London's Noted Clock.

'Big Ben,' London's most notable clock, is regarded in the British metropolis as almost a national institution, and considerable worry has been caused because its voice has recently become cracked.

Here are some striking facts about Big Ben. It is the largest striking; most powerful and most accurate public clock in the world; the first blow on "Big Ben" at each hour denoting correct time.

The four dials are each twenty-three feet in diameter, the centre being 180 feet from the ground. The figures are two feet long and the minute spaces one foot square.

The minute hands are fourteen feet long and weigh about two cwt. each. They are made of copper and travel a distance equal to a hundred miles each year.

The hour hands are nine feet long.

The pendulum is thirteen feet long, beating two seconds, the bob of the pendulum weighs four cwt.

The weights of the clock weigh nearly two and one-half tons.

It takes two men five hours three times a week to wind it up and there are 374 steps up to the clock room.

Big "Ben" the bell on which the clock strikes the hours, weighs 13½ tons and the hammer weighs four cwt.

The four quarter bells weigh nearly eight tons, viz: Three tons, eighteen cwt, one ton thirteen cwt, one ton six cwt, and one ton one cwt, respectively.

Twice a day it telegraphs its time automatically to Greenwich Observatory, which enables its performance to be checked.

The chimes of Big "Ben," are set to the following lines,

All thru this hour, Lord, be my guide,
And by thy power no foot shall slide.

Comet in Western Sky.

Halley's comet was seen by many Torontonians on Saturday night, but its showing was not spectacular, as the most ardent amateur astronomers had to admit. In justice to the famed wanderer, it should be said that the fault wasn't the comet's, but the cloudiness of the sky. Conditions last night were even more unfavorable in this respect, and if the comet was discerned at all, it was as the faintest touch of radiance.

Prof Blake of the Observatory says that on Saturday night the head appeared to be about half the size of a man's fist and as a dull star shining thru a mist and the tail streamed away faintly and seemed to be about the width of three or four moons or about three degrees long.

"This fact does away with the story wired from the Yerkes Observatory that the comet had lost its tail," commented Prof Blake.

The comet appeared in the north-western sky quite low down, but will continue to rise and according to Prof Blake, will be visible to the unaided eye until some time early in June, although it will within a few days start to fade rapidly. However, by the aid of powerful telescopes, it may be possible to trace its flight until towards the end of July, after which it will be gone beyond human ken for another stretch of 75 years or more.

Many people have not apparently grasped the idea that the time to look for the high flier is not soon after sunset. Don't simply wait until the rusty disk has dropped below the horizon, but possess yourself in patience until the twilight has faded. This means an interval of about an hour after the sun has officially retired for the night, which is at nearly 8 o'clock.—Toronto World.

A NEW TAIL.

Chicago, May 22.—The theory that Halley's comet has lost its old tail, which may be floating in space in the eastern sky and is now generating a new one, was advanced by the Rev Daniel J. McHugh, professor of astronomy at De Paul University to-day. The old tail was forced away from the comet by unusual electrical repulsion, caused by the sun spots which were so prominent on Wednesday, he thinks.

"It is my opinion," said Prof McHugh "that the comet lost its tail sometime Wednesday night. There are records of its having done the same thing in 1835."

Message Issued by King George V.
London, May 24.—King George has issued the following message:

"The innumerable messages of kindness from my loyal subjects beyond the seas have deeply touched my heart and have assured me I have in full measure their sympathy in the great trial which has befallen me and them; that my sorrow is their sorrow, and that we share the common loss. The happiness of all his people throughout his dominions was dear to the heart of my beloved father; for them he lived and worked and in their service he died. I cannot doubt they will hold his name in grateful remembrance.

"I am now called to follow in his footsteps to carry on the work which prospered in his hands. As a sailor I have been brought into constant contact with the overseas dominions of the crown. I have personally realized the affectionate loyalty which binds together many lands of diverse people in one glorious fellowship. Nine years ago I travelled the empire, accompanied by my dear wife. Had the king lived we should, together, at his expressed wish, have visited South Africa the coming autumn to open the first parliament of the South African union, the latest and greatest evidence of that peace and harmony which my father loved to promote.

