KITSON-HARLAND.

The marriage was solemnised on Sept 14th, of Miss Dorothy Harland, daughter of J Walter Harland and granddaughter of the late ex-alderman Harland of Leeds, with W F Clifford Kitson, son of F C Kitson of Gardenhurst, Headingley. The ceremony took place at Christ Church, Armley, with which the bridegroom's family have long been associated, and it was attended by a large congregation of parishioners as well as by a numerous company of invited wedding guests. The Rev A Victor Jones, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, officiated, assisted by the Rev H M Cox, vicar, and the bride who was given away by her father, was attended by four charming bridesmaids—Miss Elsie Coey (Belfast), Miss Elsie Platts (Bingley), Miss Eriebach (London), and Miss Priestly (Leeds). Mr Alan K Kitson, prother of the bridegroom performed the duties of best man. The bride was attired in cream satin charmeuse with overskirt of unadorned bands, silk embroideries and chiffon trimmed with orange blossoms and white heather; and she wore a Brussels net veil with a wreath of orange blossoms and white heather, and a gold bracelet, the gift of the bridegroom. The bridesmaids' dresses were of pale blue satin charmeuse, and over them overdresses of blue ninon, Chantilly lace, and heliotrope hand-painted chiffon. Black picture hats, lined in pale blue, with streamers of black velvet, and bouquets of pink carnations added to the striking effect. The present to each one from the bridegroom was a silver chain purse bag. The service was choral, and appropriate music was played on the organ by Mr Bradley. After the ceremony Mr and Mrs J W Harland held a reception at their residence, Alpha Cottage, Headingley and a little later the newly married couple left for the honeymoon which is to be spent at Paris and Lucerne. The bride's going-away dress was of eggshell blue cloth, with black velvet picture hat trimmed with white, Chantilly lace and she wore a set of handsome black fox furs, the gift of the bridegroom.—The Yorkshire Post.

Miss Harland and her mother visited here two years ago at the home of Mr and Mrs George E Phillips. Mrs Harland is a cousin of Mr Phillips.

The Exhibition

The managers of the Carleton County Exhibition have reason to thank the clerk of the weather for his favors, for they could hardly have had more favorable conditions as far as the elements have to do with the success of the show. The attendance was also good and as a whole the fair was one of the best held for years past. And this, in spite of the fact that the active steps were taken rather late in the summer in the way of advertising and preparation. The exhibits were worthy of the county and more than one visitor expressed the view that as far as the show of stock was concerned it surpassed the big exhibition in St. John. Of course this is as it should be. The banner county of the province should put up the banner show of stock, grain and roots. While the exhibit of stock is far and away ahead of anything that can be produced in any other county in the province, it is not by any means all that it should be. It is only fair, while bouquets are being thrown at the exhibitors, for the show they did make, to say that there were to be found spectators who said that considering the grazing possibilities of Carleton county, the cattle were far from being in appearance what they should be. It does not require that a man should be a farmer to express the opinion that Carleton county is not raising the stock it should. In travelling over the beautiful stretch of country that lies along the line of railway between Woodstock and Perth the spectator is surprised at the dearth of cattle in the fields. It may be in these days of phosphate that this does not mean as much as it used to, but even with such a qualification it does not seem like good farming. Farmers, it is true, are complaining that they get a good deal of gratuitous advice, which does not often come from qualified sources, and for this they are entitled to sympathy. Most advice is cheap and is a commodity which all are ready to give, free—except the lawyers and doctors. But when criticism comes from practical men who have seen conditions in other countries, where the soil is not as adapted to grazing, as is the soil of Carleton county, and who know of the loss that it means to agriculture when stock is scarce, it may make even the most practical of farmers sit up and take notice.

It is to be hoped that the county generally will join in with the exhibition authorities and make the fair next year better than ever before. Whether the county council might not be moved to give some assistance is something very well worth considering. It should first be decided whether or not an exhibition will be held next year, and then this announcement is the first of the advertising. A more pronounced kind of advertising should follow, the county and town should join in setting a covenant date, and the Carleton county Fair may be something far beyond the expectations of the most sanguine.

Children's Day.

Friday, the 23rd, was Children's Day at the Exhibition, and was all that the name implies. Singly and in groups, from all parts of the County the school children came with their complimentary tickets as guests of the Management of the Exhibition.

