

Spring Fashions.

(Boston Herald.)

Much cannot be said about the early spring fashions, although they are shown in the shops with many linen and pongee dresses which give a fair idea of what is to be worn the coming season.

The lines of the gowns are startling in some cases and show much complication, and for this reason make dress-making at home a rather difficult task. The pattern houses, however, are very reliable and the patterns of some of the most complicated of models are simply cut and put together.

Almost no model for the coming season will be made with the long waist line at the back, at least, and many of the models leave a very high waist line both back and front. Many of the new spring costumes are made with the skirt long enough to break slightly on the ground all around—a new idea for walking skirts—and so narrow that only a touch is necessary to lift it clear off the ground in walking.

This style gives the new long lines to perfection, but is not quite so practical for the every-day woman. These narrow skirts are being faced on the inside of the hem with a wide band of the material of the gown to give the necessary weight and to permit dragging about the ankles in these petticoatless days.

This facing must be most carefully and smoothly adjusted, however, or a very clumsy look will be attained. Even greater care should be employed in fashioning a skirt when the upper part is puckered into a scanty-narrow flounce, or a most ugly garment will be the result. The model skirt with its fishtail sweep in back clinging front will not be adopted by all women, for it is too exaggerated to be practical.

To those women who do not take kindly to this new idea, plaited models have been devised, the plaits apparently appearing from nowhere at about the knee and falling out at the bottom. Plaits are always attractive in any kind of a skirt model and are extremely becoming to most women.

The spring and summer season promise to be one tone in colour scheme—everything must match. Shoes may be had now, like gloves, in almost any shade. At the moment, suede boots with pearl and jet buttons are very much worn. For the summer, linen boots in every shade are offered, and it will certainly be one's own fault if she goes illly shod this season.

Those suede shoes are very durable, too, for the long run, provided a good quality is bought in the first place. A cheap shoe is never advisable. It loses its shape very quickly and its lines are never so good.

Anger.

Chicago News.

Dr. Maurice de Fleury, a distinguished Frenchman, advances the theory that every time one becomes angry his vitality shrinks. After even the most artfully suppressed signs of bad temper the vitality becomes smaller and smaller until nothing is left. Anger is a certain kind of cerebral excitement, explains Dr. de Fleury. The hyperthemic subject is always on its verge while neurasthenic becomes infuriated only by a sudden bound of reaction excited from without. But at that moment when they are let loose the two are alike, save that the strong man is a blinder brute, while the weak man is somewhat of an actor and seems to aim at effect.

"My youngest boy, 3 years old, was sick with fever last June, and when he got better the doctor prescribed Scott's Emulsion, and he liked it so well that he drank it out of the bottle, and is now just as plump and strong as any child of his age anywhere . . . two bottles fixed him O.K."—MR. JOHN F. TEDDER, Box 263, Teague-Freestone Co., Texas.

is the greatest help for babies and young children there is. It just fits their need; it just suits their delicate, sensitive natures; they thrive on it. Just a little does them so much good and saves you so much worry. You owe it to them and yourself to make them as strong and healthy as possible. SCOTT'S EMULSION will help you better than anything else; but be sure to get SCOTT'S. It's the best, and there are so many worthless imitations.

Mr. Tedder has just written us another letter about his brother-in-law's children. Let us send you his letters and other information on the subject. A Post Card, mentioning this paper, is sufficient.

Indigestion Ends.

You can eat anything your stomach craves without fear of a case of Indigestion or Dyspepsia, or that your food will ferment or sour on your stomach if you will occasionally take a little Diapiesin after eating.

Your meals will taste good, and anything you eat will be digested; nothing can ferment or turn into acid or poison or stomach gas, which causes Belching, Dizziness, a feeling of fullness after eating, Nausea, Indigestion (like a lump of lead in stomach), Biliousness, Heartburn, Water brash, Pain in stomach and intestines or other symptoms.

Headaches from the stomach are absolutely unknown where this effective remedy is used. Diapiesin really does all the work of a healthy stomach. It digests your meals when your stomach can't. Each triangle will digest all the food you can eat and leave nothing to ferment or sour.

Get a large 50-cent case of Pape's Diapiesin from your druggist and start taking today and by tomorrow you will actually brag about your healthy, strong Stomach, for you then can eat anything and everything you want without the slightest discomfort or misery, and every particle of impurity and Gas that is in your stomach and intestines is going to be carried away without the use of laxatives or any other assistance.

