This Flying Process.

Reading history of the olden days, one is struck with the cruelty of victors to the vanquished. All the machinery that the human mind could invent was put in use to cause exquisite suffering. Probably the aborigines of this country were as extensively versed in the matter of torture as any other race of humans. It seems that something more cruel than even scalping is practised on the floor of the Legislative Assembly in Fredericton. We read in the paper that "Flemming flays Tweedale" and on the very same day that Upham "flies" the government. It does appear discouraging after all these centuries of Christianity and civilization that such savage practices should still be resorted to, and the worst of it is that our Carleton County members are the most blood thirsty of the whole House. According to one St. John paper Mr. Flemming "flying" Mr. Tweedale. This certainly was cruelty enough for one day, but when it comes to Mr. Upham retaliating by "flying" all the government, the retaliation seems almost inadequate to the original offence. Is there no way of stopping this most cruel and painful punishment? "Flying" is said to be a most exquisite sort of torture. This modest Journal ventures to urge that it is time to call quits. What use can a legislator be, after he is "flying"? Parkman tells us that scalping generally killed the victim. Surely a "flying" legislator is more mutilated than if he had only been scalped. What a bloody sight the floor of the legislature must present with these poor crippled stumps of bodies minus the pericardis attempting to continue at their duties. Now, if a few useless newspaper men were "flying" it wouldn't matter so much.

Bowling.

HOULTON vs. WOODSTOCK.

A close and exciting game was played in the Woodstock alleys on Tuesday evening last between a team from Houlton and a picked team from town. Considering the very little practice put in by the Woodstock boys, they made a very good showing, only being eight pins behind the opponents at the finish. Manager Fields entertained the Houlton team at the Royal Cafe after the game. Following is the score:

NEW STRENGTH IN THE SPRING

Nature Needs Aid in Making New, Health-Giving Blood.

In the spring the system needs toning up. In the spring to be healthy and strong you must have new blood, just as the trees must have new sap. Nature demands it and without this new blood you will feel weak and languid. You may have twinges of rheumatism or the sharp stabbing pains of neuralgia. Often there are disfiguring pimples or eruptions on the skin. In other cases there is merely a feeling of tiredness, and a variable appetite. Any of these are signs that the blood is out of order—that the indoor life of winter has told upon you. What is needed to put you right is a tonic and in all the world there is no tonic can equal Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. These Pills actually make new, rich, red blood—your greatest need in spring. This new blood drives out disease, clears the skin and makes weak, easily tired men and women and children bright, active and strong. Mrs. J. C. Moses, Branton, N. S., says:—"Last spring my daughter was completely run down, she was very pale, had no appetite, and became very nervous, and we were alarmed about her. We decided to give her Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and soon after she began taking them there was a decided improvement. She gained in weight and vigor, her color returned, and her whole system seemed to have been built anew. I can warmly recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to all who need a medicine."

Sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Fashionable Wedding.

St. Paul's Church was the scene of a fashionable wedding at 1 o'clock to day, the occasion being the marriage of Herbert Connell, Civil Engineer, of Lethbridge, Alberta, son of W. M. Connell, Woodstock, N. B., to Miss Nellie Huat, daughter of Dr. J. J. Hunt, K. C., of this city. The church was none too large to hold the gathering of friends of the contracting parties. As the guests arrived at the church they were ushered to seats reserved for them in the middle aisle, by Messrs. Cyril Mitchell, G. E. Nichols, Aubrey Bullock and Dr. Bruce Almon.

The officiating clergymen were Rev. Dr. W. J. Armitage, Rev. Mr. Beverley and Rev. J. L. Donaldson. The service was full choral and Mr. Wright presided at the organ and played the wedding march.

The bride was attended by Miss Elsie Brown and Miss Winnie Winterbourne, while Dr. Philip Weatherbe acted in the capacity of groomsmen.

The bride, who was given away by her father, looked charming attired in a creation of white satin trimmed with pearls, lace and chiffon, and she wore a handsome white embroidered net veil and carried a shower bouquet of white roses.

The bridesmaids were beautifully gowned alike, wearing costumes of champagne crepe de cheng over yellow silk and handsome hats trimmed with brown. Each carried bouquets of delicate shade of pink carnation.

At the conclusion of the ceremony the happy couple were driven to the residence of the bride's father and mother, 92 Victoria Road, where luncheon was served to about seventy guests.

The bride was the recipient of an extraordinarily large number of costly gifts, among them being a handsome ruby and diamond ring from the groom. Other presents included a jewel case from the Junior Woman's Auxiliary of St. Paul's church, and also a set of silver sugar tongs from another junior society of the church. The bride's Sunday-school class remembered her by a nice gift, being a set of silver sugar spoons. Other presents included cheques from both the bride's father and mother.

The groom's gift to the bridesmaids were gold Roman bangles, and he gave the groomsmen a set of gold cuff links with his initials engraved thereon. The ushers received gold and pearl stick pins.

