCooksalial!"

A has-been of Chautauquas' round Beneath oblivion's snow was found Still grasping in his hand of ice That hammer with the strange device:

"DocCooksalial!"

Apparently a Mistake.

A story comes from a Kentucky town that is worth repeating. There lives there a woman who says that she has immediate communion with the Almighty, and now and then delivers to these of common clay a message that she has received from on high.
The fact that these messages sometimes take on a very materialistic hue does not alter their effectiveness, in her opinion.

One day she went into the office of a well known attorney and approached him solemnly as one about to reveal an awe-inspiring secret.

"The Lord sent me to you for $25," she announced.

The attorney looked up and smiled.

"That must be a mistake," he replied, blandly, "because the Lord knows I have not got it."

Celestial communication was thereupon broken off.

Fashions and Fads.

A little sashet slipped under the lining of one's tailored coat will not be noticeable, and the fragrance will be found pleasing.

Lorgnettes of silver and gold are giving way to those of tortoise-shell, with the owner's monogram cleverly inlaid with silver.

Long sword hat pins, made of tortoiseshell, not only serve well with the season's hats, but match the hair ornaments of the hour.

The "gold dollar" shade is a yellow that attracts much favorable attention. It is superb in velvet, satin, gauzes and chiffon cloths.

The owlhead is featured in the new Paris hat pins. These heads are rich in irrides-cent colorings and are really quite attractive.

Some of the new shopping bags are provided with a vinaigrette, as well as the usual small purse, mirror, powder puff and card case.

The popular Circassian coiffure, flat and wide must show no hairpins except the four huge shell ones that hold the coils in place.

The Russian turban, in heavy fur or velvet, is one of the leading styles, and it is consistent with the rage for Russian fashions generally.

A very attractive jabot for a person in half mourning is a double frill of accordionpleated mull; one of the frills in white and other in black.

Evening frocks for young girls are being made in very dainty dewdrop net, lightly spangled with small crystals and made up over ivory-white soft satin.

Maneaters and Brains.

(Abdul Majid in London Saturday Review.)

India is often pointed out as a country where the common diet is vegetables, and it is sometimes alleged by the food reformers that the strongest Indians are found to subsist on a pure vegetable diet. The fact is that meat forms a part of the diet of all the Indian communities that can readily boast of their physical strength. The gallant Rajputs, the sturdy Pathans, the valiant Sikhs—all of whom represent the warlike classes of India —are well known fish-eaters. The only abstainers are the Jains and a section of the Arya Samajists. But these communities have never been known to exhibit any sort of physical superiority over the flesh-eaters.

They have never produced a warrior.

The most intellectual classes of India are again found to be flesh-eaters. The Parsis, the Bengalis, the Kashmiries, the Kachhis, all of them partake more or less of animal food. The entire Mussulman community of India—forming a population of about sixty millions—the intellectual and physical activities of which are too well known to be repeated here, is, with only a few exceptions, a flesh eating community.

Miss M. London.

Word was received last week of the death at Montreal of Miss M. London, of Canterbury Station (N. B.) Two nephew—Charles and Edward London—who have been attending McGill, brought the body home for burial. Miss London, with her brother, conducted a large general store at Canterbury Station. She was one of the most popular ladies in the county and many friends will hear with regret of her death.

Death of Thomas Gardiner.

The death of Thomas Gardiner, aged 79 years, and formerly of this province, is reported at Prince Albert, Sask; on the 25th ult; after a lingering illness. Deceased formerly resided at Knowlesville, Carleton county, but for the last ten years he had been at Prince Albert. Besides a widow he is survived by three sons and one daughter, Mrs. W. A. McEwen, of Spokane, Washington.

New York Society and The Opera.
(Harpers Bazar):

Our hostess, after the first preliminary sweep of her opera-glasses, post-pones the more delicate scrutiny and leans back to enjoy a moments passive satisfaction. For she has already seen enough to know that her party in membership and adornment, has no superior among the other boxes. Has she not, sitting next her, the beautiful Englishwoman whose ambitious indiscretions are admitted to be regal in their field of operation, who is spending a few weeks in New York, and who is most fastidious in her acceptance of invitations? Has she not placed next to this quasi-royal guest her own lovely stepdaughter by her husband's divorced wife, an act of maternal solicitude which she could not have improved on if the girl had been her own daughter by her divorced husband?
Is not her English guest a dazzling marvel in dress and jewels? Is not her lovely stepdaughter a shimmering triumph of extravagant simplicity—her dress, her dog-collar, her demeanor all virginally quiet, obviously most expensive? Is not her own appearance the most incomparably splendid which taste and money can provide?

She is proud of the appearance of her box, she is delighted at the appearance of the other women. For the opera has lifted her to such dizzy heights of artificiality that she has left the woman far below and is now the disembodied hostess. She does not resent the splendor of the women next her, she does not wish to eclipse them, she does not fear their eclipsing her, she is perfectly willing, if need be to shine in reflected jewels. All for which she yearns is that they will collaborate with her to make her box the most brilliant at the opera.

CHRISTMAS STAMP CAMPAIGN

THE 1909 BATTLE AGAINST THE DREAD WHITE PLAGUE.

Available Beds in the Muskoka Free Hospital for Consumptives Increased Three-Fold as a Result of Last Year's Sale of Christmas Stamps. The Number Can Be Doubled This Year If Everyone Will Help.

STIMULATED by the success of a year ago the National Sanitarium Association have made large preparations for the sale of the Christmas Stamp of 1909-10, issued on behalf of the Muskoka Free Hospital for Consump-tives.

Tuberculosis that would bring hope and joy and gladness to thousands of homes and communities in all parts of Canada.

The stamp of 1909 is more beautiful than that of a year ago. The design is as shown in this article, but printed in red and green, and is of same size as the regular government postage stamp.

This Christmas stamp will not carry any kind of mail, but any kind of mail will carry it—and carry too the happy Season's Greetings from sender to receiver. The stamps will be done up in envelopes of ten, twenty-five, fifty and one hundred for ordinary selling, and large users will be supplied in quantities. The price for ten or for one thousand is a cent each.

The banks, department stores, drug stores, book and stationery stores and many other stores will sell them. Women's clubs, church organizations, bible classes and Sunday schools, public schools, and many other organizations and individuals will help this year as last year.

There would seem to be no reason why everybody everywhere may not help in forming an army of willing workers to sell these stamps all over the Dominion. The Muskoka Free Hospital for Consumptives is in the fullest sense a national institution caring for patients from every province in Canada.

The first issue of the stamp for this year is one million, and these will be put into circulation immediately, but there can hardly be any reason why the issue should not be increased many times over before Christmas.

The direction of the sale of Christmas Stamps is in the hands of Mr. J.
S. Robertson, Sec.-Treasurer, National Sanitarium Association, 347 King Street, West, Toronto, who will give prompt reply to any enquiries regarding the stamp.
