TRUTHFUL ADVERTISING
THE BASIS OF SUCCESS.

Since the Ingredients Entering Peruna Are Known, Its Power as a Catarrh Remedy and Tonic is Understood.

COLUMBUS, OHIO.—The active ingredients entering the most popular household remedy in the world have been made known to the public. This means a new era in the advertising of popular family medicines—Peruna leads.

Peruna contains among other things, golden seal, powerful in its effect upon the mucous membranes. Cedron seed, a rare medicine and unsurpassed tonic.
Cubeb, valuable in nasal catarrh and affections of the kidneys and bladder. Stone root, valuable for the nerves, mucous membranes as well as in dropsy and indigestion.

Smart Collar Designs.

"Rather severe finishing touches for the top of the dress collar have come into vogue and are taking the place of the wide, floppy, drooping ruchings recently so popular," says Grace Margret Gould in WOMAN'S HOME COMPANION for February.

"The Idea is to increase the height of the collar by means of bandings, cordings and pipings which fit the neck snugly, and which finish the collar daintily without breaking the graceful lines of length which are being emphasized in costumes.

"Indeed, it is quite reasonable that Fashion should decree slender throat lines with the slender lines of the figure.

"Cordings, bandings and pipings of silk, satin, and velvet lace, chiffon, net and other sheer fabrics are being used extensively.
They are very satisfactory, since they can so readily be made to match the gown in color and even in material, if one tone and one effect be desired. Where two tones are introduced into a costume, blending or contrasting, either one or both shades may be used very effectively for a collar finish.

Catarrh Cannot Be Cured.

with LOCAL APPLICATIONS, as they cannot reach the seat of the disease. Catarrh is a blood or constitutional disease, and in order to cure it you must take internal remedies.
Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, and acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Cure is not a quack medicine. It was prescribed by one of the best physicians in this country for years and is a regular prescription. It is composed of the best tonics known, combined with the best blood purifiers, acting directly on the mucous surfaces. The perfect combination of the two ingredients is what produces such wonderful results in curing Catarrh. Send Welsh by Extraction.

There is a good story told of the days when Lord Halsbury was a barrister. He was arguing a case on behalf of a Welshman and showed a great knowledge of the principality and its people.

"Come, come," said the judge at last,
"you know you cannot make yourself out to be a Welshman."

"Perhaps not," replied the barrister, "but I have made a great deal of money out of Welshmen in my time."

"Well, then," replied the judge, "suppose we call you a Welshman by extraction."— Cassell's Saturday Weekly.

Keep the Sink Clean.

Greasy sinks breed many things besides roaches. Tonsillitis, diphtheria and other diseases have been traced to unclean sinks.
One cannot be too careful to keep every waste pipe in the house thoroughly clean.
They should, says a correspondent of the Paris Modes, be subjected to a scalding once a week, and if the habit is inculcated in the household it will soon become part of the daily routine. A pailful of boiling water in which three pounds of washing soda have been dissolved will cut through almost anything that is apt to stop up a waste pipe and will carry away with it all impurities.
Every kitchen sink should have its accompanying brush and scraper, and a careful servant leaves not one particle of grease or or food in the sink when she has finished for the night. If she does waterbugs will assuredly be the result, to say nothing of the other far greater evils mentioned above.

Fairly Caught.

A college professor who was always ready for a joke, was asked by a student one day if he would like a good recipe for catching rabbits. "Why, yes," replied the professor "What is it?"

"Well," said the student, you crouch down behind a thick stone wall and make a noise like a turnip."

"That may be," said the professor with a twinkle in his eye, "but a better way than that would be for you to go and sit quietly in a bed of cabbage heads and look natural."— Ladies' Home Journal.

The Cautious Lover.

(Chicago Evening Post.)

The young law student, having proposed and having been accepted, observes that the party of the second part is looking up at him with an expectant aid and that her lips are invitingly pursed.

"One moment, darling," he begs, and takes some paper and a fountain pen from his pocket. She waits and watches in bewilderment until he asks her to sign the following document:

"Be it known by these presents that I, Lucile Peachey, spinster, for and in consideration of valuable property this day intrusted to my care, to wit, the heart of Coke Blackstone, bachelor, do hereby sell, give, barter, trade, exchange, deliver and tender to the said Coke Blackstone, one kiss, buss, smack or salute, the same being given, sold, bartered, traded, exchanged, delivered and tendered of my own free will and accord, and without any undue suasion, duress, restraint or compulsion. And I do hereby bind myself, my heirs, successors and assigns to freely and fully return to the said Coke Blackstone, his heirs, successors or assigns, the said valuable property, to wit, one heart, in case I shall demand, insist or request of him the said kiss, buss, smack or salute. Witness my hand and seal this — day of —, 19—."

An Absent Minded Man.

Who is the most absent minded man on record? asks the London Chronicle. Our bus conductor, possibly, if one knew more about him, might rival Lamb's friend, George Dyer, who, leaving Lamb's Islington home at broad noonday, walked straight into the New River. He was known to take up a coal scuttle instead of his hat, to walk home with a foot man's cockade hat on, and even to leave one of his shoes under the table and get well on his homeward way before discovering its loss. He called at a friend's in Bedford Square one morning, heard that the family was away in the country, left his name in the visitor's book—and a few hours later called again and was astounded to see his own freshly written name. Once when Proctor breakfasted with him Dyer forgot tea. The omission being noted he filed the teapot with ginger. Proctor left as soon as he could to get a better breakfast at a coffee tavern, and there Dyer strolled in and asked him how he was, quite unconscious of having seen him earlier.

Why does Great Britain buy its oatmeal of us?

Certainly it seems like carrying coals to Newcastle to speak of exporting oatmeal to Scotland and yet every year the Quaker Oats Company sends hundreds of thousands of cases of Quaker Oats to Great Britain and Europe.

The reason is simple; while the English and Scotch have for centuries eaten oatmeal in quantities and with a regularity that has made them the most rugged physically, and active mentally of all people, the American has been eating oatmeal and trying all the time to improve the methods of manufacture so that he might get that desirable foreign trade.

How well he has succeeded would be seen at a glance at the export reports on Quaker Oats. This brand is recognized as without a rival in cleanliness and delicious flavor. 51