After receiving congratulations from their guests, the happy couple left on the 3.30 train for a trip through the Province, returning to Halifax before leaving for Lethbridge, where Mr. and Mrs. Connell will reside.

The bride's travelling dress was a pretty shade of blue with hat to correspond. —Halifax Chronicle, Feb. 24th.

What A Run-a-way Horse Did.

An interesting case was tried in the County Court on Friday and Saturday of last week, in the case of James Miller vs. Edward Porter. Both the plaintiff and defendant live in Northampton parish near Grafton and are engaged in farming. The facts leading up to the action are not such as occur very often, fortunately. It seems that in June last, both these men were engaged with teams in gathering up hay that lay alongside the road way. Miller was with a double team working at the foot of a hill, while Porter with a single horse was beyond the top of the hill. He was loading on the hay into the wagon and starting up his horse and stopping it as he gathered his load. Without any apparent cause the horse started up of its own accord and proceeded to run away and dashed helter skelter down the hill, with, of course, wagon attached. At the foot of the hill was Mr. Miller with his pair of horses and his wagon. The run-a-way horse smashed into his team, the shaft of the wagon entered one of the horses of the plaintiff causing such a severe wound that the horse died. So, the plaintiff brought action for the value of his horse which he put at $200.00. The case was a typical case of negligence, and was particularly interesting from its legal aspect as well as from the presentation of the facts. The defendant admitted that the horse ran away, but rather set up that the plaintiff was contributory to the negligence inasmuch as he endeavoured to stop the runaway and thereby contributed to the accident. The jury after a short deliberation brought in a verdict for the plaintiff for $75.00. Hon. W. P. Jones appeared for the plaintiff and Mr. F. B. Carvell M. P. for the defendant.

On Monday the case of the Bank of Nova Scotia vs. John McKinney was withdrawn. The case of Frank P. Clark vs. George W. Ward was, by consent adjourned until Monday May 10th at 10.

Report on the Milk Samples.

The Board of Health sent to McGill University for analysis, four samples of milk taken from four of the milk venders who supply the town, Charles Peabody, Peabody Bros., W. R. Davidson, and Cyrus Vanwart. On Monday the Secretary received from Prof. Starkey his report on the same. It is a very complete analysis and may be said, by the way, to be favorable as to the quality of the milk. The following will be satisfactory reading for those who have suspicions that the milk contains typhoid bacteria:—"In all four milks after a very careful and lengthy search there is absolutely no evidence of typhoid organisms nor of organisms of the color typhoid group approaching the typhoid bacillus. Hence as far as the present samples are concerned there is positively no evidence to suggest that these milks can be carriers of disease."

Temperance Sunday.

Temperance Sunday was observed in the Reformed Baptist church by a sermon on temperance by Rev. B. Colpitts at 11 a. m., and an excellent temperance programme by the Sunday school assisted by the choir. The male quartette, Messrs F. L. Mooers, G. H. Arnold, H. A. Palmer, and E. Campbell sang, "The Wayside Cross." The orchestra composed of G. H. Arnold and G. A. Britton 1st and 2nd cornets, Prof. A. Reed and H. A. Palmer, 1st and 2nd violins, Dr. Kirkpatrick, Saxophone, J. A. Doak, clarinet, Dr. J. E. Jewett, Bass Viol, and Mrs. J. E. Jewett, organist, rendered three selections, viz, "Dear Spirit Lead Me," "Let Him in," and "Face to Face." Dr. J. E. Jewett, the Superintendent of the Temperance Department presided.

J. L. Stewart, editor of the Chatham World, and President of the New Brunswick Association, in his address at the Annual Meeting of the Association in Fredericton last week, closed with the following touching reference to the late N. Foster Thorne.

"The pleasure I feel in meeting my professional brethren today, the pleasure we all feel in meeting each other in a gathering of this kind, is marred by sorrow at the absence of one who never failed to be with us when he was man among men. His lovable personality, his sunny disposition, the professional ability that made his short career so successful, the forecast of political advancement that was written in his triumphs in municipal elections, the elevation of his mind above the petty jealousies that are too often shown by young newspaper men, his happy marriage—all combined to make him a favorite with his fellows, and an ornament to the profession of journalism. We all, when the sweet Christmas chimes ring for other ears than his, will, like John Norton in his cabin, twining wreaths to hang upon a portrait on the wall, twine wreaths for N. Foster Thorne's picture, and, as we twine the everlasting branches in, say, with the old trapper, 'We miss him so.'"

It may be pretty well taken for granted that the typhoid fever epidemic in town is abating. Now and then we hear of a new case, but there is no indication of a long continued siege. People outside town have very strange ideas about the fever. There is absolutely no danger in visiting town. The doctors tell us, and if they don't know it is hard so say who does, that typhoid is a water borne disease. It comes originally through this source. It is not a disease like diphtheria or scarlet fever or small-pox that is in the air. Persons attend typhoid fever patients with comparative immunity from danger. To think that there is any danger in coming to Woodstock, simply because there are twenty or thirty people sick with typhoid fever is the silliest kind of nonsense.
