Mount Allison.

The question as to where to send your son or daughter for further education is answered by the Mount Allison advertisements in to-day's issue. There is no better preparatory school for boys than the Mount Allison Academy, one of the oldest of its kind in Canada. There is no better Commercial College in eastern Canada than the one in connection with the Academy. A residential school, the Academy and Commercial College is one in which the most thorough instruction is given under conditions which make for the proper development of character.

The Mount Allison Ladies' College—which includes the College of Literature and Science the Conservatory of Music, the Massey-Treble School of Household Science, the Oratory Department, the Owens Museum of Fine Arts—is the largest in Canada. All its teachers are specialists, the members of the Conservatory staff having been trained in Europe. Its equipment is extensive and thoroughly modern. The school aims to be, and is, a home-like institution where the development of the individual student along all lines is sought. In this fact is found the reason why the school has attained its leading position.

A calendar of the Academy and Commercial College will be sent free on application to Mr J M Palmer, M A, Sackville, N B. The Ladies' College Calendar will be sent free if application for it is made to Dr B C Borden, Sackville, N B.

MOST MODERN CATTLE ACCOMMODATIONS

The most modern of live stock accommodations will be afforded exhibitors at the Dominion Exhibition in St John, N B, Sept 5th to 15th—indeed the new facilities embody the latest and most approved ideas, and will be appreciated by both exhibitor and sight seer. In the cattle barn proper 500 red will be housed with easy eye range. In connection with each stall there will be running water and other modern improvements. A patent tier carrier suspended from a rail track in the ceiling will be utilized to remove all accumulations, while the drainage will be perfect. Sheep will be accommodated in keeping with most modern ideas. From central elevated walks spectators will be afforded an excellent view of the animals as they wander around their sixfoot pens. The car onry work will be open or picketed, as using constant circulation of air. The Piggery will follow this same style of erection, especial attention to ventilation, freedom from overcrowding, lighting and sight seeing. Heretofore exhibits of horses have been made in long rows of box stalls only, but this year, special provision is being made for horse horses in new barns arranged with broad aisles. Poultry and Pet Stock are to be shown in what was formerly known as Agricultural Hall where much more space is available and a comprehensive display is possible.
