Cheap Picture Show.

With doubt, some of the cheap picture shows, scattered broadcast thru our city, are bound to have a demoralizing influence on the minds of at least a few of the many hundreds of children who are daily allowed to patronize them.

Scenes of cheap sentimentality, train hold-ups, bank burglaries and murder are depicted with lifelike vividness and to many of those imaginative youngsters drinking in the pictures those theatres are giving a little more than a nickel's worth of amusement.

They are giving them a five-cent course of practical instruction in crime.

In Chicago and other large cities, the police have been compelled to interfere with the cheaper moving picture shows, ordinances having been passed to prohibit the pictures of scenes and actions of crime.
Right here in Toronto one may see a murder, an execution and train hold up almost any time for the small sum of five cents and usually the perpetrators and heroized.

The presentation of plays such as "Dick Turpin," "Jack Shepherd, the King of Thieves," "Jesse James, the Outlaw," have long since been brushed away by the iron hand of the law on account of the adverse suggestions they contained calculated to affect the minds of impressionable boys of an adventurous type.

Cheap picture shows are quite as harmful in their influence as the "blood and thunder" dramas.

It is high time for the law to take a hand in the moving picture game and it is high time for certain of the parents to take hand in the selecting of edifying amusements for their children.—Toronto World.

MOTHERS BLESS ZAM-BUK.

Read How It Gives the Little Ones Ease

A most important thing for mothers to watch is the treatment of rashes, chafed or chapped places, etc. When you put an ointment on to a child's skin it gets into the blood through the pores just as surely as if you put it into the child's stomach. Did you ever think of that? How important, therefore, that the salve or balm should be pure! Zam-Buk is absolutely pure; contains no animal fat; no mineral coloring matter; no acid astringents; no burning antiseptics—yet it is antiseptic! It is purely herbal, and thus meets all needs of the skin in that superior way in which nature always provides.

Mrs. R. Gentleman, of 1090 St. James St., Montreal, says: "My two-year-old daughter had eczema for over six months, on face and body. Doctor didn't cure. We tried various remedies in vain, but could give the little one no ease. When Zam-Buk was tried it was very different. It soothed the pain the irritation, and the child ceased to scratch.
Perseverance with Zam-Buk brought a complete cure."

Mrs. C. W. Bowerbank, of 126 Denison Ave., Toronto, says her baby's face was covered with a burning eruption. Little one was terribly pained—scratched, and made the places very bad. Zam-Buk cured.

Scores of similar cases could be cited.
Zam-Buk should be in every home because it heals sore, stops pain, and ends skin diseases.
Eczema, itch, ulcers, bad legs, poisoned wounds, abscesses, cold sores, cracked hands, scalp sores, whether in children or adults, are cured by Zam-Buk. It is also a cure for piles. All druggists and stores at 50c. box, or post free from Zam-Buk Co., for price.
Send a one cent stamp (to pay return postage) and we will mail you a free trial box.

Too Eager to Oblige.

An accommodating spirit is a commendable quality—when allied to common sense. In the lack of the common sense, it came near being the death of a certain unpretending foreigner in one of the little Central American republics. During a short-lived revolution there came to be the head of the government a man who was above all things courteous, and who was, moreover, anxious to gain the goodwill of the foreign consuls. One of the consuls, having heard that a certain countryman of his had died, addressed a note to the head of the new government, in which he stated that his own government would be grateful for a certificate of death of the individual in question. A few days later the consul received the following communication:

"Esteemed Senor,—I blush to say that I cannot at present comply with Your Excellency's request for a death certificate of the man named. I sent my soldiers, but he got away, to my shame, I shall use every effort to catch him, however, and hope to send Your Excellency the desired certificate at an early date.

Needless to say, the consul lost no time in communicating to the obliging President the information that the certificate was undesired, in view of the fact that the individual was able to "get away."

Why they are poor.

Their ideas are larger than their purses.
They think the world owes them a living.
They do not keep account of their expenditures.

They are easy dupes of schemers and pro-motors.

They reverse the maxim: "Duty before pleasure."

