Style is about the easiest thing to put into clothing

A hot iron works wonders—pressing and pulling cloth into shape. But, when, as in the long fine lines of the lapels—the well-made rounded shoulders and the firm coat front are honestly stitched into shape by careful tailors the result is clothing that will retain its good appearance through a long and hard life.

Town Council.

The town council met on Friday evening in the council chamber.

Coun. McManus reported for the committee appointed to look into the matter of keeping the children off the streets at night. He had talked the matter over with the other members of the committee, and they had no remedy to offer. He thought perhaps the clerk could throw some light on the question.

Mr. Hartley said he had talked the matter over with Mr. Connell and they were of the opinion that without proper legislation the council had no authority to keep the children off the streets or out of the theatres at night, and he doubted whether the council could get legislation to do so.

Coun. Allingham said he had understood that legislation had been asked to establish a juvenile court, and then if the parents did not look after their children, the court would have jurisdiction to act.

Coun. Ketchum thought the most serious side of the question was the absolute carelessness of the parents in the control of the children. The matter should be thoroughly aired in the press. The parents were practically forcing this step on the council.

Coun. McManus said the children were not making the progress in school this year that they made in the past, and he regretted that the council was not in a position to help the School Board out in the matter.

Coun. Hagerman said the committee appointed to look into the matter of placing a light at the lower crossing, had come to the conclusion that nothing could be done until the frost was out of the ground. It was a bad place to put the wire down and the cost would be heavy. About 2000 feet of wire would be required. The residents on Houlton road had asked for a light in that district. He thought the parish and C. P. R. should bear their share of the expense in putting up the poles etc. for the light at Upham's Brook.

It was moved by Coun. Hagerman, seconded by Coun. McManus, that if satisfactory arrangements could be made between the railway and parish that the committee go ahead and have the work completed. Carried.

Coun. Allingham read a communication from A. F. Pawett, stating that his charge of $5.00 per day for the use of his team on the snow plough, was as little as he could make it. Coun. Allingham thought the town should not be bullied into paying it—it was a case of graft, and it should not be paid. He would like to have the matter held over.

Coun. Fisher moved that it be referred back to the street committee. Carried.

Coun. Allingham moved, seconded by Coun. Ketchum, that the town marshal be authorized to enforce the bye-law relating to the collection of dog taxes, and if the taxes are not paid, to destroy the dogs. Carried.

The council adjourned until Friday evening, when the estimates will be taken up.

No matter whether baby is sick or well, Baby's Own Tablets should be kept in the home always. They not only cure the minor troubles to which babyhood and childhood is subject, but will prevent them coming on if the child is given an occasional dose of the medicine. Mrs. Geo. T. Walker, Mascouche Rapids, Que., says:—"I have used Baby's Own Tablets for constipation and other disorders of childhood and am so pleased with them that I always keep the Tablets in the house." Death of George W. Hatfield.

The death of George W. Hatfield on Wednesday morning came with startling suddenness. He arose about five o'clock complaining of a severe pain and within an hour had expired. Heart failure consequent upon an acute attack of indigestion was the supposed cause of death. A year or so he was stricken with a slight shock of paralysis but had almost fully recovered. He is survived by his wife, who was formerly Emily Holmes, and six sons—Stanley and Arch, of Peel, Russell and Burrell, of Middle Simonds, William of Limestone, and Herbert of Hartland. There is one daughter, Dora, wife of George Raymond, Middle Simonds.

Mr. Hatfield was 72 years of age and was born and spent his life near where he died. He was a man of high principles, thoroughly trustworthy and honest in his dealings; a Liberal of the staunchest type in politics and an Adventist in religion. For years he kept a general store and was postmaster. Of late years his son Russell has taken the leading part in business.

The funeral took place at 2.30 Friday afternoon; services conducted by Mrs. C. D. Dickinson, of Woodstock.—Hartland Observer.

Responsibility of Parents.

At the last regular meeting of the town council, the School Board sent in a communication recommending that the council take steps to keep children under fourteen years of age off the streets at night, as they were neglecting their school studies, and the percentage of marks was, this term, away below the average.

His worship Mayor Jones appointed a committee to look into the matter and the committee reported that they were unable to do anything towards remedying the grievance without legislation.

Whether the picture shows are responsible for this condition of affairs we are not prepared to say. One thing is certain—the picture show, like the automobile, has come to stay, and the only solution of the matter in this respect is to get legislation placing certain restrictions on these shows.

The main cause of the trouble is the lack of parental authority in the home. The children are not to blame. As one councillor remarked at the meeting last Friday evening, "it looked as if the parents were forcing this matter on the council."

We will have to resort to industrial schools, touching on the need of which The Educational Review says:

"There is a responsibility resting on society concerning children who have a feeble intellect and moral sense, whose habits are vicious because of improper training in the home, and who are brought up amid unwholesome surroundings. The public has a duty towards these children as clearly as it has to those for whom public schools are provided. An industrial institution or reformatory maintained by government and by private benevolence would relieve those who are called upon to administer the law to youthful criminals. Instead of sending them to gaol or the penitentiary to herd with hardened criminals they should be sent to a school where under proper restraint, away from the influence of evil home surroundings and the streets, they would be taught a trade and receive an education to fit them to lead honest and useful lives.

If children of vicious tendencies, from homes where there is little or no parental restraint, could be guided with firm but kindly hands over those years in which they are most susceptible of receiving good impressions, what a service would be rendered to the whole community!"

A PARTY of ladies and gentlemen enjoyed a very pleasant drive to Gibson's Camp on Thursday afternoon last, having tea, and returning in the evening. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Burt, Miss Inez Burt, Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Atherton, Mr. and Mrs. W. Slipp and Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Burt.

MR. J. D. CAREY will address the Canadian Club on Friday evening of this week in Young's Hall, on the subject "The New Patriotism." An informal discussion will follow. Chair taken at 8 o'clock. The public are cordially invited to be present.