The Merry-go-round and the Ferris Wheel were crowded to the limit, and the slack wire and trapeze performers were watched with intense interest. But not less interesting than these features to the children and parents was the School Exhibit. All day eager eyes were searching for names they recognized, amid the numerous piles of maps, drawings etc., and great was the rejoicing when one found a red card which meant first prize, attached to his own or to his friends work.

The Judges were Principal Ochan of the Houlton High School, Rev H Erb, of Charlottetown, P E I, and Mr J D Carey, of Woodstock. They found an abundance of work because of the quantity and excellence of the exhibit.

The work from the school at the Indian Reservation, a few miles below town, taught by Miss Frances Millmore, was very creditable, considering the short time a school has been in operation there.

A great deal of regret was expressed that no Manual Training exhibits were made, and that no one took advantage of the prize offered for a collection of Insects Injurious to Trees.

Following is the Official List of Prizes:—

Death Of Miss Minnie Carman.

In the death of Miss Minnie Carman, which occurred at her home below town on Tuesday afternoon, the 20th inst, there has passed away a lady to whom many of the towns people owe far more than perhaps they themselves realize. Quite early in life Miss Carman became a school teacher, for some time teaching in Cedar Hill school, which is situated something over a mile below town. Afterwards she taught in the Broadway school, where the better part of her life work was so thoroughly done. In the difficult task of training the very young children, she was peculiarly happy, and many a little one has been well started on life's road through the instruction so faithfully imparted by a teacher, who will be sadly missed from among the Woodstock staff. It is not all in teaching to impart the three "R's," not to show a pupil how to add two and two. There is the imparting of a general education which should strike the heart as well as the head, the teaching of the christian graces, which only those can teach who have themselves learned, and it was in this very thing that Miss Carman excelled, and for which this town owes her a deep debt of gratitude. Her last illness was not very long, but it was long enough to show her and her family that this feeling was neither slight nor affected. Inquiries came in constantly as to her condition and among the sincerest mourners at her grave were many of those with whom she had been associated in the profession. Taken away early in life, as we count years, Miss Carman has left a beautiful record of a life nobly spent.

The funeral was on Thursday afternoon from the house to the Parish Church where the funeral service was held and in the beautiful church yard adjoining she was laid at rest in that sure and certain hope that there is a reward hereafter for work well done here. The members of the School Board, a large representation of the teachers and many citizens attended the funeral. The surviving relatives are her mother, two sisters Mrs Bedell and Miss Harriet Carman and a brother Charles Carman.

Death After a Scratch.

Morris Quatzam, an eleven-year-old Windsor boy, fell off his bicycle and scratched his wrist. He thought nothing of the injury, but blood poison set in and he is dead.

Such incidents as these—by no means infrequent—ought to make people realize the danger that may lie even in the smallest flesh wound.

Take a simple illustration. When a knife, a rusty needle, a splinter of dirty wood, a barbed wire fence, or a thorn, scratches the hand, the latter is inoculated with germs, of which the air about us is full. Directly these germs are introduced through the breach in the skin, a battle royal ensues between them, and certain organisms in our blood.

The way to avoid serious results is to cleanse the wound and apply Zam-Buk. Zam-Buk is a powerful, yet painless germ killer, and when applied to the broken skin is absorbed into the tissue, instantly destroying the germs that spread disease and inflammation.

As soon as applied to a sore or a cut Zam Buk stops the pain and smarting. That is why it is so popular with children.

The flesh thus soothed and purified, the wound is made perfectly healthy, and all poison and cause of festering removed. Having done this, Zam Buk then proceeds to heal the wound or sore, and new healthy tissue is built up in a quick, painless and perfect manner.

Zam Buk must not be confused with ordinary ointments Zam Buk is a unique preparation, possessing antiseptic, soothing and healing qualities that are not to be found together in any other preparation. It is not only a unique healing balm, but it is also a skin food. For all skin diseases and injuries cuts, bruises, burns, eczema, chafing, ulcers, ringworm, etc., it is without equal. It is also used widely for piles, for which it may be regarded as a specific. All druggists and stores sell at 50 cents a box, or post free from Zam Buk Co., Toronto, for price. Harmful imitations should be always refused.
