DEATH OF REV DR C STEWART SACKVILLE.

For Nearly 40 Years Connected with Mount Allison.

Rev Chas Stewart, D D Professor of Old Testament Theology and some time dean of the faculty of theology at Mount Allison University, died at his home in Sackville on Wednesday evening, after an attack of dysentery.

Dr Stewart was born in Glasgow, Scotland, in February, 1827, and was consequently in his 84th year at the time of his death. After receiving his education in the above mentioned city he came out to Nova Scotia in 1852, in which year also he was received on trial as a Methodist minister together with three other candidates—Messrs Alexander McLod, DesBrisay, John L Spong'ie, and Paul Prestwood—all of whom are dead. Dr Stewart's first year in the ministry was spent at Musquodoboit Harbor and Shubenacadie, N S, and thereafter up to 1870 he occupied the following circuits: Liverpool, N S, St. Margaret's Bay and Sambro, N S, St. John, N B (Exmouth Street), Windsor N S, Fredericton, N B, Lunenburg, N S, Point de Bute, N B, Amherst, N S, Truro, N S, (Supernumerary), and St John, N B, (German Street). He was President of the Conference several times and attended as delegate all the General Conferences except the last three. In 1870 he was appointed to the chair of Moral Philosophy and Evidences of Christianity in connection with the Arts Faculty and that of Old Testament Exegesis and Systematic Theology in the Faculty of Theology at Mount Allison University at the same time being given the degree of D D by that institution. For thirty-three years he assiduously and successfully discharged the duties devolving upon him as occupant of the above mentioned chairs and those also attaching to the position of Dean of the Faculty of Theology. In 1903 he resigned these posts and since that time has filled the chair of Homiletics and Pastoral Theology. Dr Stewart's professoriate of forty years is possibly the longest in the educational history of the Maritime Provinces and his only rival in length of ministerial service in the Methodist Church is the Rev Richard Smith, of Halifax, N S, who entered the ministry in 1842, sixty-eight years ago.

It is safe to say that no man in the Maritime Provinces was more widely respected than Dr Stewart for his many intellectual and moral virtues. No phrase so aptly describes his general character, as the old-fashioned one, "a godly man." He discharged most faithfully the important duties of the pastorate, wholly unswerving in the maintenance of all that was right, ready at no matter what sacrifice to do everything that might promote his Master's cause, as a preacher eloquent, devout, and uniformly evangelical, and one of the best platform speakers in the Dominion. As a teacher he was accurate and enthusiastic, master of the subjects taught by him, above all displaying a truly incomparable knowledge of the Scriptures both in the original tongues and in the vernacular.

Owing to his two pastorates there is no part of these provinces outside of Sackville where Dr Stewart is better remembered by the middle-aged and elderly people than in St. John. His term of service at Exmouth Street, 1855-1858, was of historic note, inasmuch as then was built the present church edifice with the active and generous collaboration, as Dr Stewart always delighted to tell, of the late Mr. Aaron Eaton, so well known in St. John.

Dr Stewart was twice married, first to Miss Harriet Starr, of Halifax, N. S., and for the second time to Miss Carrie Jordan, of St. John, who survives him. By his first wife he had issue as follows: Lavinia, deceased; Willie, who as marine engineer, sails in Eastern seas; Harriet, who has been living at home; and Charles, who lived for a number of years in St. John and is at present in Winnipeg.

The funeral was held on Friday at 2.30 p. m. The service was held in the Methodist church.—St. John Globe.

Dr Stewart's Funeral

Sackville, Aug. 26.—The funeral of the late Rev. Charles Stewart, D. D., was held this afternoon. There was a short service at the house, Rev C. W. Hamilton, of Salisbury and Rev. G. M. Campbell of St. John officiating. A public service was held in the Sackville Methodist church, Rev. Dr. Evans Hampton, presided; Rev. George Ross, of Fairville, offered prayer, Prof. Desjarres Sackville, read the scriptures and short addresses were delivered by G. M. Campbell, district secretary of the Canadian Bible Socety, Judge Forbes representing the British and Foreign Bible Society, and Dr. Smith Sackville.

Mr. Campbell, in referring to the deceased spoke of the consistency, godliness and great influence he had exerted among young men whom he had taught during the past forty years. Music was furnished by the Methodist choir. The hymns were God of My Life, Through All My Days, Come Let Us Join Our Friends Above and Give Me the Wings of Faith to Rise.

Out of respect for the deceased's memory Sackville places of business were closed for two hours this afternoon. Interment was made in Sackville cemetery. Telegrams of sympathy were received from the Sackville delegates at the general conference.—St. John Telegraph.

Maritime Union and Some Reasons For it.

BY "JOHN CLOVERLEAF" in "Moncton Transcript."

The question of Maritime Union is coming to stay until dealt with in some decisive manner by the electorate. The time is opportune for the campaign. Union is worth discussing and worth adopting. It may be years before the consummation of any form of union, but that events are leading in that direction, there is not the shadow of a doubt.

Many political thinkers in this part of the Dominion are beginning to realize that the three provinces of Nova Scotia, New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island would be today a far greater force in federal politics and in the development of Canadian nationality, were they united and fighting shoulder to shoulder for what they are justly entitled to as partners in the confederation.

