

LUNG TROUBLE

Promptly Relieved and Permanently Cured by Inhaling Catarrhozone.

Mrs. Biny Brown, of Tenecape, N.S., Was Cured by Catarrhozone of Lung Trouble and Catarrh, After Hundreds of Other Remedies, Failed.

If your lungs are weak; if there is consumption in your family; if Colds, Catarrh, and Bronchitis bother you, be sure to use Catarrhozone. It is especially adapted for these diseases and cures every time.

Mrs. Brown took cough mixtures, but they made her sick. Then she used an atomizer, but, after resorting without benefit to poultices and numerous other remedies, she tried Catarrhozone.

I used Catarrhozone Inhaler," writes Mrs. Brown, "five minutes every hour, and soon recognized that it was going to cure me. I could feel the soothing medicated air spreading through the air passages of the throat, and it touched the sore spots in the lungs that other remedies failed to reach. Catarrhozone seemed to go just where it was needed most, and soon put a stop to my cough. I restored me to perfect health, and I am convinced that no cough, cold, or catarrh can exist if Catarrhozone is used."

No treatment is so clean, so pleasant, so certain to cure as Catarrhozone. By means of the Inhaler, the local symptoms, such as coughing, inflammation, and congestion, are speedily corrected. Ferrous tablets, which are taken after each meal, purify and cleanse the blood of all poisons, and build up and strengthen the system.

This local and constitutional treatment is always effective, and cures cases that have been given up as hopeless. Money can't buy or produce anything better, and to get cured it is absolutely necessary to use Catarrhozone.

Gheerfulness of Death.

Most people even most Christian people, shrink from death. In sermons and hymns and in literature, it is generally represented as repulsive. It is spoken of as "death's cold stream," "the last enemy," the "dark valley of the shadow of death" and the "terrors of death" are pictured in vivid terms. For the Christian at least this is all wrong. Death should be in reality his best friend; welcomed rather than feared.

So far as the physical aspect is concerned, the universal teaching of physicians is that the process of dying is rarely painful or even unwelcome to the patient, though full of sorrow to his family. A happy unconsciousness in nearly all cases shields the dying man from pain. The weakness, the fever, the parched lips, the laboured breathing, are all unfelt. Most people die quietly and often almost imperceptibly.

"We thought her dying when she slept And sleeping when she died," is often true. Even when convulsive movements occur, they are entirely independent of consciousness; merely physical in origin and character, and absolutely unattended by any suffering.

If, then, death is not an unpleasant process physically, why should it be feared from the spiritual side? See what it does for the Christian.

It frees from accident, sickness and suffering, to which his body has been liable all his life, and from which he has often suffered, sometimes intensely and long periods of time.

GREW THINNER EVERY DAY

Appetite was Poor, Dizzy, Faint, Weak, Continuous, Cruel Backache.

Another Case in which Dr. Hamilton's Pills Saved a Life that Physicians Despaired Of.

What a pitiful sight it is to see a handsome, able man being gradually robbed of good looks, health, and ability to work. Such cases are frequent—the one here described being that of E. P. Lascelles, a well-known Printers' Supply man, residing in Hamilton. "About six months ago I began to notice a worn, tired feeling coming over me. I was unable to shake it off. It was not the fatigue that follows hard work—it was sort of an unaccountable laziness that assailed me. I was anxious to work, but didn't have the energy. Something was dragging me down, robbing me of my health and spirits. I got tired of taking prescriptions that did me no good and used Dr. Hamilton's Pills. Their action soon proved to me that I was suffering from a terribly congested liver and acute indigestion. Dr. Hamilton's Pills brought back my appetite, cured the heavy pain in my side and back, gave me a new grip on life. I gained in weight and now I am stronger, look better, work better than ever before I was taken sick."

