CLAUDE DICKINSON.

On Sunday, Aug 29th, the home of Mr and Mrs Gordon Dickinson, Canterbury, York Co, was greatly bereaved by the death of their eldest son Claude, aged 8 years and 4 months. He was ill eleven days. Appendicitis was the disease. The skill of three doctors failed to save him. Claude was an affectionate little fellow beloved by all. The funeral, which the writer attended, was the largest we ever witnessed over one so young. Farmers left the harvest fields, busy women their household duties and strangers in the place came filling a large church with a sympathetic congregation. A beautiful white casket covered with flowers, and borne by four little boys made a beautiful and touching scene.

The parents are quite heart-broken. One little boy six years of age is left to cheer their desolate home.

Alex. Beaton an Miss Donnelly left on Friday evening to be present at the Eucharistic Congress now being held in Montreal.

Mrs Claude Tabor will receive on Wednesday and Thursday afternoons and on Thursday evening of this week at the home of Mrs A F Tabor, Charles Street.

The flower girls, Katherine Kearney and Maude Farrel wore white with garlands of sweet peas and carried baskets of flowers. The bride was given away by her father. The bride and groom stood under a beautiful green arch decorated with pink flowers. The living room was decorated with potted plants and the dining room with yellow and white.

Over forty-five guests witnessed the ceremony after which they were served with a sumptuous lunch.

DEMOCRATS SWEEP MAINE ELECTIONS

Portland, Me., Sept 12.—A tidal wave of democracy swept over Maine today, carrying Col. Frederick W Plaisted, of Augusta, to the governor's chair, and ousting the present occupant, Bert M Fernald, of Portland, by a plurality of 6,500.

Returns from 539 out of 928 elections districts, comprising nineteen cities and 421 out of 501 towns and plantations gave: Plaided (Dem) 64,658; Fernald, (Repn), 56,988. The missing city was Portland, while the 75 towns and plantations were nearly all up in Aroostook county, or among the outlying districts.

The wave also overwhelmed at least two and possibly all four of the states congressional delegation, which has been Republican since the inception of the party.

The flood spread through a majority of the counties, and even extended to the legislature, which, next winter, will choose a successor to United States Senator Eugene Hale. The Democrats were trying to tickle of a candidate tonight.

The Republicans stood aghast tonight as Col. Plaisted's plurality mounted steadily upward until it nearly reached that given Governor Fernald only two years ago. The party leaders were unable to accept the tremendous change in sentiment, but close political observers declared that insurgency, before un-expected had struck the state in its most virulent form.

The political page had to be turned back to 1880 for even a reversal of the Republicans, and there it was found that Col. Plaisted's father, Harris M Plaisted, was made governor on a fusion ticket by a narrow margin of 169 votes. All the other Maine governors since 1855, have been Republican.

In the congressional contests, Daniel J McGillicuddy, of Lewiston, defeated Congressman John P Swasey in the second district; Samuel W Gould, retired Elwin C Bulfinch, of Augusta, to private life after eighteen years at Washington, while late returns indicated the election of Wm M Pennell, a Democrat, over Asher C Hinds in the first district and Congressman Frank E Guernsey admitted at midnight that his fourth district was much in doubt.

The incoming senate is surely Democratic by a good majority and at midnight the house seemed to have the same complexion.

The advancement of Colonel Frederick W Plaisted, four times mayor of Augusta, to the governorship, was expected. By a few politicians a change in the complexion of the congressional delegation was thought possible; but putting the legislature, which elects a new United States senator, in doubt, found the Democrats dashed with success, and without a candidate to succeed Eugene Hale.

Colonel Plaisted, the governor-elect is the son of Harris M Plaisted, the Fusion governor of 1881-82, but where the father won in the election of 1880 by a scant 150 votes, the son today goes up to the capital with a plurality larger than that given two years ago to his defeated Republican opponent, Governor Bert Fernald of Portland.

The victorious Democrat leader is a young man in point of age, but an old hand in the political game. Colonel Plaisted was born in Bangor in 1864, but did not marry until two years ago. He has always been a Democrat and received his title while serving on the staff of his father. He ran for Mayor of Augusta five times, and won four elections. While holding that office he was chosen sheriff of Kennebec county, and occupied both positions with credit for two years. He is identified with a number of state organizations, and is a past grand commander of the Knight Templars. His business is that of a publisher of a weekly paper.—The Daily Telegraph.

LOG CUT WILL BE LARGELY REDUCED.

Estimated Northern Aroostook Will be 25 Per Cent. Less. (Bangor Commercial.)

The log cut for the coming season along the St. John and on Aroostook county waters will be fully 25 per cent smaller than last season, according to the estimate of a man who is interested in the timberland in that section and is familiar with the conditions prevailing there. Operators in Northern Aroostook county have begun to send in their crews and are preparing for the winter's cut, but almost to a man they plan to curtail this winter, and fewer logs by many millions feet will be cut for the market.

One reason is the fact that the spruce market is off at the present time, and the demand for lumber is lighter than usual. It is said that the manufactured lumber is off from $1.25 to $1.50 a thousand, and this fact does not lend a great deal of encouragement to the operators to take a chance on their cut.

Another reason that is applicable particularly to the Aroostook county cut, where a large percentage of the lumber goes down the St. John River to be manufactured at St. John, is the repeal of the Pike law, which goes into effect next August.

Under the provisions of the Pike law American lumber, cut in Maine, and sent down the St. John to New Brunswick to be manufactured, was admitted into the United States free of duty, and thousands of feet of lumber cut in Maine, came back into the American market, after having been manufactured in Canada. The absence from duty of such lumber in the past has been a valuable asset to the lumber industry of St. John, and the fact that they are now to be deprived of it means not only a loss to them, but to the operators in Maine, who have cut for the market on the upper waters of the St. John and its tributaries.

Next August, when the repeal of the Pike law goes into effect, the provisions of the new tariff fix a duty of $1.25 a thousand on manufactured lumber that used to come in from New Brunswick free. The season's cut will not reach the manufacturers next summer in season to be shipped in under the present prevailing law, and accordingly the mills will curtail their product somewhat.

For these reasons the Aroostook county lumber cut on the St. John and tributary waters will be between 60,000,000 and 70,000,000 feet this coming season instead of nearly 100,000,000 as it was last year.

ST. VITUS DANCE.

A Striking Example of Its Cure by the Tonic Treatment.

St. Vitus dance is the commonest form of nervous trouble which afflicts children, because of the great demands made on the body by growth and development, and there is the added strain caused by study. It is when these demands become so great that they impoverish the blood, and the nerves fail to receive their full supply of nourishment, that the nervous debility which leads to St. Vitus dance.

The remarkable success of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills in curing St. Vitus dance should lead parents to give this great blood-building medicine at the first signs of the approach of the disease. Palor, listlessness, inattention, restlessness and irritability are all symptoms which early show that the blood and nerves are failing to meet the demands made upon them. Mrs. A. Winters, Verden, Man, says: "When my little girl was six years old she was attacked with scurltina, which was followed by St. Vitus dance. Her limbs would jerk and twitch. Her speech became affected, and at last she became so bad that she could scarcely walk, and we hardly dared trust her alone. She was under the care of a doctor, but in spite of this was steadily growing worse, and we feared that we would lose her. As Dr. Williams' Pink Pills had cured her oldest sister of anaemia I decided to try them again. After the use of a few boxes, to our great joy, we found they were helping her and in the course of a few weeks more her power of speech fully returned, and she could walk and go about as well as any child, and she has been well and healthy since. When illness come to any one of our family now, we never call in a doctor, but simply use Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and they never disappoint us."

Sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50, from the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.