The Force of Example.

Children from the very first moment they are capable of noticing, are imitative. How important then it is that the power of learning by example should be wisely directed so that they may as much as possible, learn only what is right for them to imitate. How careful indeed should parents be that good examples be shown.

If parents are bad tempered, loud spoken, sulky, impatient or vulgar in action or language, the children are likely to grow up the same; but if gentle in manners and language, the result in the education of children will be beneficial in the highest degree. Remember the old proverb displayed over the ancient gateway in New College, Oxford, "Manners maketh man." So it becomes those who have the care of children to be very careful in speech and action, before the young, to set a pattern of good temper and manners and not only is it essential that proper examples with regard to temper and deportment be observed, but it is important and necessary that children should be instructed by imitation to have respect for truth. Quick indeed is the child to discover pervariation or untruth in those with whom they are accustomed to associate, the little fib, told for the sake of peace or prevention of anger, is a great mistake. Many children have been injured in after life by parental transgression of the laws of truth.

Another consideration is that children should not be bribed to be good and to perform deeds of generosity and kindness but be made to feel the advantage and pleasure of good conduct for its own sake, not for what they may get.

Some parents and teachers are continually threatening children without carrying those threats into execution. Such children soon learn to disregard threats and become wayward, disobedient and deceitful. It becomes necessary to punish a child, punishment should be administered without passion and with a clear understanding, on the part of the child, that it is corrective and not revengeful.—R. S.

The Observant Woman.

(Boston Herald.)

The latest novelty in blouses is one of all over white lingerie embroidery, covered with colored chiffon.

A very good grade of studs and buttons come made of elephant ivory. They will not break, and are softer than the celluloid variety.

Very unusual and pretty is the jewelry set with polished Japanese abalone shell. There are clover and bar pins, watch fobs and pendants.

The old fondness for flowered cretonne seems to have returned, for ruffs and revers of a small rose design are noticed on some of the new spring suits.

A very fetching spring turbau is a Russian shape, covered entirely with violets and ornamented with a narrow purple velvet band around the crown and a lavender rose on one side.

Very fetching are the white straw hats with pink straw facings. One particularly chic affair had a bunch of pink roses on one side and a large bowknot of pink velvet ribbon.

Some of the embroidered lingerie pattern dresses shown in the spring display have hems and others touches of color—sometimes lavender, pink or blue, or perhaps a deep rose or navy blue.

An exquisitely pretty statuette is of Vienna bisque ware of a delicate blue white color. The figure is a quaint little lady with a poke bonnet, old-fashioned tight waist and very full skirt. Her parasol is made so that it serves as a vase, and a bunch of gay red geraniums and greens leaves gives a pretty touch of color. Another statuette represents a French dame of the Marie Antoinette period with a large basket of pink rosebuds on either side of her.

The Only Way

Don't believe rheumatism can be cured by rubbing liniment or oil on the sore spot. The disease cannot be reached in that way. It must be driven out of the system. Only Celery King will do this quickly. 25 cents at dealers or by mail. S. C. Wells & Co., Toronto

ANALYTICAL CHEMIST TELLS OF PATENT MEDICINES

A graduate in organic chemistry, who has made a study of many of the best-known patent medicines on the market, states that many have virtue, but as a rule people have to pay for a lot of unnecessary expense. The following is the recipe of a well-known secret preparation, and is known by authority to be one of the best stomach and liver tonics. It is prescribed by many of the best physicians.

This mixture cures constipation and biliousness. The recipe:—
Fluid Extract Cascara . . . . . 1/2 oz.
Syrup Rhubarb . . . . . 1 oz.
Carrianna Compound . . . . . 1 oz.
Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla 5 oz.

Take a teaspoonful after each meal and at bedtime.

An eminent authority, who has made a careful and scientific study of the relative values of drugs having a specific action on the kidneys, bladder, and liver, pronounces this an excellent combination. You can buy the ingredients separately and mix at home. Cut this formula out and save it.

NAPOLEON SAID

"An army marches on its stomach." By that he meant that half-starved men are not strong enough to march. And you know that. Half-starved men and women are not strong enough to work, or to play and be happy. You should also know that Indigestion means slow starvation. More than half the people who soon tire and become depressed, who feel life a burden and who go listlessly to their day's work, would find life a daily song if they set their digestion right with Mother Seigel's Syrup—the digestive tonic compounded of roots and herbs. Take it daily after meals and test it yourself.
