Cedron Seed Plant.
In Central America many natives are gathering the seeds of this plant, Cedron Seed, a rare medicine that has valuable curative powers. But few drug stores carry this seed, owing to the high cost of the article.
This country is a large consumer of this costly seed because it enters into the famous catarrh remedy, Peruna, sold the world over.

Lecture on Forestry.
James Lawlor, of the Ontario Forestry Department, who is here to attend the Forestry Convention to be held in Fredericton on Feb 23 and 24, gave his first lecture in this province last Tuesday in the Theatre on the Conservation of our resources. The lecture was given under the auspices of the Canadian Club. Rev. G. D. Ireland, the chairman, and J. C. Hartley, were on the platform with the speaker. There was a fair sized audience present.

Mr. Lawlor illustrated his lecture with a number of fine stereopticon views. The area of the forests of Canada, he said, has been very much over estimated. Very much of the timber is not merchantable except for firewood. The best estimates for the amount of merchantable timber are at from one-third to one-half that of the United States.

A very generous estimate places the available supply at 532 billion feet board measure.
This seems an enormous quantity, but at the present rate of consumption this would last the United States only 12 years, or England, which is a more careful user, 60 years. He said that New Brunswick had 7,750,000 acres in Crown Lands, on which was received in stumpage, $450,000.

So well are the forests in the Old Country preserved that Prussia's net revenue on seven million acres is seventeen million dollars a year, Saxony has 400,000 acres. Ontario has still in the possession of the Crown, 116, 080,000 acres, or 290 times as much. The forest revenues of Saxony and Ontario are about equal, while the area is being increased on the former country and decreased on the latter.

A vote of thanks was given the lecturer after which the meeting closed with singing the National Anthem.

Catarrh Cannot Be Cured. with LOCAL APPLICATIONS, as they cannot reach the seat of the disease. Catarrh is a blood or constitutional disease, and in order to cure it you must take internal remedies.
Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, and acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Cure is not a quick medicine. It was prescribed by one of the best physicians in this country for years and is a regular prescription. It is composed of the best tonics known, combined with the best blood purifiers, acting directly on the mucous surfaces. The perfect combination of the two ingredients is what produces such wonderful results in curing Catarrh. Send

A Thousand Successful Men.
I have on my desk a list of 1,000 successful men of this nation. By "successful" I do not mean mere money makers, but men who have given us new conceptions of steam, electricity, construction work, education, art, etc. These are the men who influence our moral as well as our physical lives. They construct for better things.

How these men started in work is interesting. Their first foothold in work is a fine study.

Three hundred started as farmers' sons.
Two hundred started as messenger boys.
Two hundred were newsboys.
One hundred were printers' apprentices.
One hundred were apprenticed in manufactories.

Fifty began at the bottom of Railway work.

Fifty—only fifty—had wealthy parents to give them a start.—Juvenile Court Record.

Wedding Anniversaries.
It is the twenty-fifth anniversary of a marriage that is usually specially celebrated under the title of the silver wedding, while the fiftieth is a golden wedding day and the sixtieth the diamond. Other wedding days have their distinctive names and are in some families signified by the presentation of gifts relating to the title of the day. The first anniversary is the cotton one, the second the paper wedding day, the third the leather, the fifth the wooden, the seventh the woolen the tenth the tin.

The twelfth is the china one, in honor of which the china cupboard may well be re-stocked; the fifteenth is the crystal and naturally suggests presents given on that day to take the place of the glass broken in the store cupboard, and the twentieth year is called the linen wedding, when the linen may reasonably be expected to need renewal.

What is Success.
What is success? Ye men whose way Leads through the valley of toil and strife, Who reach cold hands to the world, your prey,
And say: "This is living, ay! this is life!"
Does the unused gold you store and store, Fully and surely your own souls bless?
To live in plenty and cry for more—Is this success?

What is success? I know a man Who humbly walked, by the world unseen; Afraid from the hurrying, bustling van He walked with a strange and tranquil mien;
And his smile like a blessing shone for all:
A smile that seemed as the soul's caress, And Care in his presence grew dwarfed and small—
Was this success?

He whistled a bit as he journeyed along,
And pale men paused that whistle to hear,
And a whisper ran through the world-worn throng;
"Now God be praised for the note of cheer!"
He died one day, and the world ne'er knew,
But it missed, nor knew it, his smile's caress
As the blossoms miss the kiss of the dew.—
Was this success?

Conquer Your Delusions.
It is interesting to look back over a successful life and see how many things which experience shows were not realities, but simply delusions, have been conquered. They seemed very real when they confronted us in youth and their gasty shadows had power to fill us with dread and apprehension.

Ghosts are real to a child: its vivid imagination is full of things which strike terror to its young heart; but as it grows older the ghosts are gradually conquered. They become unreal and exist only in memory.

So, many of the things we dread most, which loom up before us almost insuperable obstacles, are seen, when once passed, to have been only delusions. To conquer this fear of unrealities, to trample under foot these bogies of our own creation, is a large part of our life's discipline.

Lord Aberdeen's Telegram.
(From M. A. P.)

Lord Aberdeen who is resigning his position as Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, tells the following story against himself. He arrived at a certain country railway station, where he was expecting a telegram to await him. "So I went up to the nearest porter," says his lordship, "and asked him if he would mind inquiring at the station master's office whether there was a telegram for me."

"There is none for you," said the porter. "I've just come out of the office and there's only one telegram there, and that's for Lord Aberdeen."

"Just then another porter who knew me approached, and I explained the position to him, remarking jocularly that the first porter evidently did not think I looked the part.

"By way of consoling me," concludes Lord Aberdeen, "he promptly replied: "Never mind, my lord, if you don't look it, you feel it!"