Western Canada's growth is stupendous compared with that of Eastern Canada. If things go on as they are going now, think what position the Maritime Provinces will occupy in ten, fifteen or twenty years' time. Where will our influence in the councils of the nation be? Consolidation now would ensure a larger influence, increased power and might to the Maritime Provinces. Looking at this from the standpoint of the man from these Provinces, this would counterbalance to some extent the preponderating and increasing influence of the Western Provinces.

Then there is the practical result of such a change; the strengthening of the bond of feeling and interest between the Maritime Provinces and the rest of Canada. A great and powerful community, self-reliant, independent, progressive, established in this part of Canada would be a means of strengthening and perpetuating bonds of national interest. There would be a fuller national life, a widening of national thought, a reciprocity of rights and obligations, a feeling of increased national strength.

Then again consider the great economy of administration effected by a union: by the abolition of the three existing governments and the substitution of one in their places.

Another benefit of inestimable value would be the resulting uniformity of administrative system and laws; one system of education; one judicial system; uniform legislation respecting railways, mines, timber, taxation, crown lands, immigration, agriculture and so on.

There would be an increased strength. The strength of the one new province would be greater than the sum total of all three standing each by itself. Consider how far our provincial revenues and Dominion subsidies would go.

With Union would come the obliteration of sectional jealousies, the elimination of petty discords, and the feeling of greater strength and the necessity for co-operation would come increased prosperity, and the promotion of the best interests of the people of these Provinces. Union would tend to foster such a feeling of self-reliance as would effectually outweigh any disadvantages.

There are other objects to be attained, and other arguments in favor of Union, such, for instance, as the broadening of our political field, producing without doubt a few of the old-time statesman instead of "parochial politicians." The political atmosphere would be healthier.

Obstacles, of course, will be suggested; there is always opposition to every move in the right direction; specious arguments will be advanced; attempts will be made to hoodwink the people; facts, figures and statements of their advocates will be distorted to make arguments the other way and to bewilder and perplex the constituency.

Now the purpose of these papers will be to emphasize the necessity for union. The terms will take care of themselves. If the "insurmountable" difficulties in the way of the union of these maritime provinces with Canada (see Confederation debates in the N. W. Brunswick Legislature) can be overcome surely maritime union is not impossible of achievement.

HOW ONE WOMAN REGAINED HEALTH.

Utterly helpless and Friends did not Expect her to get Better

The great fame of Dr Williams' Pink Pills is due to the fact that they have restored to active health and strength hundreds of people when all other treatment had failed to cure, who had come to believe themselves hopeless, chronic invalids. The case of Mrs Henry Britton, 1234 Alexander Avenue, Winnipeg, Minn, adds another striking proof to the truth of this assertion. Mr Britton writes as follows concerning his wife's long illness and ultimate cure through the use of Dr Williams' Pink Pills. "It is a simple thing to recommend Dr Williams' Pink Pills, and yet it is difficult to express fully one's heartfelt gratitude for such a marvelous remedy, as they have restored my wife to health and strength after the best efforts of the medical fraternity had failed. For years, prior to our coming to Canada, and since that time up to about three years ago, my wife had been subject to several illnesses from what the doctors said was chronic anemia. She was utterly and entirely helpless, and so weak that she had to be lifted in and out of bed for weeks at a stretch. The trouble was aggravated by recurrent rheumatism and heart trouble. She had no appetite or strength for anything. I employed the best medical attendance and nurses procurable. The doctor gave her tonics and ordered beef tea and wine. The tonics and medicine would relieve her for a time and then she would slip back into the old state—but worse if anything. Then we began giving her advertised remedies but all seemed of no avail. One evening while reading a newspaper I happened to see an advertisement of Dr Williams' Pink Pills. It told the case of a young woman who had been a great sufferer from anemia, and who testified to having been cured through the use of these Pills. The case seemed to describe very closely the symptoms of my wife, and although I had pretty nearly lost all hope of her ever being well again, I decided to get a supply of the Pills and urged her to use them. My wife was thoroughly disheartened, and said she expected it was only another case of money thrown away. However she began taking the Pills, and I thank God she did, for after she had used them for a time, her appetite came back, her strength returned, and she who had been looked upon as a helpless invalid began to take a new interest in life. She continued taking the Pills, and through them her health continued to improve, until at last we were able to heartily congratulate her upon her complete restoration to health. Some three years have since passed, and in that time she has never been bothered in the slightest degree with the old trouble. Her cure has astonished everyone who knew how ill she had been, and we acknowledge with heartfelt thanks our gratitude to Dr Williams' Pink Pills which literally brought her back to health from the brink of the grave."

Dr Williams' Pink Pills cure such cases as this in just one way—they actually make new blood, which fills the depleted veins and brings new strength to every nerve and every organ in the body. Nearly all the every day ailments of life come from poor or watery blood, and it is because Dr Williams' Pink Pills make new blood that they cure anemia, indigestion, headaches, sideaches and backaches, rheumatism, neuralgia, general weakness and the ailments that growing girls and women do not like to talk about even to their doctors. If you are weak, sick or ailing, no other medicine will cure you so quickly as Dr Williams' Pink Pills. Sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.
