Young's Cove Road.

A very rainy week has kept the farmers from making much progress in haying. On Wednesday evening a terrific electrical storm passed over. The rain was very heavy and lightning very vivid and incessant, but no damage was done.

New potatoes and green beans are being shipped by the early growers, Messrs Wiggins, Gale and Wasson and a few crates of blue berries were shipped by W T Snodgrass but on account of heavy frosts in the early spring the crop will be light.

The apple crop in this section will be away below the average as the apples are few, and, badly blighted.

The oat crop is looking fine so far and promises to be above the average.

Word was received here the other day that Professor E Stone Wiggins, of Ottawa who has been in very ill health for several months is improving and it is hoped that he and his wife will be able to come to their beautiful summer residence called Princess Park, on the western shore of the Grand Lake. It is on the estate of Professor Wiggins that so many Indian relics, including spear heads, axe's knives, and pottery, of the stone age, were unearthed last summer by Messrs Leavitt and McIntosh of the Natural History Association of St John and also by H Earle Wiggins who unearthed some very fine specimens of Indian art, and who intends to try his luck this autumn as he is confident that there are a lot more relics to be unearthed.

As it very evident that two races of Indians camped on the shores, and the last race came there many years after the first, as can be seen by the different make of pottery, etc.

And the different depths, they are found below the surface. The work is very fascinating and there is a lot of fun in it if it is hard work.

POOR PICKINGS.

The new boarder had never been on a farm before. She was filled with interest and delight in everything she saw. On the morning after her arrival she saw Mrs Howe evidently picking berries from some pretty green plants beyond the wall, as she strolled in the road.

"Those are charming little plants," she said pausing, with her eyes fixed on a pail which hung on Mrs Howe's arm. "What kind of berries grow on them? Does it take long to fill a pail like that?"

Mrs Howe looked down into the pail with a meditative air, and answered the second question.

"I should hope 'twould," she replied.

"What kind of berries are they?" persisted the young woman. "I can't quite see.

What are you picking?"

"Tater brgs!" said Mrs Howe, as she made another contribution to the depths of her pail.—Youth's Companion.