If you want to get back the vigor and spirit of youth, if you want the sparkle of robust health on your cheeks—use Dr. Hamilton's Pills regularly. They cleanse, purify, tone, and strengthen—make the sick well. Give this grand medicine a faithful trial, 25c per box, or five boxes for $1.00, at all dealers, or The Catarrhozone Company, Kingston, Ont.

It frees him from all sorrow. No one who has reached even adolescence escapes sorrow. To many, sorrows are multiplied manifold and bear down even the stoutest heart. The "weary" and the "heavy laden" make up the mass of mankind.

It opens the gates of Heaven to him. While we know nothing accurately of the details of the Heavenly life, we do know that there we shall live in eternal bliss; there we shall be in the presence of God Himself; there we shall see and know intimately our Lord Jesus Christ; there we shall feel the influence of the Holy Spirit; there we shall meet the saints of all ages; there we shall be reunited to the dear ones who have happily preceded us; there we shall come in due time to the dear ones we have left on earth; there our minds will expand beyond our present comprehension; there all the unsolved problems of earth will be clear as day; there we shall learn why perplexity, disappointment, and trouble were our lot on earth and were needful for the orderly and sufficient development of our own character, and of God's large plans not only for us, but for the race; there, in a word, all that is evil shall vanish away and all that is good shall be ours forever.

If death, then, is not a painful, unpleasant process, and if it does for us so much, it should be, not the last enemy, but our best friend; not dreaded as the messenger of evil, but welcomed as a companion who will lead us into paths of pleasantness and reveal to us the joys for which we have been longing all our lives. We should not speak of the terrors of death, but we should feel in our very hearts the cheerfulness of death.—W. W. Keen, M. D., in the Outlook.

Hero and Strong Man.

Upon a certain occasion, recorded by Mr. Julian Hawthorne, a man whom he had not suspected of being any one in particular turned out to be some one very much in particular. It was at a Lord Mayor's dinner, that he first met the man.

"His conversation was fascinating and covered a great variety of subjects," says Mr. Hawthorne, "and the intonations of his mellow voice were a delight to the ear. He was as simple and unaffected as a boy. He looked to be hardly beyond his first youth, and I took him to be some yet unrenowned scion of a good family who had improved the opportunities afforded him by the conventional 'grand tour.' But some remark that he presently made indicated connection with the army, and he admitted that he belonged to one of the British cavalry regiments. I then noticed and commented on the exceptional breadth of his shoulders.

"Yes, the fellows used to consider me pretty strong," he replied, with his little laugh. "A couple of years after I joined we were in barracks at Aldershot, and our messroom was, for some reason, at the building, up three flights of stairs.

"Our Colonel, a bit of a martinet owned a couple of Shetland ponies which his wife drove in front of a basket waggion. They were cunning little fellows, and weighed about three hundred apiece. The Colonel was very proud of them, and he once said, when scolding us for some blunder on parade, that his Shetlands had more brains than any of us. "They can't talk," he said, "but are just as intelligent at the mess-table as some of you young gentlemen, who fancy you know all about cavalry manoeuvres."

"It was only his fun of course, but it stuck in my crop—perhaps because I imagined, with good reason, no doubt, that he had been pointing particularly at me. Next evening I was late for mess; and passing by the stable an idea struck me, and I went in and got the groom to let me have the two ponies. I led them along to the barracks and then got one under each arm and lugged them upstairs, kicking and squealing, till I fairly landed them in the messroom on the third floor.

"I walked up with them to the Colonel, who was carving a leg of mutton, and put them down beside him. I was a bit winded, but I managed to say, "I thought you might be in need of a little rational society, Colonel," and then went to my seat."

"At this juncture that important functionary, the toastmaster, behind the Lord Mayor's chair, hammered for silence.

"The Lord Mayor drinks to the health of Lieutenant-Colonel Fred Burnaby!"

