Buy Clothing Carefully.

The simple fact that you have been buying from a man or men for years does not mean that you should always buy there, regardless of what others are offering. Look around and see what is on the market. Compare prices and qualities and purchase from the man who gives you best value for the price you wish to pay. Don't buy with your eyes closed. We simply want to be included in your visiting list. And if we cannot give you better value than the other man, we don't expect you to buy. New fresh up-to-date stock. The matter of price and quality we leave to your own judgment.

Letter From Rev. F. A. Currier.

To the Editor of The Dispatch:

Dear Sir,—In my last letter I intimated that I would publish the letter written at Needles by Ward Burpee and sent to William Everett. After due consideration I think it is best that it should not be published at least not at present.

There are two reasons why I have decided not to publish this letter. In the first place it is so indecent that I am doubtful if you would print it in your paper, and in the second place it is vicious. There is MURDER in the letter. This letter is signed Roy Dow, Ward Burpee, Hurd Burpee and Saddle Burpee.

I shall now proceed to tell the story of that famous Burpee-Dow migration in the month of March last. Ward Burpee, Hurd Burpee and Roy Dow had made the first payments on their farms in the Whatehan Valley and when I returned from B. C. Feb. 11th, I was surprised to find these parties preparing to move out on their farms. I told them that the Arrow Lake at Needles was frozen so hard that teams were crossing on the ice and that the snow was not off the ground and recommended that one of them go out and look the Valley over before they moved everything out there. They said they were willing to take it on my recommendation. They said they had not made one dollar off their farms in the last two years and that it could not be any worse out there than that. I then suggested that Mrs. Burpee stay East until the fall or late summer. I suggested that the men go out and clear the land and plant their crops and build the houses and barns and that then they send for Mrs. Burpee. Ward Burpee said "What is good enough for me is good enough for my wife." Mrs. Burpee said "I want to go along with him so that he will not get discouraged." So I said nothing more about the matter. I mention this fact because one of their strongest censures was that I did not advise Mrs. Burpee not to go. I wish to make this fact plain.

In the most essential matters these parties would take no advice, neither mine nor Mr. McAllister's nor even that of the Company. They took their own way and when they found out that they had made mistakes not wishing to take the blame of their own folly they very graciously and very generously laid it against me.

When I returned from B. C. and found these parties were getting ready to move out I told them that the Arrow Lake was frozen over so hard that teams were crossing and that the ice would likely be firm for some time as the steamers were making no effort to break through it. I advised them to wait until the ice was clear. They said they guessed it would be all right and even if they did have to wait at Arrowhead for a while they had friends there whom they wished to visit and they would enjoy it all right until the ice was clear. I told them that the snow was not off in the Valley and that they had better wait and not leave until April. They said they wanted to get up in the Valley before the snow was off so that they would have time to build their houses and barns, for as soon as the snow was off they would want to go clearing their land. Well, that really did sound as if they intended to do something.

When I found out that they were determined to go right out I did everything in my power to assist them in every way. I secured cars for them at Winnipeg at about two-thirds the price at which they could have gotten them, and I advised them to the very best of my wisdom what to take and what not to take. In reference to the time of going they would, as in most other matters, take no advice.

I advised them not to leave Woodstock until the first of April, that although the steamers were running on the Upper and Lower Lakes yet the Narrows between these two lakes were frozen and they could not get to the Needles. Mr. McAllister writing them from the Needles told them that the ice was still firm in the Lake and that teams were still crossing and for them not to leave until April. The Company at Winnipeg also wrote me to the same effect and I informed the Burpees of this advice but it had no effect on them whatever. Four days before they left Mr. McAllister wired me from Needles to hold the Burpees as the ice was still firm in the Lake and they could not get down to Needles. I took this telegram over to Dr. Jewett's knowing that Ward Burpee was there and I showed it to Ward Burpee and—he went just the same.

So soon as they started I wrote the Company at Winnipeg and to Mr. McAllister at Needles informing them of the fact and also

Death of Former Woodstock Man.

H. A. Amiraux, of Woodstock, N. B., but since 1877 a resident of Montana, died on Nov. 13 in St. Patrick's hospital, Missoula. His death was the direct result of injuries received when he was struck by a Northern Pacific passenger engine. Mr. Amiraux was then working on the outside of the track near Van Buren street, close enough to the rails to be struck. His life had been despaired of for more than 24 hours before death came.

He was born in Woodstock, N. B., on April 15th 1832, and was 77 years of age at the time of his death. In 1874 he moved to Oshkosh, Wis., and from that city he went to Missoula in 1877. At first he was employed as bookkeeper for the Higgins & Worden company and later, in 1882 he took charge of the inn at Baker station, now Clinton. Four years afterward he took a ranch in the Blackfoot valley, near Potomac, and there he lived until 1900. Then he went back to Missoula, to live at the home of his son-in-law, George Elliott.

Mr. Amiraux was married before he went to Montana. He is survived by his wife and the following children: Mrs. G. L. Elliott, Mrs. W. H. Smith, and Mrs. O. S. Worden, all of Missoula, Mrs. P. H. Mahony of San Francisco, Henry A. Amiraux of Butte and George P. Amiraux of Washington.