They have too many and too expensive amusements.

They do not think it worth while to save nickels and dimes.

They have risked a competence in trying to get rich quickly.

They allow friends to impose upon their good nature and generosity.

They try to do what others expect of them, and not what they can afford.

The parents are economical, but the children have extravagant ideas.

They do not do to day what they can, possibly put off until to-morrow.

They do not think it worth while to put contract or agreements in writing.

They prefer to incur debts rather than to do work which they consider beneath them.

They do not dream that little mortgage on farm can ever turn them out of doors.

They have indorsed their friends notes or guaranteed payment just for accommodation.

They risk all their eggs in one basket when they are not in a position to watch or control it.

They think it will be time enough to begin to save for a rainy day when the rainy day comes.

The head of the house is a good man, but he has not learned to do.

Why Harry Lauder Sings.

(Harry Lauder to Cincinnati Scots.)

I have heard a number of remarks here concerning the $5,000 and $6,000 Harry Lauder is earning per week. Now, gentlemen, I never sang for money in my life. I sing for the joy of singing, just as the shepherd on the hearth breaks into song for the joy if it. I began by singing for half a crown, and in time I became a marketable article.
It is you people who pay me the salary.
"And," he added, quaintly and cannily, "I will not say dinna I want it. I love song. I loved it when, as a brow lad, I worked down under the earth, 200 fathoms deep, amid the coal and the water and the darkness, going in before it was light in the morning, and coming out at darkness. I do not act for the man who tries to act, gives too much at times of his own personality. Take of life as God gives it. Be natural."

Had Shown Him the Right Way.

The colored boy was up in the children's court for the fifth time on charges of chicken stealing. This time the magistrate decided to appeal to the boy's father.

"Now see here, Abe," said he to the old daddy, "this boy of yours has been up in court so many times for stealing chickens that I'm sick of seeing him here!"

"Ah don't blame you, sah," returned the father; "Ah's sick ob seein' 'im hyah, too!"

"Then why don't you teach him how to act? Show him the right way, and he won't be coming here!"

"Ah has showed 'im de right way, sah," declared the old man earnestly; "Ah has suddenly showed 'im de right way, but he somehow keep gittin' caught comin' way wid dose chickens!"

No Man Needs to Starve.

At last the good man's temper rose, He swung his stool and deadly blows Delivered. Smash! on snarling nose That forced his flimsy door.

"T was killed! He skinned it on the spot And clapped the carcass in the pot, Then blew the coals; when they were hot Behind him locked the door.

Set out for town, returned with sack Of onions, salt, white bread and black,
And, ah! the whiff, as he came back,
Of wolf stew through the door!

"I got nine rubles for his hide And bounty on his ears, beside.
It's not a healthy place," he cried,
"For wolves before my door."

So here's the nub: don't sit and fret; There's bounty paid on wolf ears yet; Pick up your stool, go out and get That wolf before your door!

Rural Phones

Solve These

Every-Day Problems

Problem I. Bad Roads:—

The old way was to curse nature and idly await sun's return.
The new way is to telephone for what you want, and smile because you get the information in a thousand part of the time.

Problem II. Weather Forecasts:—

The old way was to work on belated information, and to excuse the losses with "That's what the farmer has to put up with."
The new way is to telephone every morning to the weather man and overcome much of the needless hustle and bustle of the old way.

Problem III. Prices Current:—

The old way was to ask a neighbor or trust to the newspapers.
The new way is to get information in the nick of time over the phone, thus knowing when to sell and when to hold.

Problem IV. Emergencies:—

The old way of procedure when someone took sick, was to harness up the "driver" and make all haste for the doctor. Effort in this direction often procured as its only result the information: "doctor is out."
The new way is to call up the doctor on the phone, and know instantly what can be done pending the medical man's arrival.

Problem V. Help:—

The old way was to allow men to go on boys' errands—waste half a morning walking to Smith's only to find that his harrow was already loaned.
The new way is to make the phone your errand boy—buy, borrow, begot by means of the "silent partner."