"It will be my earnest endeavor to uphold the constitutional government, to safeguard in all their fulness the liberties which are enjoyed throughout my dominions and under the good guidance of the Ruler of all men. I will maintain upon a foundation of freedom, justice and peace the great heritage of the united British empire."

Queen Alexandra today received Lord Strathcona and Sir G. Reid in order to mark her appreciation of the sympathy shown her by Canada and Australia. Each had a quarter hour's conversation with the queen mother. Sir G. Reid states she expressed in the most touching terms her gratitude for the loyal devotion shown to King Edward's reign and memory and the kind message sent her from the overseas states.

Uncle Sam to Launder His Old Paper Money.

Washington May 23.—Secretary MacVeagh today gave an order for the purchase of a machine to launder United States notes, which, it is estimated when put into general use at all the sub-treasuries, will save the government $1,000,000 a year. Experiments in washing and ironing notes have been conducted for some time at the bureau of engraving and printing.

These convinced the officials that the method was a practical one the estimate being made that eighty per cent. of the issues could be retained and the life of a bill doubled. All germs have been destroyed by antiseptic solutions. The first machine will cost $1,000 and will be installed in the treasury department building.

The comet has been a failure considering the number and strength of its advance announcements.

HEALTHY CHILDREN

Psychine Made Her A Robust Child

It is not necessary for us to speak any words of our own, for the facts given below are strong enough to convince the most skeptical as to Psychine's power to restore health. Mr. John W. of Victoria Harbor, says:— "When Nellie was about 4 years of age, she had wasted away so much that she looked like a little skeleton. The doctor treated her for 2 or 3 months, but the child got worse, and the doctor said he could do nothing more. We called in another doctor who told us everything had been done and that the child could not get better. We decided to take the little thing to a Montreal doctor, who said her lungs were filled with pus and that she would have to undergo an operation if we would save her life. The next day he came down from Montreal and operated upon her, but the operation was a failure, as he was unable to get any pus from the lungs. "We were disappointed, and fully thought little Nellie was not going to get better, but it was cruel to let her suffer so. At this time we heard what a wonderful medicine PSYCHINE was for the lungs. We had been reading some of the advertisements in the papers of people who had been cured through PSYCHINE. We thought it would suit our little girl, and so decided to give it a trial. This we did, and after Nellie had taken the first bottle we saw an improvement. Gradually the little girl began to fill out, and by the time we had used 8 or 9 bottles, she was quite well. That was two years ago, and she is as well and robust to-day as the other children are. "We have a great deal to be thankful for. We firmly believe little Nellie would never have lived if we had not heard of PSYCHINE. We shall be pleased to answer enquiries at any time."

Canada's New Coins.

Ottawa, May 24.—A proclamation in the Canada Gazette announces the design of the new Canadian coins. The design of the 50-cent piece is: For the obverse impression, the effigy of his late Majesty, King Edward the Seventh, consisting of head and bust, wearing the imperial crown and robe of state, with the collar of the Garter, and looking to the right, with the inscription 'Edwardus VII, Dei Gratia Rex Imperator,' and for the reverse the words and figures, '50 cents, Canada,' and the date of the year, within a wreath of maple, surmounted by the imperial crown, with a graining upon the edge.

The designs of the lesser coins are very similar, except of course, with the different figures and words regarding the denomination.

The true location of the line between Canada and the United States along the south-east coast of Maine has been a matter of contention for a century between the government of Great Britain and that of the United States. There have been awards by commissions which have never been accepted as final. This week, however, Ambassador Bryce and United States Secretary Knox have agreed upon an arrangement which it is thought the Senate of the United States will ratify. The agreed upon line runs from a point in Passamaquoddy Bay between Treat Island and Friar Head and extends through the bay to the middle of Grand Manan channel.—St. John Globe.