George W. White.

After five week's illness, from typhoid fever, George White died at 3:30 on Tuesday afternoon in the hospital, leaving many friends.

Deceased was a native of Aroostook county, near Houlton, but has resided in this town for some years. His widow, Miss Lydia Blake of Woodstock, one child Edith, his parents and one brother survives.

The funeral which was largely attended was held on Thursday afternoon. The pall bearers were William Rudge, Hedy Keech, Herb Bull and Leslie Post. These were firemen from Railway Brotherhood. The funeral services were conducted by Rev. H. Q. Kennedy at the residence of the father-in-law of deceased Wm Blake, Maple street.

Church News.

Judge Forbes, of St. John, occupied the pulpit of St. Paul's Presbyterian church on Sunday morning. He took his text from Matthew: "Go ye into all the world and preach the gospel to every creature." In the evening the service was taken by the Rev. Mr. McDonald, of Richmond.

The meeting held in the Reformed Baptist church under the auspices of the Canadian Bible Society, was largely attended. D. McL. Vince, the local president, occupied the chair, and very excellent addresses were given by His Honor Judge Forbes and the Rev. G. M. Campbell, of St. John.

The Rev. G. M. Campbell preached in the Methodist church on Sunday evening to a large congregation.

Judge Forbes occupied the pulpit of the United Baptist church on Sunday evening.

BABY'S OWN TABLETS

A SMILE IN EVERY DOSE.

Smiling, happy, healthy little ones are found in every home where Baby's Own Tablets are used. An occasional dose regulates the stomach and bowels and keeps little ones well, or will speedily restore health if sickness comes unexpectedly. Ask any mother who has used this medicine for her children and she will tell you there is nothing else so safe and sure. Mrs. N. Paquin, St. Wenceslas, Que., says:—"I have used Baby's Own Tablets for most of the ailments of childhood, and have not known them to fail. From my own experience I can recommend them to all mothers." Sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Obituary.

The death of Samuel Cain, aged about forty-six years, formerly a resident of Knox-ford, this county, occurred Oct. 27th 1909, at Weiser, Idaho.

Deceased left New Brunswick when scarcely more than a boy, and for many years was engaged in mining in Batte, Mont. being for sometime overseer in the "Neversweat" mine.

In 1904, he with his family, visited his old home in the east.

Upon returning to Batte, his health failed and he removed to Weiser, hoping to be benefited by the change to outdoor life on a fruit farm. Although better for a time, the result was not permanent.

He is survived by his wife, formerly Miss Annie Estabrooks, eldest daughter of Gideon Estabrooks, of Chester Car. Co and two children, Philp and Lillian Governor Fraser Here December 2nd.

The Canadian Club is to be congratulated on having secured as its first lecturer this season, the Hon. Duncan C. Fraser, Lieutenant Governor of Nova Scotia. Governor Fraser is easily one of Canada's greatest orators. He has had a long and varied experience upon the public platform, throughout Canada and in many cities in the United States. He is eagerly sought by Canadian Clubs, and other similar organizations everywhere. Everyone in the town should make an effort to hear Governor Fraser when he speaks here in the evening of December 2nd, in the Hayden-Gibson Theatre. You can be assured of an evening of unusual enjoyment, and it costs you nothing. Remember the date December 2nd, and help to give Governor Fraser such a house and such a welcome as is worthy of the town and of the lecturer.

Probably a Fatal Accident.

What may prove to be a fatal accident occurred Sunday morning in connection with necessary work on the C. P. R. new bridge at Upper Woodstock.

Albert McArdle, one of a crew of men, while at work, fell from a girder head foremost to the ground below, a distance of 35 feet, fracturing his skull, puncturing his kidneys, and sustaining other injuries. He was taken immediately to the hospital.

Mr. McArdle is a native of Hamilton, Ont., and 28 years of age. He has a wife and one child in that city.

The Hamilton Bridge Company has the contract to erect the bridge. Last winter they sent down a gang of men who worked all winter, then work was suspended. A few weeks ago Mr. McArdle accompanied a second crew of men from that city, and it was hoped that the work would be completed in January next.

Mr. McArdle was trying to place a sleeper in position with a peevy, when he lost his balance, and in his descent striking the edge of the bridge, then the bridge pier and falling on his head and one shoulder on a pile of boards and shingles on the ground.

Mr. McArdle was not so well on Tuesday, and had developed meningitis.

Warning.

The Family Herald and Weekly Star of Montreal in this week's issue are warning their present subscribers to renew earlier than usual this season, as there is an enormous demand from new subscribers and there is apt to be a congestion at the close of the year. The new premium pictures, "The Soul's Awakening," is causing a perfect furor of enthusiasm in all parts of the Dominion. It is certainly a beautiful picture and is appreciated more and more the oftener one sees it. It is 19x24 inches, ready for framing. A copy is sent to every subscriber for 1910, and along with such a paper as The Family Herald Weekly Star at one dollar a year certainly is the best bargain of the year. Clergymen of all denominations are urging parents to become possessors of a copy of this interesting picture.
