THE Rev. S. A. Baker, who has been pastor of the Reformed Baptist church for four years, has declined a call to stay another year. He feels that he is in need of a change although he has not yet decided what part of the work he will take up. Mr. Baker's stay in Woodstock he has made many friends generally, and has succeeded in clearing off the debt on the church building. The names Rev. G. B. McDonald and Rev. H. C. Archer are mentioned as candidates for the church.

"THE HOLY CITY," a play that has been criticized freely by the press and public of New Brunswick, was produced in the Hayden-Gibson Theatre on Monday evening to a fair sized audience. Those who attended are of the opinion that the play, as put on here, was free of any objectionable features. The manager of the company took occasion, between acts, to hand out some hot shot to several of our citizens who were over-anxious that the play should not be produced in Woodstock.

An adjourned session of the County court opened in the new court house yesterday. There is only one case on the docket. The King vs. Thomas, for larceny. The jury brought in a verdict of guilty, and Judge Carleton sentenced the prisoner to three years in Dorchester penitentiary, but in view of the fact that Mr. Blackie received back the stolen money and that Thomas had already spent two months in jail, the judge allowed him his liberty on suspended sentence, and gave him a chance to leave the country and lead a better life.