In the winter season 1908-9 the cattle shipped from this port numbered 22,923; in the season 1909-10 the number was only 4,357. This large falling off in a single year was almost entirely due to the fact that Ontario is very largely drained of cattle, partly through the heavy shipments of preceding years, and partly through the demands made upon the stock of that province to supply the provinces still further west, now rapidly filling up with new settlers on farms.—St. John Globe.

CURRENT EVENTS.

Aluminium for coins of small dimensions has given good service in France. Tests have shown that the metal passes the enduring qualities necessary for such use.

The Chinese riots were provoked by the oppressively high price of rice. The Orientals appear in striking contrast to the placid, submissive, philosophic and contemplative people of the West, who accept oppressive prices for food with scarcely a murmur.

General Sir John French will be welcome everywhere in Canada as the commandant of the cavalry troops that made the notable dash to relieve Kimberly in the South African war. His mission is to report on the provision made for the military defence of the Dominion.

A unique but very sensible tribute to the characteristic humanity of the late King Edward is to be paid by the erection in Hamilton of a Sick Children's Hospital. It is to be hoped that this appropriate selection of a monument to one who always took delight in the company and doings of children will be widely imitated.—Weekly Globe.

Prefer New Brunswick after Living in West.

A new immigration movement has been inaugurated—a migration of farmers from the northwest to the little old Province of New Brunswick. Three farmers have recently forsaken the west for the east, evidently having come to the conclusion that opportunities in New Brunswick are better than in other parts of Canada.

Clement C. Carter, an English farmer, who has spent some time in the west, came to New Brunswick the other day, and after taking stock of conditions, purchased the well known potato farm of McGarr Brothers at Burton, Sunbury county.

R. E. Young, a farmer who spent six or seven years in the west has purchased a farm near Fredericton Junction. Wm Atkinson another farmer, who has had considerable experience in the west, went down to Grand Manan a few weeks ago, and has decided to locate there.

"That experienced farmers should see greater opportunities in New Brunswick than in the northwest, and decide to locate here does not surprise me," said W W Hubbard, secretary of agriculture yesterday. "At the recent convention of the Farmer's and Dairy-men's Association at Fredericton, Prof Cummings and Dr Standish, of the Truro Agricultural College told the farmers that the soil of many parts of the Maritime Provinces was just as good as that of the west, and more suitable for raising a variety of crops, while other conditions, such as proximity to markets and the cost of labor were more favorable to successful farming. They added, however, that we were only learning the ABC of agriculture.

"There is no doubt that there is a great future for farming in this province, and the fact that farmers are coming from the west should encourage our own people to make greater efforts to realize their opportunities."

BEST WAY TO CLEAN THE NAILS.

A sharp instrument should never be used for cleaning the nails. Take an orangewood stick with a dull point, and if they will not cleanse easily, dip the stick in cold cream and insert under the nail. Leave a few minutes then soak in warm water.

LIVER AND STOMACH WRONG
Indigestion, Bad Color, Pale, Fatigued.

These Oppressed by Palpitation and Heart Pains will find Interesting Facts in this Article.

The following letter is printed with the hope that it will show a clear road to health to those who suffer the pangs of indigestion and weak stomach.

"I am anxious to send the message of hope far and wide to all who are in poor health, as I was a year ago," writes Mrs. Ernest P. Gomez, from Meriden. "For years I have had a weak stomach, and have experienced all the distress caused by indigestion. I may say that the heart pains, watery risings, pressure of gas from fermentation at times almost drove me wild. For a time I could scarcely eat a mouthful without causing myself endless misery; I could not sleep well, my color was fearful, dark circles under my eyes, bad dreams, etc.

"As a last hope, I was persuaded to try Dr. Hamilton's Pills of Mandrake and Butternut. As I persevered with this treatment my appetite gradually returned, and I began to relish my meals. My strength slowly returned, the headache and chest pains grew less severe, and at last I began to look my old self again. Dr. Hamilton's Pills cured me, and I use them occasionally still, because I find as a system regulator and health-supporter no medicine is equal to them."

The same medicine that so wonderfully restored Mrs. Gomez will also cure you. 25c per box, or five boxes for $1.00. Beware of substitutes. By mail from The Catarrhzone Company, Kingston, Ont.