"Thereupon, to my amazement," concludes Mr. Hawthorne, "up rose my companion, unfolding himself to greater and greater heights, till he stood at his full stature of six feet six of magnificent manhood, and gracefully acknowledged the cheers that greeted him. For he was at that time one of the most famous men in England, the hero of the 'Ride to Khiva,' the pride of the army, the darling of society, the author of several popular books, and without doubt the strongest man then wearing the British uniform."

MEN WHO USE ZAM-BUK.

HOW IT SAVES THEM MONEY.

Look at the financial side of Zam-Buk's use. A cut sustained in the workshop, a sore which is unattended, results say in festering or blood-poisoning. You have to lay off for a day or two. What does that mean when pay day comes around? Zam-Buk insures you against that loss! A little Zam-Buk applied to such an injury at the time, or as soon afterwards as possible, prevents all danger of blood-poisoning, takes out the smarting and starts up healing.

HEADS OF FAMILIES know how costly doctoring is. Be wise and act on the preventive line. A box of Zam-Buk in the home is so all-round useful. The baby's rashes, the elder children's cuts and bruises, the inevitable burn, cut, or scald—for all these, as well as for more serious ailments, such as piles, ulcers, eczema, ringworm, etc., Zam-Buk is without a rival.

DANGERS OF SHAVING.—You get a cut at the barber's shop. A little Zam-Buk smeared on the wound prevents all danger. If any ailment has been contracted, Zam-Buk cures. Mrs. George Hobden, 108 Manitoba Street, S. Thomas, Ontario, says: "I contracted barber's rash, and the whole of my left cheek broke out in one mass of red, watery pimples and sores. These spread to the other parts of my face, until face and neck were covered with running sores. How far the disease would have spread had it not been for Zam-Buk, I don't know. I applied this balm, and in a short time Zam-Buk effected a complete cure."

THE SPORTSMAN knows that Zam-Buk is used by all the "cracks," because it is the best liniment and embrocation. Men like Longboat, Sherring of Hamilton, Kelley of the Toronto Ball Team, all the famous lacrosse teams and ball teams use Zam-Buk in this connection.

All druggists and stores sell at 50c box, or post free from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, for price. You are warned against harmful imitations.

The Dignity of Farming.

(Toronto World.)

President Creelman is an apostle of the dignity of farm life. He advocates the occupations right to front rank at every opportunity. And if a discouraged farmer would not be ashamed of his lack of faith and of his envious eyes cast cityward, he would indeed be past redemption.

"Look at three quarters of the toiling employes and city business men in the cities and towns," remarks the president, "and you will find that they work early and late for a salary that gives them a bare living without the saving of any bank account, while the farmer although he may work from daylight to sunset today, can quit tomorrow and do as he pleases. He has a good living. He adds to his stock. His farm mortgage is being paid off, so that at the age of fifty he has a saving that the city man could not acquire.

When the country boy or farmer of older years fancies that he would take a city position for $700 a year, in preference to his freedom and livelihood upon the farm, his eyes are certainly beholden that he cannot see and his good sense darkened by the glare of a city's deceitful allurements. Farm life is the best life that our country affords and the country farmer who uses his opportunities for enlightenment and usefulness, the king of men for a' that.

A Theological Seminary at Pyeng Yang, Corea, has 98 students in attendance. A missionary writes that the knowledge of the Bible which these students manifest "would put to shame the average seminary or college student in the United States."

PURITY FLOUR

And Its Keeping Qualities

SOME people find it necessary to buy a considerable quantity of flour at one time—sufficient to last for a long period. Naturally they are anxious to procure a flour of the kind best adapted to lengthy storage.

There are two important reasons why PURITY FLOUR possesses these qualities. One is that it is made entirely from Manitoba Hard Wheat. The other lies in the fact that the careful milling necessary to produce "Purity" absolutely excludes all low-grade particles of the wheat berry. It's the high grade Manitoba Hard Wheat Flour that keeps—stands longest storage. That's "Purity."

"Purity" flour may cost a little more, but is more than worth the difference. Try it. Watch results both for quality and yield.
